MARE ISLAND NAVAL WORK TO CONTINUE

Senate Board Orders Forces Now Employed on Vessels be Retained; Appropriation to Restore Piers Cut

Request for Funds to Begin Construction of Alameda Navy Base Turned Down; Separate Bills Held Need

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Work on all naval vessels permitted by the United States under the arms conference treaty would proceed at about present rate with no reductions of forces at any of the private or government yards under the revised naval appropriations bills as completed today by the Senate appropriation committee.

Requests of the Navy Deartment for funds to begin work on three Pacific coast naval bases were denied by the sub-committee, which excluded proposals for a new fleet base at Alameda, California, a new torpedo base at San Pedro, California, and a new aviation base at Sand Point, Washington.

The committee authorized an increase of $500,000 for improving the Puget Sound navy yard and $192,000 for the Pearl Harbor yard.

The Navy Department's request of $750,000 for restoring the piers at the Mare Island navy yard was denied in part, only $250,000 being allowed.

LARGE INCREASE IN NAVAL AVIATION.

A large increase for naval aviation was agreed to by the committee, including $6,537,000 for aircraft and $300,000 for hangars and buildings. Another large increase recommended by the committee was $3,000,000 to start development of civilian naval reserve, providing for two weeks annual cruises by 3000 officers and 10,000 civilians.

The sub-committee partially recommended the plan proposed by Assistant Secretary Roosevelt, who asked something over $5,000,000 for the naval reserve, but cut the provision for annual pay of the reservists.

One of the largest committee increases was for $14,000,000 for navy pay to conform to the new scales of the service pay law. The committee struck out a House provision for the immediate retirement of about 2700 petty officers.

HALF OF INCREASES GRANTED BY SENATE.

About half of $32,000,000 of increases over the House bill asked by Secretary Denby were granted by the committee. The most important increase given was of $10,000,000 for naval construction and in addition the transfer of $8,000,000 of indebtedness from the Shipping Board. The increase, senators said, would provide for continuing present work on the various naval ships under construction, including conversion of two dreadnaughts into airplane carriers and continuing work on 42 submarines.

Sub-committee members explained that the requests for the Pacific coast naval bases were denied because they would be subjected to a point of order in the Senate.

RUMOR OF MARE ISLAND REDUCTIONS SILENCED.

The Alameda project and the ones at San Pedro and Sand Point were left out of the bill several weeks ago because senators were informed that a fight would be precipitated on procedure if the items calling for new appropriations were included as amendments to the measure. The only way they may be brought up is by the introduction of separate bills.

Today's development is of important significance to the Bay district in that it would mean a silencing of rumors that there were to be additional reductions in the force of men employed at Mare Island.

Disabled Veterans Guests of Hardings

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—More than 2000 disabled war veterans now being hospitalized in this vicinity came here today as the guests of the President and Mrs. Harding to attend a White House lawn party. Mrs. Harding was assisted in receiving the veterans by fifty young women employees of the Veterans' Bureau, representing the 48 states, the District of Columbia and Hawaii.

CAPTAIN EDDIE RICKENBACKER, world war ace, who hopped off from New York today on a flight over every state in the union.

RICKENBACKER ON TRANS-U. S. TRIP

American Ace to Pass Over Every State in Union; On Way to S. F.

MINEOLA, N. Y., June 7.—Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, leading American war ace, took off from Mitchell field today for Detroit, on the first leg of a flight intended to carry him over every state in the Union. Rickenbacker carried a letter from President Harding to the convention of Shriners in San Francisco.

The flier expects to be gone three months and to travel more than 15,000 miles by airplane, making a survey of the country and landing fields for the army air service.

In the cabin with Rickenbacker when the all-metal plane left the ground at 11:15 a. m. was Eddie Stinson, who set a new record for continuous hours in the air. They expect to stay in Detroit tonight, flying to Chicago tomorrow.

Rickenbacker hopes to land at the Pacific coast city Sunday, barring mishap.

Steven Hannagan, a writer, and Theodore Lovington, mechanic, also were aboard.

The chief object of the flight is to gather all available data relative to commercial flying in the United States. Assisted by Hannagan, Rickenbacker will prepare a report on commercial flying conditions for presentation to General Patrick, United States air chief.

Progress Is Made On Ending Coal Strike

By THOMAS L. STOKES, United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, June 7. — The administration is making steady progress toward a settlement of the coal strike, it became known today. A development, the exact nature of which is unknown, has occurred recently, which has greatly enhanced the administration's hope of settling the strike, it was learned.

The plan will have a far-reaching purpose, it is asserted, with the ultimate attempt at stabilization of the whole industry.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Secretary Hoover in a report to the senate today, disclosed that he and Secretary Davis (labor) had sought to present recently suggestions which it had been hoped would lead to a settlement of the coal strike but so far their efforts had been without result.

The commerce secretary's statement, which was the first disclosure that the government had sought to intervene in the struggle between the mine workers and operators, was contained in a response to the resolution by Senator Walsh, Democrat, Massachusetts, adopted by the Senate several days ago, calling for information regarding the coal situation.

Bankers Authorized To Make Loan Plans

PARIS, June 7 (By the Associated Press.)—The allied reparations commission, according to the semi-official Temps, voted three to one today, to enlarge the powers of the bankers who are considering a loan for Germany, authorizing them to make any suggestions they wish in proposing a plan for an international loan.

Woman Is Wounded By Beauty Device

MARION, N. C., June 7.—Mrs. J. C. Beaman is in a critical condition today at a local hospital as the result of injuries suffered in a beauty parlor here when all of her hair and more than half the scalp were torn from her head when her hair became entangled in an electrically operated curling machine.

BIG RAILWAY SYSTEMS TO BE MERGED

Amalgamation of Alton and 'Katy' Lines and Purchase of Central by Union Pacific Practical Certainties

Consolidations Considered as Economic Necessities as Recently Recommended By Commerce Commission

By H. E. CAYLOR, United Press Staff Correspondent.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 7.—Mergers of the Alton and "Katy" railroads and the Union Pacific and Central Pacific were regarded in railroad circles as practical certainties, prominent rail officials declared here today.

A. F. Hilton, vice-president of the 'Frisco, speaking as an observer, declared that it was known in rail circles that the Interstate Commerce Commission had suggested such mergers as "economic measures."

Hilton said that the Interstate Commerce Commission's suggestions made it impossible that the amalgamations were designed as a "transportation war," but others professed to such as the ultimate outcome if any such deals are put through.

PURCHASE AND CONSOLIDATION CERTAIN.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 7 (By International News Service).—Purchase of the Central Pacific railway by the Union Pacific and consolidation of the Chicago and Alton and the Missouri, Kansas and Texas lines are almost certain to be consummated, Alexander Hilton, vice-president of the St. Louis and San Francisco lines, declared today.

"Consolidations now being discussed," Hilton said, "are being considered as economic necessities and all such economies have been recommended by the Interstate Commerce Commission."

'FRISCO LINE NOT TO BE MERGED WITH T. & P.

Hilton said as far as he knew the 'Firsco line would not be merged with the Texas and Pacific system, a consolidation which had been rumored.

Contemplated purchase of the Central Pacific by the Union Pacific followed recent action by the United States Supreme Court divorcing the Southern Pacific and the Central Pacific.

Hilton, who is atending a conference of 'Frisco railroad officials here, made his observations as one conversant with railway affairs.

Irish Snipers Busy; Patrol Is Attacked

BELFAST, June 7 (By International News Service).—The advance of the British in the Belleck sector was held up today pending action in London on the Pettigo affair. Snipers were active. The Free Staters were reported to be massing troops on the Monaghan-Fermanagh border, near Clones.

A patrol was attacked in County Monaghan and one constable killed.

LONDON, June 7 (By The Associated Press).—The revised draft of the Irish constitution, brought to London today by Arthur Griffith, president of the Dail Eireann, provides among other things, says the Evening News, "that Ireland shall remain within the empire in the same way as a dominion."

The News says it is understood there also have been some modifications in the earlier provisions in the draft giving the free state wider control over foreign affairs than the imperial government was prepared to consider.

American Women Are To Be Presented

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

LONDON, June 7.—Six American debutantes and five matrons will be presented to the Court of St. James tomorrow night by Mrs. George H. Harvey, wife of the American ambassador, according to the Daily Express.

Among those to be presented, besides the wives of diplomatic officials, are: Mrs. Niblack, wife of the American admiral; John Thurston, Denver; Thaddeus Thompson, Austin, Texas. One of the embassy women to be presented is Mrs. Herbert Goold San Francisco.

Two Flyers Killed In Fall of 100 Feet

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

LOS ANGELES, June 7.—Two aviators were killed late yesterday when their airplane crashed to the ground two miles from Huntington Park, a suburb. Jackson E. Underhill of Long Beach, Cal., was instantly killed, while his flying partner, Maynard L. Morley of Santa Ana, died later.

The airplane had just taken off and was flying about 100 feet in the air when the motor suddenly stopped and it fell to the ground.

"THREE MINUTE TALES" by AD SCHUSTER

THE MILLION-TO-ONE CHANCE

THE postmaster knows that behind each of the occasional stories of a letter being months or years in the mails there is a reasonable excuse. Likely, it blew off the table in a rural office, lodged in a crack or behind a case and was brought to light with a shifting of quarters or by accident. There is no one who knows what other tricks are played by the chance which loses one letter in a million. Hetty Graham, victim of the laws of proportion, met her problem bravely, and discovered that the long arm or circumstance may rescue as well as buffet.

Minden knew Miss Hetty as a gentle spinster. It knew, also, three or four men who would have paid her court with the slightest encouragement. There were many who wondered at her choice of loneliness which placed her in the lead at the sewing circle as a theme for romantic speculation.

When Miss Hetty received a letter which had been three years in the mails, she placed it on the desk in her bedroom, locked the door and pulled down all of the shades. The handwriting, the stamped date of the mailing, brought the past before her with an amazing possibility. Three years of effort to forget lost their meager accomplishment before she tore open the envelope.

It was a stilted letter and short, but it brought answer to doubt and end to pain. It was the proposal she had once believed was coming, and its belated arrival explained everything. Miss Hetty, who had never admitted it, even to herself, wept for joy at the knowledge she had not been jilted. Then, as a woman of sense, she faced the present and sought to rescue her dream.

"I MUST find him," she repeated and she started with her plans.

Minden was surprised when Miss Hetty packed up and moved to New York. That is where he would be, she decided, remembering his ambitions. She had written to his old addresses and the letters had come back.

In New York Hetty Graham took a small apartment, counted her savings, and laid out her campaign. She could devote all of her time to the search for three months and then, if she failed, she must find a job.

When efforts to attract his attention through the personals in the papers failed, she took to spending hours at the libraries, feeling certain that, sooner or later, he would visit the reading rooms. She made inquiries of newspapermen and writers and once or twice found men who had heard of him. When the three months had passed she secured a position and continued the search in her spare time. She had to move to a smaller apartment.

One evening, as she was walking from the subway station to her home a man swung off a surface car in front of her and walked hurriedly on, his head tilted a little to the left. She called after him, putting a flood of hope in her cry.

"WHAT is it, madame? Is there anything I can do for you?" It was a stranger.

Stunned by this blow, Hetty turned blindly and all but ran up the walk to the apartment house entrance. She was faint and dizzy and ready to give up. If she could only reach her room!

The old habit, that of looking in her mail box for answers to her constant appeals, caused her to turn to the row of boxes. The cards seemed to dance and the letter-slits rocked like sticks on the waves. Without realizing she was on the wrong side of the entrance, Miss Hetty ran her fingers along the row of boxes, summoning from her benumbed mind enough concentration to recognize her own. Mechanically she paused at the third from the end where, from behind a tiny square of beveled glass, a card stared at her:

"Robert MacGeorge."

Miss Hetty pushed the button under the name and fainted. When she recovered the search was ended. Robert's arms were around her.

NATION WIDE RAIL STRIKE HELD SURE

Leaders of 1,200,000 Workers Predict Overwhelming Vote for Walkout in War Against Wage Reductions

Gompers Approves Action of Men; "Slash Is Beyond Human Endurance." He Says; Drive Is Planned

CINCINNATI, O., June 7 (By International News Service).—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, today informally expressed his approval of the decision of the railroad unions to call a strike vote. He declared that the cuts in wages ordered for shopmen were "beyond human endurance" and added that a vigorous fight would be necessary to obtain justice.

CINCINNATI, O., June 7 (By United Press).—Danger of a railroad strike was intensified today by the decision of leaders representing 1,200,000 workers affected by the $109,000,000 wage cuts ordered by the United States Labor Board to submit three strike ballots to the men instead of one. The votes will be taken on: Wage reductions, "farming out" of railroad work, working rules and regulations recently promulgated for shop crafts.

By LAWRENCE MARTIN, United Press Staff Correspondent.

CINCINNATI, O., June 7.—The strike vote ordered by executives of eleven railroad unions affected by the $109,000,000 wage cut will be overwhelmingly in favor of a strike, in the opinion of labor leaders assembled here.

Though the leaders declined to make any public forecast of the outcome of the strike poll, privately they forecast the reflection of tremendous resentment against the wage slashes ordered by the United States Railroad Labor Board in a strong demand for a strike.

UNIONS TO APPEAL TO PUBLIC ON FIGURES.

An appeal will be made to public opinion by the unions through a presentation of their side of the wage situation. Detailed figures were being prepared, showing how the wage reductions ordered last week for maintenance of way employees and those ordered yesterday for other workers will affect the families of the 1,200,000 men involved.

These figures, Jewell said, will back up his assertion that the labor board's decision was inequitable, unscientific and wholly without regard to the living needs of the workers.

Samuel Gompers will be in absolute control of the American Federation of Labor convention which meets here Monday. Thus far no one has appeared as an opposing candidate for president. Friends of John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers, who opposed Gompers unsuccessfully last year, are urging him to run again, but his "boom" is not considered seriously.

NO AGREEMENT MADE FOR CONCERTED ACTION.

CINCINNATI, O., June 7 (By the Associated Press).—Labor leaders here expressed the opinion that it would take at least thirty days to spread and canvass the strike vote authorized yesterday by eleven railroad brotherhoods and organizations. Approximately 1,200,000 workers are affected.

In a formal statement it was made plain that no agreement was reached that concerted action would be taken. This was impossible, it was explained, because group executives had not been advised by their membership whether or not they would be authorized to call a strike.

Jewell, in a statement, declared the wages of the seven larger groups of rail workers, under the new Railroad Labor Board orders, "do not permit of a living wage," and are wholly at variance with the "saving" which championed by Secretary of Labor Davis and President Harding. "The Labor Board, a federal body," he said, "has totally disregarded the secretary's attitude as well as the employees' own evidence showing the amount necessary to maintain a railroadman's family."

Airplane Arrives With Big Bonus Plea

WASHINGTON, June 7.—The Curtis airplane bearing 200,000 signatures to a soldiers' bonus petition arrived at Bolling Field at 1 o'clock. The ship was piloted by Stuart Cogswell of New York.

Cogswell was greeted by hundreds of war veterans and several members of Congress. The petition is to be received by Senator Johnson of California on behalf of the Senate.

Serb Capital Fears Outbreak at Marriage Tomorrow of Ruler and Ruman Princess —Hourly Raids in City

Scores of Suspects in Prison —Double Wall of Soldiers to Line Procession Route; Will Shoot on Suspicion

BY UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

BELGRADE, June 7.—A plot to assassinate the royal families of Rumania and Serbia gathered here for the marriage of Princess Marie to King Alexander, is reported to have been discovered by secret police.

Extraordinary precautions to guard the royal personages' lives are being taken. Scores of suspects are being rounded up. Police are conducting hourly raids.

Among the royalty in Belgrade today are: King Alexander of Serbia, King Ferdinand of Rumania, Queen Marie of Rumania, Princess Marie of Rumania, the Duke of York, Prince Alfonso and Princess Beatrice of Spain, the Prince of Udine, Italy.

PLANS QUICKLY CHANGED TO CONFUSE ASSASSINS.

While the gaiety preliminary to the wedding ceremony tomorrow is at fever heat, with colorful Balkan peasants' costumes giving the quaint streets a kaleidoscopic appearance, there is an undercurrent of unmistakable excitement.

The military and police alike are reticent, but all entrances to the city are closely guarded and strong patrols recently passed through the streets en route to batter their way into some rendezvous of suspicious characters.

The schedule for the movements of the royal parties are being constantly changed to confuse the assassins' plans. Most elaborate precautions are taken everywhere.

On the route of the wedding procession tomorrow, according to orders issued today, double banks of police and troops will form a lane of bristling steel bayonets through which the king, queen and princesses will ride. There will be one line of guards facing toward the procession and another facing outward. All these troops will be armed with rifles and revolvers and will be under instructions to shoot at the slightest suspicious movement.

Special permits are required to have windows open during the parade. No person will be permitted to view the parade from a window, balcony or housetop without a special permit and no permits are granted without thorough investigation.

Special guards of police have been detailed to keep all persons in windows, on balconies and housetops under close watch and to arrest them if any suspicious actions are observed.

PRINCESS ESCORTED BY PLANES, WARSHIPS.

BELGRADE, June 7 (By the Associated Press).—Princess Marie of Rumania was making the final preparations today for her marriage tomorrow to King Alexander. When she arrived here yesterday and put foot on the soil of her future kingdom she was met by the mayor of Belgrade, who, in token of friendship and loyalty, presented her with bread and salt.

The princess wore a white crepe de chine dress trimmed with silver and gold, which she made herself. She and the royal party, including King Ferdinand, Queen Marie and the entire Rumanian royal household, came by boat on the Danube and were escorted into port by Jugo-Slav airplanes, by French and Rumanian destroyers and a fleet of Jugo-Slav warships. Great throngs welcomed the party.

While she was traversing Rumanian territory the princess was showered with holy water, incense, rosemary and rice for good luck.

The bride was met by King Alexander and his cabinet and was conducted in a procession through the crowded streets to the cathedral, where a thanksgiving service was held.

The procession followed streets newly paved or the occasion, along which the old buildings had been demolished to make place for reviewing stands.

A new palace is ready for occupancy of the royal pair. It is situated within a stone's throw of the old royal residence, which has been unoccupied since the assassination of King Alexander and Queen Draga in 190[illegible]. The Serbians, believing the old palace to be accursed, have begged Marie never to cross its threshold.

S. F. RUM COMES IN BY CARLOAD

Federal Officers Find Liquor Is Shipped to Bay As Furniture.

BY UNITED PRESS LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

SEATTLE, June 7.—Federal prohibition officials were on the trail today of the leaders in an alleged liquor smuggling ring who have been doing a carload business between Vancouver, B. C., and San Francisco.

Twelve hundred cases of "Old Crow" whisky are reposing in local vaults, the result of a single raid on the smugglers. The liquor was found in a boxcar of "household furniture," which was intercepted on its way to California on advices from Vancouver.

Prohibition Director Lyle thinks results of the seizure may be widespread. He declares he has evidence linking the smugglers with another gang of alleged rum runners who have been bringing liquor into the country in "salt fish" kegs and also with a number of wealthy business men who have been shipping American whiskey out of the United States to Canada for reshipment back.

Cardinal Logue's Auto Is Searched

BELFAST, June 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—Cardinal Logue, primate of Ireland, while automobiling from Armagh to County Louth today with Archbishop O'Donnell, was held up at Lisnadilla, near Armagh, by a party of Ulster specials, who intimated their intention of searching the car. The cardinal objected and demanded their authority, whereupon, according to a Dundalk report, one of the specials whipped out his revolver and said:

"That's my authority."

S. F. Business Man Is Pinned Under Auto

SEATTLE, June 7.—Crashing over a high embankment last night an auto driven by Ray Cowles, San Francisco business man, rolled over several times, pinning Cowles beneath it. Cowles was rushed to a hospital by passing motorists. He is in a grave condition, with a fractured hip and internal injuries.

Cowles' four-year-old son, James, and G. W. Oakley, passengers in the auto, narrowly escaped death. The accident occurred as the car was going down a steep hill, the brakes giving way suddenly.

GLOTZBACH HELD IN BATTERY CASE

Matzenauer's Husband Accused of Beating Up San Franciscan.

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

CARMEL, June 7.—Floyd Glotzbach, chauffeur-husband of Mme. Margaret Matzenhauer, noted operatic singer, whose separation brought on a war of words and later divorce actions by both parties, was arrested today, charged with assault and battery as a result of an alleged beating administered Peter Hanna, wealthy San Franciscan.

According to Town Marshal Englund, he was summoned to the home of Mrs. Lettie Fraities early today, and there found Hanna in a pool of blood, his eyes discolored and suffering from a fractured jaw, blood flowing from both his nose and mouth. Glotzbach, the marshal said, was pointed out as having been the one who had beaten Hanna up. He arrested Glotzbach and sent Hanna to the hospital.

Mrs. Fraities was one of the persons summoned to give an affidavit in the divorce suit of Mme. Matzenauer, although this hearing has never been held. Marshal Englund said he was told a birthday party was in progress at the Fraities home. Glotzbach was released under $250 bail after appearing before Judge Michaels.

Napa Motorist Dies Of Accident Injuries

NAPA, June 7.—Charles Ivers, 45, died this morning in a Napa hospital of injuries suffered late last night when the automobile which he was driving skidded on loose gravel and plunged from the road into a ditch near Alta Heights, East Napa.

His two children, Vernon, 17, and Evelyn, 15, who were with him, were cut and bruised. Ivers' skull was fractured and he suffered internal injuries. He was a resident of Napa for twenty years and was a plumber.

Lenine's Condition Is Becoming Worse

LONDON, June 7. — The condition of Lenine became worse last night and Professor Klemperer, a noted specialist, urgently summoned, left Berlin for Moscow in an airplane, according to an Exchange Telegraph despatch today from Copenhagen.

MRS. CLARK IS HELD GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

Woman Who Took Husband's Life Shows No Emotion at Decision.

Virginia Clark, tried in superior court for a second time for the murder of her husband, Chester Clark, was convicted of manslaughter by the jury which returned a verdict last night, after several hours deliberation.

The woman heard the verdict calmly.

It was two of the women members of the jury, other jurors said today, who saved Mrs. Clark from being convicted last night of murder for the second time. Throughout the five hours of deliberation following the retirement of the jury at 5 o'cloc yesterday afternoon ,the two jurorrs held out for acquittal against their ten fellow members, refusing to argue the matter or give their reasons. It was finally necessary for the ten to compromise with the two in order to avoid a mistrial.

The case was given to the jury late yesterday. After concluding his speech before the jury, counsel for the defense asked the permission of the district attorney to reopen his argument. He then reminded the jury that sufficient evidence had been introduced in the trial to warrant the return only of a verdict of manslaughter if the jury decided that the woman killed her husband.

Following the closing of the defense arguments, which occupied five and one-half hours of the court session Monday and almost an hour yesterday, Assistant District Attorney Theodore Wittschen, who tried the case for the state with Deputy District Attorney Frank Shay, took up the arguments for the prosecution.

He declared that the defense attorney's reference to manslaughter was a compromise and an approach to an admission that the defense's previous arguments to the innocence of Virginia Clark were not well founded, and that a verdict of manslaughter would be satisfactory to the defense.

Arguments for the state were closed shortly after court recess in the afternoon.

Menace to Farm Unions Seen in Coal Decision

By GEORGE R. HOLMES,
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Decision by the United States Supreme court that a labor union can be sued under the anti-trust law, admitted by labor leaders to be the greatest single blow ever experienced by organized labor, was held today to be equally menacing to the organized farmers' movement which has been growing in the United States with astonishing speed in the last few years.

This realization came to agricultural interests in Congress with startling suddenness today. Members of the farm bloc engaged in studying the d[illegible]sion and its individual members admittedly could see no reason why the court's decision was not equally applicable to farmers' co-operative movements.

The Taft decision, it was said today by legal authorities, virtually wipes out the immunity clause contained in that paragraph of the Sherman and Clayton laws, which specifically sets forth that labor unions and farmers' unions are not liable to the penalty provisions contained in it.

A number of Senators, all lawyers, privately expressed the opinion that if a co-operative association refused to accept a farmer's grain and he could prove that he suffered financial loss thereby, he would be entitled to sue for damages.

The blow dealt union labor by the Supreme court in the Coronado coal case was made even more apparent today when it was disclosed that the United Mine Workers will be unable to obtain immediate control of the nearly $700,000 held in escrow since 1917 to satisfy the damages levied against the union in the Arkansas Federal courts. Some months may elapse before the money is released.

LA FOLLETTE SCORES COAL DECISION.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Declaring that the supreme court decision in the Coronado coal case was the "most ominous in what it foreshadows for the future of union labor in this country," Senator La Follette, Republican, Wisconsin, today issued a statement in which he criticized the court. The opinion, he stated, was "significant because of what the court says on questions not involved in the case rather than because of anything that is actually decided."

After reviewing the conditions which led up to and prevailed during the strike in the Arkansas coal mines in 1914, upon which the case was based, the Wisconsin senator declared a "six line decision was all that was required to dispose of the case on its merits, for the supreme court was reluctantly obliged to admit the fact as I have stated," the reference being to his assertion that "there is not and never was any case against the defendants in the federal court."

COURT ATTACK ON COAL MINERS.

The supreme court, however, Senator La Follette stated, "went out of its way through 29 pages to berate the defendants and to characterize them as outlaws and murderers, and the chief justice wound up his opinion by saying:

"'The circumstances are such as to awake a regret that in our view of the federal jurisdiction we cannot affirm the judgment.'"

The court also went out of its way, the senator said, "to change the law as it has existed in the United States since the beginning of the government, that unincorporated associations, such as are involved here, could not be sued as an entity."

Reviewing what it stated was the authority of the court upon which it based that finding, Senator LaFollette charged that "Chief Justice Taft neglected to state that as the result of the Taff-Vale case, the British parliament passed a statute which cut up that decision, root and branch, and made it impossible for an English court ever to render a similar decision."

"No doubt our supreme court feels secure behind the bulwark of a written constitution, the meaning of which that court has arrogated to itself the function of finally determining," the senator concluded.

POLICE PROMISE SENSATIONS IN BANDIT SLAYING

Wilkens Says Castor Suspects Are Not Men Who Shot Wife.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—New sensations are expected momentarily in connection with the police search for the murderer of Mrs. Anna Wilkens, slain in an automobile holdup on May 30.

Captain of Detectives Duncan Matheson declared today that he would not arrest Walter H. Castor and his brother, Arthur, in whose possession two $100 bills were found and who, it developed, had hired an automobile on the night of the killing.

Both of the Castor boys are well known to the police. Walter is an ex-convict, having killed a man and having been arrested for burglary. He is now on probation from Superior Judge Welch's court in San Jose. They are the sons of a policeman Charles Castor, slain at the Ferry building while endeavoring to make an arrest.

Henry Wilkens, husband of the dead woman, declared positively that neither of the Castor boys was the bandit slayer and that the automobile was a Dodge car and not the machine identified yesterday as having been returned to a renting agency by Walter Castor within a half-hour of the shooting.

"Jacob Garfinkel, the attorney, who believes he witnessed the holdup and saw the bandit car on three occasions, identified as the holdup car a Hudson machine in a garage at 367 Golden Gate avenue, which was rented by Walter Castor," said Captain Matheson. "This, however, is not sufficient when we remember that Wilkens himself maintains that the robber's machine was a Dodge and asserts that the Castors were not the bandits."

It was the possession by the Castors of two $100 bills, when Wilkens had been robbed of three bills of like denomination, that first led to their questioning.

At police headquarters today it was indicated that the police had arrived at a new theory regarding the crime and that some startling developments were likely to occur at any moment. Several important clews have been secured by Captain Matheson within the last few hours and a half-dozen detectives are running them down. If they develop, as now seems likely, a sensation will result.

Today detectives took Wilkens to the scene of the holdup and the entire crime was rehearsed and reconstructed for the benefit of the sleuths.

SOCIETY TO SNUB MATHILDE, IF WED

LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.
BY UNITED PRESS

ZURICH, June 7. — Mathilde McCormick, granddaughter of John D. Rockefeller, will be barred from Zurich society if she weds Max Oser.

The leaders of Switzerland's four hundred today are preparing to exclude Miss McCormick from their exclusive circles if she goes through with the marriage.

As Mathilde McCormick, member of one of the world's richest families, she is welcome if properly introduced.

But as Frau Max Oser, wife of a livery stable man, she could only come in through the servants' entrance.

Oser is willing to wait for the hand of Mathilde, intimate friends of the Swiss riding master said today. He would tacitly acquiesce if the McCormicks persuade her to wait until she is 20 before marrying.

Before permitting the engagement to be announced, he begged Mathilde to reconsider it, laying stress on the great difference in their ages, and asking her to wait until she was sure of her own mind. But she was determined.

He then went to Harold F. McCormick, millionaire former president of the International Harvester company, and told him of the situation.

"I have the utmost confidence in you, because you are the only Swiss acquaintance who has not tried to get money from me," McCormick is quoting as having told him.

SPEAR TELLS OF TIDELAND SALE

Charles H. Spear of Berkeley, former president of the State Board of Harbor Commissioners, today admitted on the witness stand in Superior Judge James G. Quinn's court that he had been acting as a "dummy director" for William J. Schmidt, Berkeley capitalist, when the Cragmont Land Company voted to purchase Schmidt's tideland property for what is asserted to have been four times its market value.

City Councilman George Schmidt, of Berkeley, a brother of William J. Schmidt, was the one who first suggested to Spear the purchase of the Schmidt property by the company, of which both George Schmidt and William Schmidt were directors, Spear said.

Spear's testimony was given during the trial of the suit brought against the directors of the Cragmont Land Company by Eugene L. Brock, a minority director of the corporation, in which Brock charges that the board of directors, acting under the influence and domination of William J. Schmidt, purchased Schmidt's tidelands, which he says were worth $10,000, for $45,000.

Memorial Services To Honor Professor

BERKELEY, June 7.—Memorial services for Dr. John C. Whitten, professor of pomology at the University of California, who died while on an official mission to Washington, D. C., will be held at 11 o'clock Sunday morning at St. John's Presbyterian church. Dr. Francis W. Russell, pastor of St. John's church, of which Dr. Whitten was a member, will conduct the services while Dean Thom[illegible] F. Hunt, of the department of [illegible]riculture, will speak in behalf of the university. Funeral services for Dr. Whitten were held today in Columbia, Mo.

DRURY IN RACE FOR TREASURER

BERKELEY, June 7. — Wells Drury of Berkeley has announced that he is a candidate for the office of treasurer of Alameda county. "For some time," Drury said, "friends in various parts of the county have urged my candidacy, and I have consented to make the race. Now I am counting on the active participation of my supporters in the campaign.

"My home has been in Berkeley since 1906 and I have been identified with commercial affairs of that city during its period of greatest growth. I have been closely associated with the other large cities of the county. For a number of years my business interests were in Oakland, and at one time I resided in the city of Alameda.

"During the past twelve years I have served as a member of the Alameda County Promotion Commission, and in that public service I have many times visited every section of our great county commonwealth. From Irvington to Albany, and from Altamont to Emeryville I have friends who urge my candidacy. My desire is to serve all the people of Alameda county as county treasurer. It is my hope that the voters will aid in achieving a decisive victory."

Berkeley Captain Saves Wrecked Men

BERKELEY, June 7.—Word was received here today of the rescue of eighteen members of the crew of the steamer Miriam Cob by the steamer Sandance, commanded by Captain W. H. Stanford of this city.

According to reports reaching here the Miriam Cob went ashore and was wrecked off St. Augustine, Fla., May 28. Her S. O. S. messages were picked up by the Sandance.

Berkeleyan to Go To Naval Academy

BERKELEY, June 7.—Duncan C. MacMillan, son of Mrs. Katherine MacMillan, 2218 Russell street, will leave Saturday for Annapolis where he will ater the United States Naval Academy. Mac Millan was born in Berkeley and received his education in the public schools of this city.

ZONE PROBLEM PROVES PUZZLE TO OFFICIALS

Vernon Park Apartment Issue Unsolved; Rigid Rules May Bend

On the eve of another discussion in the city council concerning a slight change in the boundary of the Vernon Terrace zone, city officials of all departments are discussing zoning ordinances and assert they are fast coming to the conclusion that no rigid residence-zone boundary can be maintained.

Sudden expansions of local business districts, they say, makes the establishment of a rigid line almost impossible.

The city planning commission has considered the Vernon Heights matter for weeks and finally referred it to City Engineer Harmon and Landscape Architect Gilkey, who will report to the council. In this case the line goes through a certain property where the owner wants to build an apartment house. Residents with fine homes nearby object. On the other hand, there are apartments just across the street. The property-owner with the apartment-house plans merely wants the boundary changed so that the other corner of his tract will be outside the residence zone.

Real estate men and older residents object to any change in a residential zone boundary, claiming that such changes tend to upset established realty values, especially when land is sold with the promise that the property will forever be exempt from the encroachment of business houses.

Members of the city planning commission assert that the experience of all cities shows that a rigid boundary is impossible. As the city builds up, business or apartments or garages must come in to allow the expansion of the city.

Some official announcement of policy, along these lines, is expected in the near future, and will serve as the precedent in the adjudication of future boundary disputes.

PREVIOUS ORDER KEEPS PRISONER FROM PROMISE

"Let this be the last time that you come into my court," said Police Judge Edward J. Tyrrell to Leo Tierney, a chauffeur, who was charged with cutting the corner at Fourteenth and Webster streets.

"Your honor, I'll promise, but," he hesitated.

"There will be no buts about it," interrupted Judge Tyrrell.

Tierney, who is 18 years old, then explained to Judge Tyrrell that he had to appear in his court on Monday morning to answer to a charge of speeding. The case was continued until Monday morning for sentence.

"I'll promise that after Monday morning I'll never be arrested in Oakland for violating the state motor vehicle law," Tierney told the court.

Two months ago he was fined $5 by Judge Tyrrell after he had pleaded guilty to a charge of speeding.

BETTER BUSINESS BUREAU PLANS TO AID OAKLAND

Danger of Discontinuance for Lack of Funds; Whole District Drive Urged.

Danger that the efforts of the Better Business Bureau of the Oakland Ad Club to eliminate "fake" and fraudulent advertising may have to be discontinued for lack of funds, was announced at a meeting of the Ad Club in the Hotel Oakland yesterday by Irving Kahn, a member of the executive committee of the bureau.

The bureau cannot continue beyond July 1 on its present income without facing a monthly deficit of at least nearly $500, according to leaders of the organization.

Whether or not Oakland's Better Business Bureau, which is declared by its sponsors to be one of the most effective in the United States, shall be the first organization of its kind to go out of existence, or whether it shall continue with the work it has been doing for the past two and a half years, will virtually be decided at a meeting of the entire membership of the bureau, comprising representatives of the leading business houses of Oakland, to be held at the Merchants Exchange at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

FOR WHOLE DISTRICT.

Possibility that a drive taking in the entire business district of the city through the concerted efforts of the eighty present members of the bureau, for the purpose of obtaining new members, may be decided upon at this meeting as a possible means of averting extinction of the bureau was announced today.

Ten of Oakland's largest business firms have been preventing the threatened deficit since the first of the year through special subscriptions, according to Charles H. Chace, manager of the bureau since its inception two and a half years ago. These firms have announced that they do not feel that they can longer afford to carry this extra burden in addition to their regular memberships in the bureau, Chace said. Unless the extra amount they have been contributing is raised by some other means before July 1 the bureau will be forced out of existence, Chace declared.

It will require a steady income of $1000 a month to support the bureau at its present degree of effectiveness, according to Chace. Without the special sustaining fund which has been temporarily advanced for the past six months by the ten business firms, the bureau's income from its present membership would amount to only $575 a month. This would leave a monthly deficit of $425. It is this amount that must be made up through new memberships if the bureau is to survive, Chace said.

WOULD BE DISGRACE.

"It would be a disgrace to the city, to the Ad Club and to the movement for truth in advertising if the bureau should fail," declared Kahn yesterday. Kahn spoke at the regular weekly luncheon of the Ad Club in the south room of the Hotel Oakland.

The Better Business Bureau is one of thirty-five similar organizations in the leading cities of the United States. Ten of these are on the Pacific coast.

The work of the bureau has been to investigate cases in which it was suspected that advertising was fraudulent or misleading, and compel such advertisers to discontinue the objectionable statements. In many cases a word of criticism or of warning was all that was necessary. In other instances the attention of the advertising mediums that were being used has been called to abuses, with the result that fake and fraudulent advertising has been eliminated through the cancelling of contracts. In some cases legal measures have been taken.

The result has been, according to Chace and members of the bureau's executive committee, that advertising in Oakland has attained a higher degree of "believability" than in almost any other city, with increased benefit to merchants and consumers alike.

In case the bureau is permitted to continue, it is the plan of its officers to inaugurate investigation service for the benefit of purchasers of the securities of local corporations, or of other corporations offering their securities to Oakland buyers. The bureau would then supplement the work of the State Commissioner of Corporations and increase the effectiveness of the state "blue sky" laws.

The "Treaty of Unity," resolved upon at the Pacific Coast Ad Club convention at Tacoma last year for the purpose of doing away with intercity "knocking" and criticism is to be formally signed by representatives of all the ad clubs on the Pacific coast at the San Diego convention beginning June 25, Rollin C. Ayres, president of the Pacific Coast Ad Clubs Association, told the members of the local organization yesterday.

The treaty, which provides penalties for the "knocking" of one city by another, and contains provisions looking toward co-operation between rival cities, has always been ratified by every ad club belonging to the Pacific coast association, Ayres said. Ayres, who is a member of the local club, is the author of the treaty.

Other speakers at the meeting who discussed various angles of the approaching San Diego convention were C. H. J. Truman, chairman of the On to San Diego committee; C. H. Brockhagen, W. W. Cooley and Harold Forsterer, chairman of exhibits of the local club.

GATO GOSSIP

Is it or is it not?

What's all this talk about "mild Havana," "all Havana filler," "Havana blend," and so forth? Nice little phrases, true; but what do they mean?

A cigar is either clear Havana or it's something else. There aren't many Clear Havana cigars on the market, because it costs money to use Pure Havana tobacco for wrapper as well as filler.

Gato is one of the few that is made of 100% Havana tobacco inside and out,—filler, wrapper and everything. That's why we say,

If you want a Clear Havana don't buy a near Havana

Missouri Bonus Deficit $6,000,000

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., June 7.—The $15,000,000 soldier bonus fund will be short approximately $6,184,500 if all valid claims made by Missouri's ex-service men, according to a report submitted to Governor A. M. Hyde by Adjutant General W. A. Raupp. He estimated that at the present rate, at least 145,000 valid claims will be submitted on an average of $146. No provisions has been made to take care of the surplus claims.

RICHMOND

RICHMOND, June 7.—Lee Pesola, husband of Mrs. Ida Pesola, proprietor of a delicatessen store on the West Side, was among the four of the crew of the schooner Mae Hymans, lost between Fort Bragg and San Francisco. Pesola was part owner of the schooner. The ill-fated vessel was picked up, overturned, Saturday morning, off the California coast by the U. S. revenue cutter Shawnee. No trace has been found of the missing crew.

In addition to his widow, a daughter, Mamie, of this city, and a son, Verne, of Fort Bragg, survive.

Pastor Home From Service Conference

RICHMOND, June 7.—Rev. Paul Little, pastor of the Wesley Methodist church, has returned from the social service conference of pastors from all over the country in Evanston, Ill. Rev. Little was one of two Californians named as a delegate to the conference.

On his trip East he was accompanied by Mrs. Little, who visited with her mother while in Illinois.

WEDDING ANNOUNCED.

RICHMOND, June 7. — Miss Agnes Dooing of this city and L. W. Evans of San Pablo will be united in marriage at the Lutheran church, in Berkeley, Sunday afternoon, June 18. The bride-to-be is the daughter of Mrs. J. G. Waters, 451 Fifteenth street.

Brotherhood Names Mrs. Cole President

RICHMOND, June 7. — Mrs. Grace Cole is the new president of the Fraternal Brotherhood as the result of an election held in Musicians' hall Monday night. The other officers follow: Mrs. Julia I. Maskal, vice-president; Robert E. Core, chaplain; James Rasmussen, secretary; Herbert E. Harper, sergeant-at-arms; Mrs. Lola Carey, mistress-at-arms; Mrs. Gloria Rasmussen, musician; Mrs. Ella Smith, inner doorkeeper; Earl Wilson, outer doorkeeper; Ernest H. Brown, drill captain; Mrs. L. Osborne, chief sponsor for the juveniles.

The initiation of two candidates with Mrs. L. Osborne presiding was followed by the serving of refreshments by a committee headed by Mrs. Grace Cole. Dancing brought the evening to a close.

Stege Presbyterians Plan New Church

RICHMOND, June 7.—The Stege Presbyterian church members propose erecting a new church building at a cost of $5000 to replace the present structure. Rev. R. L. Webb, pastor of the church, hopes to have the new church completed before the winter.

At a recent meeting of the congregation it was decided to go ahead with drawing up plans for financing the building.

TEA WELL ATTENDED.

RICHMOND, June 7.—The benefit tea in the First Methodist church yesterday afternoon was well attended. A musical program was enjoyed, the committee in charge of the tea including Mesdames E. L. Scofield, I. D. Owens, M. R. Burdick, E. W. Brothers, T. T. Cramer, C. E. Adams, H. G. Stidham and Edith Oehne.

MOCK BULL FIGHT, JULY 4.

RICHMOND, June 7.—A mock bull fight and Spanish round-up will be held here July 4, if plans of A. M. Gallegos materialize. Gallegos talked the project over with the city council Monday night and was told that he would have to see the tax collector and pay the fee required for holding wild animal shows. Gallegos hopes to secure the First-street ballgrounds for his show.

WOMAN'S FATHER DEAD.

RICHMOND, June 7.—Mrs. L. B. Barber, 619 Eleventh street, has left to attend the funeral of her father, Joseph H. Lasher, who died in a Chicago hospital, following an operation Sunday. The funeral will be held at Elgin, Ill., tomorrow afternoon. Barber was well known in this city as the result of an extended visit here.

RICMHOND LIONS ELECT OFFICERS

RICHMOND, June 7.—Election of officers occupied the attention of the Den of Lions yesterday noon at their regular weekly luncheon at Coursing Park clubhouse. Claude E. Clark was elected president; L. St. John Hely, first vice-president; J. O. Ford, second vice-president; Zeb Knott, third vice-president; A. C. Faris, secretary; H. Stuckstede, treasurer; G. F. Obenland, lion tamer; Rey B. Wheeler, tail twister.

The board of directors consists of Wilbur S. Pierce, J. P. Strom, T. D. Morban, C. L. Richard, W. W. Giberson.

At the request of the Richmond Rotary club the ball game which was scheduled to be played next Friday afternoon was postponed to Friday afternoon, June 16, as the early date interfered with attendance at the International Conference of Rotary Clubs at Los Angeles.

Next Tuesday, June 13, will be Old Clothes Day, and every Lion must bring a bundle of old clothes or be fined $1. The clothes will be used to aid the Near East drive now under way here.

Outgoing President C. H. Donnelly was presented with a gift of pipes by the new president, Claude E. Clark, on behalf of the den.

On next Tuesday, Donnelly will be chairman of the day. The feature of the program will be a mock trial in which Dan Reardon, manager of the T. & D. theater, will be defendant. Dan is charged with the unpardonable crime of having slipped away to get married without getting permission of the Lions den.

Attorney Wilbur S. Pierce will conduct the prosecution, and Judge Hannun will be counsel for defendant. Judge H. E. Jacobs will occupy the bench.

In Canada 20,000 acres were planted to tobacco last year.

Blue-jay

to your druggist

Stops Pain Instantly

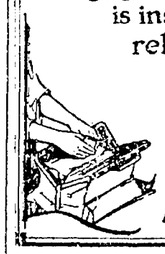

The simplest way to end a corn is Blue-jay. A touch stops the pain instantly. Then the corn loosens and comes out. Made in two forms—a colorless, clear liquid (one drop does it) and in extra thin plasters. Use whichever form you prefer, plasters or the liquid—the action is the same. Safe, gentle. Made in a world-famed laboratory. Sold by all druggists.

Free: Write Bauer & Black, Chicago, Dept. 58, for valuable book, "Correct Care of the Feet."

RESINOL

Soothing and Healing

A traveling requisite For all the ills that the skin is heir to; chafing, rash, insect stings, cold sores, scratches, etc. Apply lightly and the pain is instantly relieved.

Be sure a jar of Resinol goes with you

At all druggists

Say Ben Gay at any drug store and you will get a tube of the original French Baume Bengué (Analgésique), then apply as follows: First soak the feet in hot water—wipe dry—and rub the entire surface thoroughly with Baume. Keep a tube handy for rheumatic pains.

SURE WAY TO GET RID OF BLACKHEADS

There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads, and that is to dissolve them.

To do this get two ounces of calonite powder from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge—rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear, leaving the parts without any mark whatever. Blackheads are simply a mixture of dust and dirt and secretions from the body that form in the pores of the skin. Pinching and squeezing only cause irritation, make large pores and do not get them out after they become hard. The calonite powder and the water simply dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition. Anybody troubled with these unsightly blemishes should certainly try this simple method.—Advertisement.

What's Happening in the Motor World

by Jim Houlihan

There is a new safety signal on the market, invented by an easterner and which is now represented here for the first time.

The device is called the Safety First Signal. It registers "slow," "stop," "left" and "right," the last two in colored lights at the rear of the car. The "stop" and "slow" signals work automatically when the foot brake pedal is depressed. When the brake pedal is pushed down part way the red signal at the rear registers "slow," and when it is pressed hard the signal says "stop."

Smith and Hicks of 1446 Webster street have been appointed dealers for the device and are organizing a sales force to conduct an aggressive campaign here.

The signal has received the approval of the state motor vehicle department.

The state law requires a mechanical signal or an electrical one if the design of the car or truck prevents a full-arm signal.

The "Safety First" device is neatly built and has a license plate holder on the bottom.

"Money-Back Smith" Fete At Neptune

Saturday will be Money-Back-Smith Day at Neptune Beach, when the firm of Money-Back-Smith, clothiers, will play host to the Eastbay. The gates of the resort will be opened and admission will be free. A jazz orchestra will be on hand to furnish the latest in dance music. Half-price rates will prevail on all the amusement concessions, which includes the "Whip," "Carousal," "Safety Racer," "Captive Aeroplane" and the "Jester's Palace." Tickets are being distributed at the firm on Washington street.

CHICAGO ADDS 773 POLICE.

CHICAGO, June 7.—Chicago's police force was increased today by the addition of 773 new patrolmen. The increase was the latest step in the city's anti-crime crusade and followed approval by the Cook county board yesterday of a $100,000 appropriation to State's Attorney Crowe in the prosecution of pending cases.

"KILL-JOYS" BEATEN.

BRIGHTON, Eng.—Over the protest of the Sunday observance forces the council decided to open the art galleries on Sunday afternoon.

Farmer's Wife Finds Astonishing Relief

"For ten long years I had suffered with my stomach. I tried everything without relief, but after one dose of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy I knew I had obtained what I had been looking for and took the full course of treatment. It is going on 4 years now and I have never had any pains or bloating since." It removes the catarrhal mucous from the intestinal tract, and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded at all druggists.—Advertisement.

CAN YOU TELL CROOK ONLY BY HIS LOOKS? NO

You Will Find the Reason in Serial to Begin in Tribune June 12.

"He looks like a crook!"

Everyone has made this remark on coming into contact with a roughly dressed person with an unshaven visage, protruding under jaw, hard eyes, scarred mouth and pockmarked skin.

How many times does such a person guess correctly?

Can you tell a criminal by his physiognomy?

You will find the answer in the great TRIBUNE serial story that begins Monday, June 12. "The Army of a Million Crooks," so-called because there are more than a million criminals in the United States and this work describes them and their methods of operation.

Perhaps all criminals are not ferocious appearing persons. Some of them may be handsome, honest looking men and women.

MANY GUESS ABOUT CROOKS.

There are certain people today who will declare that they can tell a criminal by the bumps on his head—phrenology. Others, perhaps, will aver that the shape of the face or the color of the eye has something to do with it.

Some students of criminology may say that most crooks have some physical abnormality—that they are crippled, have bad teeth, suffer from adenoids, are dwarfs or giants, that they are human skeletons or albinoes or rubber skins.

One may be made to believe on the other hand that all vicious men are feeble minded and that they bear the ordinary stigmata of the mental inferior.

The answer to this speculation is contained in The TRIBUNE serial crime story.

Perhaps after having studied "The Army of a Million Crooks" the reader may not be so ready to paint to some unfortunate person and say:

"He looks like a crook."

How many really know what a crook looks like?

CAN'T TELL BY LOOKS.

As a matter of fact, some very honest men have been endowed with a visage calculated to strike terror to the hearts of a lone housewife.

Visitors at San Quentin are frequently astonished at the appearance of the inmates there. The average person visits an institution of this kind expecting to find depraved looking creatures with hangdog airs and sinister countenances. What he really finds is something different altogether.

A very thorough study of the subject of physiognomy and physical peculiarities with reference to crime has been made by the author of this work. He has supplemented his own personal knowledge gained by contact with felons inside and outside of prisons with data gleaned from the files of the Berkeley Police School and from the private cabinet of August Vollmer, the "scientific cop."

RIVER BUILT BOAT SAILS FOR SEATTLE

HILMAR, June 7.—The "Waukeen," staunch 50-horsepower gasoline-driven boat, built here by Prof. C. W. Horst and the lads of his manual training class in the high school, slid into the river yesterday and began her long voyage to Seattle, with Prof. Horst as captain and chief engineer. His first stop will be at Stockton. Thence he will proceed to San Francisco and head up the coast for Seattle. The boat is beautifully finished and equipped for heavy seas as well as for smooth sailing. The air tanks built into the below decks made the "Waukeen" unsinkable, declares the builder.

G. Henri LeBarr, who has been creating considerable interest in his character reading of public men and women during a short visit on the coast, was the guest of honor at an informal musical for which Mrs. Isabel M. Morgan claimed a score of friends at her Berkeley home on Monday evening. LeBarr will leave tonight for the Atlantic coast. He has been widely feted while in California. Mrs. Morgan entertained at a series of at-homes in compliment to the distinguished visitor, asking many of the prominent men and women of the East-bay to meet him. To her programs LeBarr contributed generously, offering impromptu readings of the character of the guests and creating much merriment in the congenial companies.

Mme. Lydia Sturtevant and Antonio de Grassi were among the Monday evening guests who rendered the musical numbers. De Grassi, who is being numbered among the younger composers, contributed a group of original compositions.

Mrs. Morgan was assisted in receiving by her daughter, Mme. Antonio de Grassi.

RUMOR HERSMAN MAY ENTER RACE FOR FREE'S SEAT

Tenth Assembly District Promises Lively Three-Cornered Contest.

The return of Hugh S. Hersman, former Congressman from the Eighth district, to his old home in Gilroy has started the political wiseacres of Santa Clara, San Mateo and Santa Cruz counties off in a field of speculation. It is said in San Jose by friends of Hersman that he will be in the race against Arthur M. Free, who defeated him two years ago, and that the return to the district is the informal opening of the campaign.

Hersman, however, spent no time in San Jose, but hurried off to Gilroy, where he will give out no interview. He made his headquarters in Washington for some months and is traveling with his mother. Mrs. Hersman has said that she does not think her son will be a candidate for office and that he has no political ambitions.

THREE-CORNERED FIGHT.

A three-cornered fight, or better, has sprung up over night in the Tenth assembly district, where Robert McPherson, incumbent, has been campaigning without opposition. Announcement is made by Nelson Welburn, commander of the Vallejo Post, American Legion, that he will seek the place, and there is a report that W. J. Mitchell, Vallejo labor leader, will run.

Superior Judge Emmet Seawell of Santa Rosa, candidate for the long term place on the Supreme Court bench, has opened headquarters in San Francisco at 714 Market street. Judge Seawell's opponents in the race are: Appellate Justice Frank H. Kerrigan, Associate Justice William A. Sloane and Judge Charles A. Shurtleff.

SAN RAFAEL FIGHT.

The postoffice fight in San Rafael has reached a point where charges of forgery and crooked play are being made. E. B. Martinelli, chairman of the Marin county Republican central committee, says that telegrams urging the appointment of Mayor George Alpers were signed without the consent or knowledge of the persons whose names were affixed. Complaint has been made by Martinelli to the postoffice department and it is admitted an investigation is being made. The committee has recommended E. E. Olmstead, publisher, and there is said to be a third man, a dark horse, who has been working for the appointment.

KISS THE BOOMERANG GOODBYE ON SATURDAY!

CRANE WILBUR loves "The Boomerang," and no wonder! Who wouldn't! It's the sweetest and most delicious play Wilbur and Mlle. Caubet ever starred in. Mr. Wilbur swears to that.

And Oakland theatre goers—20,000 of them—say the same thing. They all rave over David Belasco's play and over Mr. Wilbur and Mlle. Caubet. But—

Contracts are contracts. Mr. Wilbur's own new play, "The Imported Wife," MUST be produced Sunday, June 11. George Broadhurst, the big New York producer, is speeding westward to see the new Crane Wilbur play staged next Sunday. It must be produced next week.

So kiss "The Boomerang" goodbye next Saturday.

GAS IN THE STOMACH IS DANGEROUS

Recommends Daily Use of Magnesia to Overcome Trouble Caused by Fermenting Food and Acid Indigestion.

Gas and wind in the stomach accompanied by that full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart.

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind and bloat right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no sourness or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form, never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.—Advertisement.

The Independent Woman

is one of the brightest jewels which adorns our modern, economic system. But too often this independence is gained at the cost of health, and the wage-earning woman struggles through her duties, a prey to nervousness, backache and despondency. Does not her independence then become more of a burden than a joy? Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped many such women to regain their zest in life, and will help many more.—Advertisement.

STRANGER BEATEN UP BY TRIO, WHO ESCAPE IN AUTO

Peculiar Attack on Street Is Reported By Women; Victim Carried Away.

A stranger who was standing at Twenty-first street and Telegraph avenue was attacked and badly beaten last night by three men who got out of an automobile. The report was made to the police by three women who refused to give their names.

As the men were getting into the automobile, one of them said to the victim, "That's what you get for living with another man's wife." According to the report made by the women the three men went in the automobile for about half a block and then drove back to where the man was lying on the sidewalk. They picked him up and put him in the back seat of the automobile.

Policemen P. J. Collolly, J. E. Wurdack and J. P. Scharbach were detailed to the scene of the attack, but were unable to find any trace of the men. The police have the number of the automobile and are trying to locate its owner.

News of the Churches

CHURCHES GIVE TO BIBLE FUND FOR HOTEL USE

After returning from the state convention of the Gideons, the Christian Commercial Travelers' Association of America, which was recently held in Los Angeles, A. B. T. Morris, the national secretary, gave two addresses at the First M. E. and the First Baptist church of this city. A substantial amount was received from each congregation to purchase Bibles for the guest rooms of hotels not yet supplied.

While in the city Morris organized a camp to be known as the Oakland Camp, with the following officers in charge: Charles E. Dodge, president; H. A. Coppock, vice-president; Harold S. Morris, secretary, and A. E. Lees, treasurer.

Joseph Kenyon, the newly elected state president, attended the organization meeting and spoke of the work to be accomplished during the coming year. The Oakland camp of the Gideons expect to have regular monthly meetings at the office of the president, 901 American Bank building.

Society of Women To Give Musicale

A meeting of the Women's Association of the First Presbyterian church will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 in the social hall of the church. The entertainment will be in the form of a reception and a musicale.

Prize committee: Misses Ella Lenane, Anna Quinn, Delphine Kenny, Katherine McHall.

Score girls: Misses McGivney, Eleanor White, Alice Heany, Marion Shea, Daisy Kellar, Margaret Harrington, Alice Rappold, Katherine Mullins, Rose brady.

Mr. Geo. V. Nolan, chairman, assisted by Ed. J. Heritage, J. J. Krieg, Thos. O'Brien and Daniel Mullins.

Third War Craft Is Scrapped Here

Work of scrapping the U. S. steamer Marblehead will begin in a few days at the plant of the Union Construction company, West Oakland. This makes the third war craft now being scrapped at Oakland harbor. The cruiser Brooklyn is being dismantled at Parr's terminal, and the Monterey at government Island, East Oakland. The old material is being shipped from this port to eastern rolling mills, and some has been shipped to Japan from Oakland. The steamer Wilmington arrived here from Honolulu yesterday bringing 1000 tons of scrap iron from one of the warships being dismantled at that port.

TO TALK AT ZION CHURCH.

Dr. J. N. Jeter of Newport, R. I., will speak on "The Migration of the Negroes From the Southern States and Our Duty Toward Them," at the Zion A. M. E. church on Campbell street this evening at 8 o'clock.

BANKER FOLLOWS MILLION GIFT WITH $500,000

NEW YORK, June 7.—George F. Baker, financier and philanthropist, who last Wednesday gave the Metropolitan Museum of Art a million dollars in United States Victory loan 3¾ per cent bonds, has made another gift of half a million dollars to the Society of the New York hospital, the board of governors announced last night. The banker sailed for Europe on Thursday.

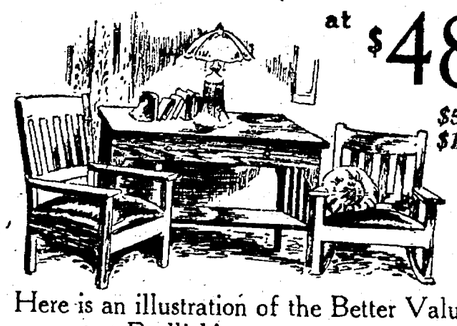

The hospital gift also was in 3¾ per cent Victory notes with which the board voted to establish the George F. Baker endowment fund of $750,000, adding to it a previous donation of $250,000 in 1912.

Baker has made previous large gifts to the Metropolitan museum and oClumbia university. In 1917 and 1918 he gave two million dollars to the American Red Cross and Cornell university has received about $1,850,000.

Here is an illustration of the Better Values that you get at Redlick's.

The chair has a fine spring seat and is upholstered with high quality genuine leather. The frame is wide and made of reliable oak. A chair that will stand the use of years and always be comfortable.

The rocker is just as strongly built and is also upholstered in genuine leather. It is one of those rockers that has just the proper tilt to insure comfort and ease.

The table is of simple yet attractive design that you will not tire of. It has a magazine rack [illegible] and a large drawer. Made of solid oak beautifully finished.

The whole set is of quality that you would expect to pay at least a third more for. We show it here as an example of the values that we are continually offering.

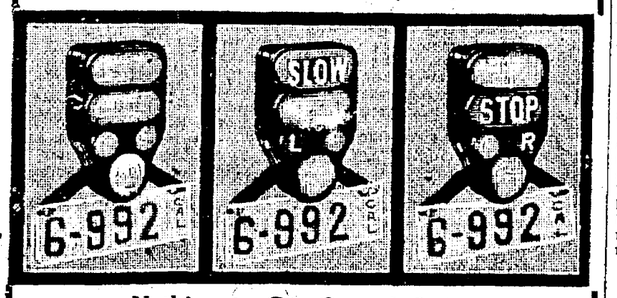

People who are careful shoppers and who study the values that they are offered by the stores of the Bay Cities are constantly telling us that they get better values here.

We will be glad to have you visit us and see for yourself whether we can make your money go further for you in buying furniture.

If you care to use them, remember, we can give you very easy terms—anything within reason will satisfy us.

43rd Anniversary Sale
KAHN'S

Thursday is devoted to the ... Sale of sample lines

At mighty anniversary savings
One glance means early shopping

We have arranged to make a special feature of each shopping day during the Anniversary sale. This will appeal.

Sample lines always mean the show pieces—the articles from which the buyer makes selection when he goes to market.

First one of these matchless sales of the discontinued patterns of well known

Package goods
one-half price

These are the patterns of the present Spring—in the up-to-date patterns of the moment—but since the new Fall line will arrive some time in July, we always sell out our previous season's line—and here they are.

All the merchandise in this sale is perfect—all good.

Packages contain such articles as lingerie, dressing jackets, children's dresses, infants' outfits, bibs, bonnets, hats, scarfs, centers, luncheon sets, card table covers and ever so many other articles.

Every one of these discontinued patterns will be sold out at one-half off the marked prices. A decided opportunity for every woman. Come—on the third floor.
(Art Needlework Department)

Here is a splendid surprise
a sample line of infants', children's and women's knitted wear at less than the manufacturers' wholesale cost

Purchased from a manufacturer of very high grade knitted wear, his entire sample line of beautiful garments. They are those exquisite bits of perfection one comes upon every little while—and the prices will prove a mighty temptation. The manufacturer's original ticket will be on each garment showing their original cost per dozen. You will then be able to judge the savings. Here you will find—

Infants' tams, toques, hoods, helmets, mittens, afghans, bootees, white sacques and sweaters, and leggins.

Women's and children's knitted petticoats and women's hug-me-tights, and shawls. Children's cap and scarf sets and colored sweaters—all at these radical underpricings.
(Kahn's second floor)

An extraordinary sample line of women's Knitted union suits
29c

regularly, prices would be up to $1

Because of our anniversary this manufacturer of high grade knitted union suits sold his entire sample line to us, at a price lower than he would ordinarily—so that we would be able to give you extraordinary values:

You will find garments cut loose or with tight knee; band top or shell trimmed, or bodice style.

You will find regular and outsizes at the price, and you will find pink and white union suits of a very high order. This sale means quantity buying and we would suggest you purchase by the half-dozen.

(Also included in this lot, we discovered a wonderful lot of women's vests, which we will place on the sales tables.)
(Kahn's first floor)

Here is something you've wanted
An Anniversary sale of Lace and trimming samples

25c

Those lovely, lovely, delectable bits of filmy lace, of colorful banding medallions and galloons. Edges and all sorts of odds of trimmings in both spangle or metal effects. An unusual array of beautiful trimming touches that will make every woman's heart flutter. Think of this clearaway price—and what it means.
(Kahn's first floor)

A sample line of De Bevoise brassieres and bandeaux
practically at cost
39c to $3.00

A most varied array of these high grade garments—but one or two of a style, as usual with a sample line. There are tailored styles, there are fancy styles, there are sizes from 36 to 44, but not every size in every style. Savings are very much worth your while.
(Kahn's second floor)

Samples of new and lovely
79c

Just about 550 desirable bits in a varied assortment. All came from a manufacturer of repute—all represent his "best" in finish, in daintiness and in stylishness.

There are camisole vestees, chemoisettes, vestees, collars and collar and cuff sets—and many, many other conceits—all at this rock-bottom price.
(First floor)

Samples of mended gloves
89c

Kid gloves, mocha gloves and lambskin gloves of a known quality, picque and overseam sewn with plain or novelty embroidery. The mendings in some instances can hardly be seen. Beautiful, high grade skins—beautifully fashioned.

COSTLY PRIMARIES.

Pennsylvania's recent campaign for the nomination of a candidate for governor has provided another lesson in connection with the unsatisfactory working of the direct primary law. There were features of that campaign which must of necessity sober the most enthusiastic advocate of the direct primary.

Mr. Gifford Pinchot, who won the nomination, shows in his report of campaign expenditures that it was necessary to put up $120,000 to enable the people "to render an independent choice" at the polls. His was not a spectacular campaign at that. It was rather a gentle effort, and the expenses were chiefly comprised of travel fares, publicity, speakers and halls, postage and stationery. Yet it admittedly cost him $120,000.

The office for which he was nominated pays $10,000 a year. In four years he will get back $40,000 in salary, leaving him at least $80,000 behind. This calculation does not take cognizance of the necessary cost of the November campaign.

Another example was the campaign of Senator George Wharton Pepper for re-election. He was opposed only by an "independent" candidate and was not up against a fight by "the machine." Yet his campaign cost him $60,000. The return of six years of the senatorial position for which he has been nominated will be $45,000!

These great deficits of candidates for public office are not pleasant things for reflection on the part of the common folk. Furthermore, the candidates nominated themselves. There was no public demand that they spend fortunes for their nomination. Just a few people signed a petition to get their names on the ballot and the circulators of the petitions probably were paid so much per signer.

Yet both Mr. Pinchot and Senator Pepper are far better material for public office, despite their wealth, than is usually selected by the process of the direct primary.

CONFUSION IN CHINA.

China is at present without a responsible government. President Hsu Shih-chang has resigned. General Chang Tso-lin is in rebellion in the Manchurian provinces, where he is apparently receiving the support of Japan. Dr. Sun Yat Sen is in rebellion in southern China, and under attack by other southern China factions. The provinces have defaulted in their remission of revenue and the central government is facing an empty treasury. It will be unable to meet its current expenses within a week.

But out of this situation there appears a ray of hope. General Wu Pei-fu, who has taken charge at Peking, has summoned the old parliament to meet in Tientsin and attempt to establish again constitutional government. This parliament was dismissed by President Yuan Shih-kai seven years ago. It was brought into existence by the constitution of the New China republic and when Yuan dismissed it left the republic a name only.

If the parliament is restored to its constitutional functions the central government may again enjoy the confidence and support of the provinces. Then the republic may live. If General Wu plays fair with the members of the parliament there is a chance that it will not prove intolerably aggressive but will cooperate in giving China a stable constitutional government. But, in truth, this is only a ray of hope.

A Maine couple rocked the boat and were drowned. Of late there have been so many other exciting things that this particular form of diversion has been somewhat neglected.

Mrs. Lillian Russell Moore, who died Monday in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, had a stronger hold upon the affections of the theatre-going public of this country than has been given to many stars of opera or drama. Several years had passed since her triumphant days of the stage and the public easily forgets. But in the zenith of her power Lillian Russell was a peeress in the realm of song and entertainment. And her retirement does not date so far back that there will not be a host to mourn her passing.

GREY AGREES WITH HUGHES.

Viscount (formerly Sir Edward) Grey, who got into the news this week by his marriage with the widowed Lady Glenconner, was Secretary of Foreign Affairs in the British Government when war was declared in 1914. He had been an earnest pacifist theretofore, striving by every device known to diplomacy and statecraft to lessen the danger of war. But, as he said, Belgium's neutrality had to be defended, and his efforts came to naught.

At the end of the war Viscount Grey was sent to Washington to serve as British ambassador to the United States. But due to the fact that President Wilson never received him at the White House for the presentation of credentials he waited a seemly period and then returned home. Whether his unfortunate experience at Washington was really due to President Wilson's illness or to the President's pique over differences regarding the League of Nations has not yet been learned.

During his war labors Viscount Grey nearly lost his sight and his neighbor, Lady Glenconnor, widowed by the war, frequently acted as his escort. Thus out of the most tragic moments of his career came romance. This is often the time when romance appears.

Heartily the people of England, if not the United States and other countries, might wish Viscount Grey a well man. There would be available another able statesman to participate in the conduct of important international affairs. It might be that the British people would not feel they would be absolutely lost if Mr. Lloyd George and his coalition government should be permitted to retire. Certainly the clear vision evidenced in the latest political statement by Viscount Grey would be a welcome substitute for the muddling Mr. Lloyd George committed at Genoa and is now committing in connection with France and Russia. We may speak of this frankly, because the effect of such muddling is directly felt by the United States.

This is what Viscount Grey said the other day:

"I continue to believe that a close understanding with France and the goodwill of the United States are the only sound beginning and foundation of economic and financial reconstruction and of peace which all nations may share. Both these essential conditions have been rendered more difficult or less likely by the Genoa conference. The termination of that conference, the retracing of steps where we have been carried in the wrong direction and the pursuit of the objects which we all desire by some better and happier method, seem to be the only course that offers any prospect of relief."

This view appeals to thoughtful Americans with peculiar force. It coincides with the judgment in this country as to what may constitute a sound foundation of economic and financial reconstruction and peace in Europe. And it is the more impressive when compared to that other course followed by Mr. Lloyd George and which has caused a halt, if not actual retrogression, in the necessary readjustment of Europe.

Another observation of Viscount Grey is upon a subject in which the United States has a sympathetic interest—the Irish situation. We quote:

"As regards Ireland, the Government first demanded support for an extreme policy of repression and then for one of conciliation. Their failure with the first policy greatly impaired the prospect of success with the second. Ireland is most tragic, but it is not the only instance of violent oscillations of policy on the part of this Government. Surely the moral of it all is that the Coalition Government, rightly formed for prosecution of the war but formed and united for that purpose only, becomes a source of instability and danger when long continued in time of peace."

Britain doubtless will forgive all on this side of the Atlantic who wish for Viscount Grey a speedy restoration of health, in order that his sound judgment and abundant experience may again be at the service of his government.

President Harding has again urged Congress to pass the merchant marine bill at this session. House leaders Gillett, Mondell, Green and Campbell have agreed to report the bill out of committee and speed up its passage by the House. The House will probably pass the bill. It has functioned better than the Senate and has most of its big legislative projects out of the way. It ought to send the bill up to the Senate at an early date. Then will come the tug of war. The President may retain his patience but he will be sorely tried.

Mr. Henry Ford is reported to be willing to run for the presidential nomination, but averse to spending any money in the campaigns. Mr. Ford must now aspire to a reputation as a humorist.

Portuguese airmen finally have crossed the Atlantic and landed in Brazil. But they did not make the trip much quicker than did Christopher Columbus in his small windjammers over four centuries ago.

The Dentist.

He was, in mediaeval times,
Custodian of the rack.
At boot and eke the thumb screw
He had a pretty knack.

His knowledge of anatomy
Was specialized, sublime,
He knew where each nerve could be found,
And found it every time.

In these degenerate, modern days,
His gifts are cramped, repressed;
But, in strict justice, we must say,
He does his best.

The Trials of the Artist.
(Rio Vista Banner.)

Many rude criticisms have been offered to Dan Fraser during the past week because of the fact that he started at the bottom of his residence and painted upwards. Dan says he didn't have any ladder, and anyhow, all artists have to start at the bottom and work up gradually.

The persistent industry of this man Bab, who has waded through the telephone book and is now puffing his way through the city directory is no less than appalling. The name Club is considering a motion to award him a medal or, perhaps, a special seat in the front window when the club building shall be erected.

We haven't any Main street
At all in our home town;
But, still, there is a main street

It hasn't any end—
It's just a little main street,
Where every one's your friend.

Doctor James, 'an old-timer at Columbus,' goes barefoot most of the time and never seems to catch cold. He says this is due to his toes, which act as magnets and pull electricity out of the earth until his body is heavily charged with it. Whenever doc wiggles his toes the natives say the sparks fly in every direction.

Poetry as Policeman.
(Robert Graves in "On Eglish Poetry.")

The poet is consciously or unconsciously always either taking in or giving out; he hears, observes, weighs, guesses, condenses, idealizes, and the new ideas troop quietly into his mind until suddenly every now and again two of them violently quarrel and drag into the fight a group of other ideas that have been loitering about at the back of his mind for years; there is great excitement, noise and bloodshed, with finally a reconciliation and drinks all round. The poet writes a tactful police report on the affair and there is the poem.

Ain't No News.
(Cannell's Pt. Notes, Marvell, Ark., Herald).

Well, I guess everybody knows there is nothing to write about down here, there is hardly any news at all to write. This is a place where everybody stays at home all the time and never sees his neighbor, never knows when any one dies or any one marries and then if you go to tell them some one has married or died they say, "Well, that is no more than I was expecting."

THE HARE AND THE TORTOISE.

NOTES and COMMENT

The New York Sun in jocose vein: "Recent news from Santa Catalina Island reports the speeches made at the California Pharmaceutical Association's annual convention, where it was hinted that men now constitute a great and rapidly growing percentage of the patrons of the toilet articles. Mr. Head of Los Angeles uttered the idea: 'The up-to-date man seeks to make himself just as attractive to women as they are supposed to strive to make themselves to men.' Land of the he-man and of the favored Red Blood who fights the advances of an effete civilization! Deny it, some one, that the descendants of 'forty-niners' have pet shades of face powder, particular taste in toilet water, favorite shaving soaps and nail polish! Where are the hairy men who gave the country an excuse for the building of the Pacific railroad? Where are the Bret Harte heroes? Open the history books and let the Californian hide his powdered nose in what has been!"

The Oregonian notes the disappearance of the precocious old-time peanut butcher: "What's become of the peanut butcher of yore, the insinuating youngster beloved of Bill Nye and Mark Twain? The clever boy who bootlegged paper-covered French novels and who went to all manner of expedients to turn the easy dollar? Gone, in most places, but not forgotten. Nowadays it is the elderly man who rides the coaches and wears the news agent's cap, but he fails to put it on at the proper jaunty angle. It's all a matter of business to them. They certainly care for their trade, but are not masters of the many little refinements that used to make it a scientific occupation."

The Chicago Tribune holds forth on a Senator's prowess: "Senator Watson of Georgia is a tough guy and he doesn't care who knows it. He is a bad, rough customer, a hard egg, and he can and will lick any other senator or any two senators and he does not care when or where he does it. Senator Lenroot can step outside and get his nose punched, or he can remain where he is and get it punched. Senator Phipps can have a sock wherever he wants it—on the capitol steps, in the cloakroom, or at his desk."

Boston Transcript on Memorial Day: "Time was—and that not so long ago—when here as elsewhere the observance of Memorial Day was in the exclusive charge of the veterans of our wars. That is where it ought to be. Latterly, however, in more than one neighborhood in Massachusetts an un-American departure from this good custom has been taken, an evil exception made to this wise rule. With the result that in several communities the veterans have been shoved aside and clerical rivalries and petty denomination ambitions have sprung up to mar this, the most precious of our patriotic holidays."

The Shoe and Leather Reporter says something: "While it is true that there has never been advanced a single valid reason or solid argument why a tariff should be imposed upon cattle hides it is also true that some of the pronouncements of members of our trade are unworthy of the cause and are doing more harm than good. A tax on hides will make all leather shoes, particularly heavy work shoes, cost more, but not anything like as much per pair as claimed. The free hide campaign is injured rather than helped by its friends who hasten to declare that a tax of fifteen per cent or six cents a pound will make shoes cost two dollars more per pair."

The Salt Lake Tribune of June 4 notes the sailing of a polar expedition: "Yesterday another polar expedition under the direction of Captain Roald Amundsen left Seattle. The expedition may be absent six or seven years. If all goes well they may drift across the north pole into the Atlantic. The principal object of the expedition is to study the physical condition of the 2000-fathom Arctic sea, and much time will be consumed in determining the depths, temperatures, salinities and currents of that great ocean."

SPIRIT OF STATE PRESS

We have an idea those whiskers came off rather quickly at Sacramento after the show was over. They did not seem to be very popular with the ladies. We heard one mighty pretty girl up there last week remark that she had "just as leave kiss a hair brush as one of those whiskered men." And she seemed to mean it, too.—Calaveras Prospect.

Hundreds of surface minnows, which it is expected will solve the problem of controlling mosquitoes in dredger ponds, were brought to Oroville yesterday by E. T. Ross of the State Health Board. The minnows were planted in ponds by Mr. Ross and C. G. Crowe, mosquito field agent.—Oroville Mercury.

The Walnut Growers' Association has purchased a dusting machine for spraying walnut trees that have been attacked by walnut aphis, and the apparatus is being extensively used by members. Nicotine dust is being used in spraying. The machine is also applicable for use on fruit trees.—Walnut Creek Courier.

JUST FOLKS
By EDGAR A. GUEST

THE REAL VIRTUES.

Man is not bound by law or rule
To win the favor of the throng;
He is not taught in any school
That honors only crown the strong.
A willing hand and kindly heart,
A voice that scorns to tell a lie,
Are virtues which all skill and art
And all religions glorify.

There is on earth no chosen few,
The humblest toiler here can be
As manly and as brave and true
As any king beyond the sea.
Rich men and poor, and dull and wise,
Master and servant, day by day,
Dream of the self-same Paradise
And for the self-same mercy pray.

Riches and fame are not the things
Which truly mark a man's success,
Despite the joy which conquest brings,
The jewels and the costly dress,
The test of manhood deeper goes.
One may have served a humbler plan,
And missed the pomp which glory knows,
But still have been no less a man.

He is not only great who hears
The plaudits of the fickle throng,
And none deserves another's sneers
For merely failing to be strong.
For he who keeps his faith in God
Is honest, kind of heart and true,
Though forced in humbleness to plod,
Does all that any man can do.

FRANCE ON DIVORCE.

Highly moral America, with Prohibition that shuts out French wines and anti-lottery energy that would extend itself to Cuba gets a curious sensation from the announcement that France is putting up the bars against the divorcing of Americans in her courts. France is not regarded commonly as a purist in such matters, but henceforth she will insist on a bona fide residence, a "main residence," not a merely nominal one, when suit for divorce is brought, and the courts will make sure that there is a real removal to her jurisdiction "in animo manendi." This is not the old Reno, Nevada, notion, but it is sound common sense.—Brooklyn Eagle.

TWO CENTS A DAY FOR FUN.

The Treasury department reports that approximately $63,000,000 is spent each month for amusements throughout the United States. The bulk of this money is spent at the moving picture shows, the theatres, at circuses and amusement parks. When considered in terms of the United States population it amounts only to 58 cents a month per person, a daily expenditure of not quite two cents.—New York Sun.

About YOUR HEALTH

Just What You Should Do for Many Little Injuries

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D., Commissioner of Health, New York City.

Such notable results have been achieved by modern surgeons that it seems odd there should be any present-day necessity for arguing in favor of cleanliness—surgical cleanliness. But even yet there are many who think the painstaking care of the surgeon is all nonsense.

It is all too common a practice for a man injured in a factory or on the street to receive well-intentioned first aid from his fellow-workmen or from a bystander.

A year or two ago I saw a woman faint and fall on the pavement in one of the cities of England. I took charge, being the only doctor at hand, and the chief service I rendered the victim of the accident was to keep off her bleeding face the filthy water one man offered, and the linament tendered by another. I am confident I spared additional infection and confined the trouble to such germs as the streets of Birmingham possess.

The average layman has his favorite first-aid remedy, and many a man carries it with him. Do you know that many such remedies, unless they are freshly prepared, really are homes for the growth of germs? It makes me shiver to see what vile stuff is sometimes plastered or poured on the damaged human body. Eye drops are kept in the house for years, and when an eye is inflamed it is drowned in a bath of germ-filled poison.

I was on the witness stand a while ago testifying regarding the home treatment of a damaged eye. The judge seemed to think me a heretic when I characterized the application of a bread-and-milk poultice as a crime against the body.

"Why!" he said. "My mother used that whenever one of her children was hurt."

"So did mine," I replied, "but the dear souls were wrong!"

I am sure the judge considers me very unfilial, if not actually unscientific.

The value of such a poultice is the good which comes from the application of heat. Unfortunately, there is not heat enough to do much good, but there is enough to permit the growth of endless colonies of germs, some of which may be pus-producing. Then the poultice softens and moistens the tissues so that the germs have prepared for them an easy place of entrance into the body.

A 10 per cent solution of argyrol may be gently dropped into the eye if it is damaged. This is far better than any poultice ever made.

For cuts of the hands or other skin surface apply 7 per cent solution of iodine.

Keep the affected parts free from infection by cleansing at least once a day with peroxide and water, half and half, or with hot water and pure castile soap.

A piece of gauze, linen or muslin, will protect against the entrance of dirt or other germs. This may be gently applied and kept in place with a bandage.

Never touch a wounded surface until your hands have been thoroughly washed with soap and an abundance of water. Unless this care is exercised the fingers or finger-nails may carry into the wound enough germs to cause destruction of any amount of tissue.

Let a wounded and bleeding surface be treated as a sacred thing. This may seem ridiculous to some, but I assure you nothing is better established than the importance of surgical cleanliness.

Never tamper or fuss with or pick at a cut or a sore.

Keep it clean, protect it from outside contamination, and you have done much to hasten healing.

HOSPITALITY TO BE EXTENDED BY ALL S. F. PEOPLE

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—Because of the tremendous proportions of the Shrine convention which has assumed even greater dimensions than expected, steps are being taken for the formation of an all-San Francisco Hospitality committee. This afternoon in the concert room of the Palace Hotel there will be a meeting of invited representatives of the Knights of Columbus, the Elks, Moose, Rotarians, Advertising Club, Chamber of Commerce and other organizations.

Hospitality committees have been organized by seven outside cities. When the Shrine trains pass through these cities, greetings will be extended by local committees and gifts of flowers and fruit made. A Stockton committee of 500 citizens will distribute flowers and cherries, and Fresno will offer raisins.

Hospitality units are being sent into Arizona, Nevada and Oregon to conduct each train into San Francisco. Guides also will be stationed in the ferry building and at the various railway stations to welcome the Shriners.

The different San Francisco Clubs are to entertain Shriners who are members of similar institutions elsewhere.

El Mina Temple, Galveston, Tex., sent word yesterday that it is bringing the "biggest drum in captivity" to the convention. This drum is so large that it is moved on a tricycle of its own.

BIG DOINGS PLANNED AT IDORA PARK

Key Route Trains and Street Cars Will Aid Autos in Conveying Great Throngs of the Visiting Shriners

Key Route trains will be utilized in conjunction with street cars in facilitating the pilgrimage of Shriners from Twenty-second street and Telegraph avenue to Idora Park on Oakland Day, June 14, after the conclusion of the big parade, according to arrangements agreed upon by G. A. Bahler, chairman of the transportation committee for Aahmes Temple, and J. T. Potter, superintendent of the traction company.

Preparations are being made for a record crowd at the park, where the Shriners will arrive in time for luncheon, which will be served from 12:30 until 1:30. Members of the nobility will be given coupon books entitling them to the benefit of the box lunches provided by the committee from Aahmes Temple, which consists of W. F. D. Brown, chairman; Lawrence E. Lund and Howard J. Swift. The coupons will also admit them to each place of amusement in the wide range of concessions.

EVENTS TO BE VARIED

The events of the afternoon at the park will include a high diving exhibition; ceremonies in observance of National Flag Day at 3 o'clock, when all festivities will be halted temporarily and tribute paid to the American emblem by J. H. MacLafferty in a four-minute address; a bathing girls' revue at 3:30; roller skating race at 4, and a radio concert from 2 to 5.

Entries are being received by the Idora Park committee at Aahmes Temple for the bathing girls' revue. Twenty dollars will be awarded as first prize for the most becoming bathing costume, to be judged by its originality and beauty. Any girl is eligible to compete.

A committee of Shriners will sponsor the activities of the younger folks at the park, including the dancing at the pavilion, which will be under way all afternoon.

THOUSAND CARS TO PARK

A thousand automobiles will be parked adjacent to the Shattuck avenue entrance to the park for the convenience of Shriners and their families who desire to take the rides mapped out by the committee on automobiles.

It is expected that there will be between 10,000 and 20,000 Shriners at the park, in addition to the heavy attendance on the part of the general public that will be attracted by the nature of the occasion.

Arch of Heroic Proportions Will Welcome Nobles

AMONG the elaborate public decorative schemes worked out for Oakland in connection with Shriners' week will be an arch of heroic proportions that Arthur Ramage, chairman of the Shrine decoration committee and the management of the Hotel Oakland have ordered for Thirteenth street at the corner of Harrison. It will span Thirteenth street from Aahmes Temple to the Hotel Oakland, will be erected by the hotel and temple jointly, will combine the colors of the Mystic Shrine in an artistic arrangement, and will spell "W-E-L-C-O-M-E" in dazzlnig letters under a floodlight, Ramage says.

Shriners to See Kilauea Active

HILO, Island of Hawaii, T. H., June 7.—Nobles of the Mystic Shrine who participate in the June pilgrimage to Hawaii following the annual conclave of the organization in San Francisco, probably will have an opportunity of viewing the volcano Kilauea in the midst of one of its rare terrifying spectacular displays, according to present indications as interpreted by volcanologists at the observatory on the brink of the crater.

The arrival of the Shriners will coincide with the beginning of the summer solstice in the third week of June, which brings invariably a great increase in volcanic activity because of the unusual stresses placed upon the earth, the volcanologists said. At Kilauea particularly the vast mass of semi-molten rock and lava rises and falls according to the strains of the seasonal periods, and high levels of lava are almost invariably found at the equinoxes and the June and December solstices, the scientists said.

Shrine Caravan Is Parking at L. A.

LOS ANGELES, June 7.—Cars of the great Shrine automobile caravan, en route from Washington, D. C., to the San Francisco national convention, were camped in Elysian Park here today after completing the 4600 mile trek across the continent.

The pilot car and fourteen others arrived last night, with other detachments due here today and tomorrow. Sixty cars are expected to start up the coast by way of Stockton and Fresno on Friday morning.

AUTO TOURS FEATURE OF SHRINE WEEK

Nobles From All Sections of North America Will Be Shown Beauties of Eastbay; Many Cars Needed

"Automobile tours through the family of cities in the Eastbay territory will prove one of the surest ways we can devise for interesting the Shriners from all parts of the North American continent who visit the Imperial Council next week, and we still require the use of additional machines in order that we may conduct our sightseeing tours on the creditable scale that we desire," was the report today of Romaine W. Myers, chairman of the automobile committee for Aahmes Temple.

Automobile owners who have not yet proffered their service and who are willing to devote part of their own time and the use of their cars to the purpose may do so by filling out and mailing the coupon below to the automobile committee, Aahmes Temple, 297 Thirteenth street, Myers explained.

The California Automobile Association has volunteered to mark the courses to be followed by the machines in the three Eastbay tours for the benefit of the drivers. The markers will be placed in position this week.

THOUSAND AUTOS SOUGHT.

It is the plan to have at least 1000 machines available throughout the week and to conduct tours daily. Three auto tours for visiting Shriners and their families have been outlined, as follows:

Tour No. 1—Through Cherryland: leaving Aahmes Temple at any time between 10 and 3 o'clock each day except Wednesday, June 14, when cars will depart from Idora park. The route will be through Alameda, along the Foothill boulevard; through the Castro valley to Hayward for luncheon, followed by a visit to the fruit canneries. The return journey will be by way of San Lorenzo, thence through the gardens and orchards to San Leandro—the celebrated Cherryland. This trip will take two hours and a half.

Tour No. 2—Skyline boulevard; leaving Aahmes Temple at any time between 10 and 4 o'clock, except Wednesday, June 14, as above. This ride will take in the choicest residential sections of Oakland and Piedmont and will include a ride over the Skyline boulevard, along the ridge line of the Contra Costa hills into Berkeley and out to the University of California. Time required for the trip, one hour.

SEE RESIDENTIAL DISTRICTS.

Tour No. 3—A comprehensive traverse of the residential districts of Oakland, Piedmont and Berkeley and of the grounds of the University of California. Leaving Aahmes Temple at any time between 10 and 4 o'clock daily, except Wednesday, June 14, when the cars will leave from Idora park. Time required for trip, one hour.

Shriners' Automobile Committee Aahmes Temple, 297 13th St.

Each Individual Visitor to Meet Men of His Kind

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—The hobbies, profession, business and club affiliations of each individual Shrine visitor have been indexed by the Shrine Hospitality Committee. Making use of this information visiting bankers will be greeted by members of the hospitality committee who are themselves bankers, realtors will be met by realtors, etc. Thousands of visitors will be taken to luncheon by local men who happen to be in the same business, and who are interested in the same sports, clubs, etc.

WISCONSIN FOLK PLAN FOR NOBLES

BERKELEY, June 7.—Former residents of Wisconsin, living in Berkeley, will join with others in Oakland, San Francisco and San Jose to welcome Tripoli Temple, the Milwaukee contingent, to the Shrine convention next week. At a meeting of the Wisconsin people last evening an organization was perfected with J. H. Kimball, chairman, and Miss Tibbetts, secretary.

Kimball has requested all former Wisconsin residents who have automobiles and who would be willing to use them on Monday to notify him at the City Hall in Berkeley, where he is secretary to Mayor Bartlett and also announces that all Wisconsin residents are invited to join with the hospitality committee whether or not they belong to the Masonic order.

Tripoli Temple is due to arrive at 10 o'clock on Monday. The San Jose Wisconsin committee will meet the train there and bring the delegates to Oakland by automobile. The general Wisconsin committee is to meet in the Clift Hotel, San Francisco, at luncheon Friday. A. Meinecke is chairman.

Among those present at the Berkeley meeting, held in the Whitecotton Hotel, were: Charles Jenicke, Mrs. C. L. Fallmer, Mrs. W. I. Madeira, Mrs. Milo Bohall, C. L. Froding, O. H. Fisher, F. V. Cornish, Frank Hinckley, Eleanor Walker, Miss Bessie Hall, Henry Stoner, Ira B. Gross, Charles Lipman, E. I. McCormac, Mrs. E. Page Sawyer, Richard Gove, Dean Hatfield, L. J. Paetow, Mrs. Henry Miller, Miss Myrtle Miller and Alpheus V. Wood.

Hayward Will Be First To Entertain Visitors

Citizens of Hayward will be the first in Alameda county to extend their hospitality to incoming Shriners for the Imperial Council next week, when the transcontinental automobile caravan that started at Washington, D. C., arrives there next Sunday at noon.

The Hayward hospitality committee, of which L. R. Rosenberg is general chairman, has sent word that its arrangements have been completed for the luncheon to be served Sunday in compliment to the arriving cross-country travelers. The Hayward school trustees have consented to the use of the grammar school building and grounds on B street for that purpose. The luncheon will be furnished and made ready by the business men of Hayward and will be served by Hayward ladies.

Hayward citizens will also serve luncheon daily to the sojourning Shriners who avail themselves of Aahmes Temple's automobile excursions through Cherryland, the committee says.

"We will give the tourists an opportunity to see and sample the ripening fruit in the orchards and, in addition, they will be given specimens of the preserved article at our canneries," John Allan Parks of Hayward reported at the last meeting of the Aahmes Temple general committee. "We have a $1,000,000 plant and guests will doubtless be interested in seeing it in operation."

Nobles at Salt Lake On Way Westward

SALT LAKE CITY, June 7.—Two caravans of Shriners, Syrian temple of Cincinnati, Ohio, and Almas temple, Washington, D. C., arrived in Salt Lak City late today, en route to San Francisco and the annual Shrine convention.

Yesterday Nobles of Rajah temple, Reading, Pa., and Zem Zem temple, Erie, Pa., were visitors here.

Toreador Wins Bull Fight, But Takes Count From Yankee Girl

MAE MURRAY is more exquisite than ever in "FASCINATION," her new picture of Spanish atmosphere now at the American.

Thrilling Bull Fight Is Feature of "Fascination" at the American Theater for Balance of Week

Frantic parents, a score of friends and several squads of police combed the Spanish city of Madrid in a quest for a charming little senorita of Yankee extraction who mysteriously disappeared on the day of the great Easter fete.

The senorita, however, had neither strayed nor was stolen. She was simply having the time of her vivacious young life, watching the bull fight, invading notorious cafes, dancing before captivated audiences and dangerously but unconsciously playing a love ballad on the heart-strings of Spain's most popular toreador.

These are the delightful events unfolded in the story of "Fascination," the ... now ... Mae Murray ... now being shown at the American theater. In showing what is likely to happen when a flood of Yankee pep, even though embodied in one little miss, is unloosed upon a languid foreign country, the producers of "Fascination" have served up a new picture theme which wins wide popularity.

Miss Murray is more fascinating as a senorita than in any of the other roles responsible for her present success. She displays a more exquisite wardrobe than ever before and meets expectations by offering another distinct Mae Murray dance creation.

But three days remain to see "Fascination," the engagement closing Friday night. Commencing Saturday, William Farnum will be starred in "Shackles of Gold."—Advertisement.

Should a Woman TELL?

by Hazel Dey Batchelor

Hawthorne Emery decides to marry Dane Merrill without telling him that she has once been in love with another man. She is tortured with fear lest he discover the truth, for although she has done nothing wrong, he is very narrow in his ideas about women. When she learns that Julie, Dane's little butterfly sister, is in love with Cranford Blake, the very same man Hawthorne has known in the past, she is horrified. Hawthorne meets Cranford, who has taken the name of Carroll Blackton, and he threatens to show her girlish love letters to Dane if she interferes, and when Dane questions her about her knowledge of this man she is so evasive that she arouses his suspicions. In desperation she suggests taking Julie away for a time, but when the matter is suggested Julie rebels and threatens to run away with Blake. Hawthorne is faced with the choice of letting Julie ruin her life or telling her the truth.

CHAPTER XXXIX

"I Don't Believe It!"

WE stood facing each other, we two women, and I saw the look in Julie's eyes change from one of bewildered amazement to suspicion.

"Is this a trick of some kind?" she asks finally.

I shook my head. "It's the truth, Julie. I used to know him. That day we met at the restaurant was agony for me, and afterward he threatened me when I told him it was impossible, that I would not keep silent."

"Threatened you with what?" Julie's young voice was hard and pitiless. How could I tell her; how could I rake up that terrible time of heart-agony that I had suffered so long ago? And yet I had to tell her. No matter what she thought, no matter how difficult it was for me to go on, I had to do it. This was no time to consider my own feelings.

"You see, dear, I was in love with him, or thought I was. I was very young, just a little older than you were, and I was a stranger in the city, and he was kind t. me."

"Yes?" Her voice gave me little encouragement.

"And he has letters of mine, that he threatened to show Dane."

"Is that all?" Julie flamed. "Because you were in love with him once, is that why you wanted to separate us?"

I told her the truth. I told her what had killed my feeling for him. Desperately, although it was hard for me to find words, I told her of the woman who had come to our table and what she had told me. I did not gloss things over in the slightest, and when it was all over and my voice had dwindled into silence, I waited breathlessly for her verdict.

It seemed ages before she spoke and then she drew her slim body up and squared her shoulders.

"Do you want to know what I think Hawthorne? I pity you, that's how I feel, and—that's what I think. I pity you! I don't believe a word of this. That woman probably wanted to be revenged on Carroll for something, and she told you a pack of lies. Did you ever care enough to discover whether or not they were true? No, you simply accepted what she had to say, a stranger, a woman you had never seen before."

"He made no attempt to deny anything."

"No, he wouldn't. Why should he, when your faith in him amounted to so little, when you were ready to believe wrong of him without giving him a chance? Well, my love for him is different. I don't care what he has done. I love him and I'm going to him!"

She turned her back to me and went on putting her things into the suitcase, and frienziedly I rushed over to her. "Julie, you must listen to me; you can't go on with this after what I have said. I know I'm right about Cranford Blake. I know now that his love for you is largely dependent on the fact that you are well connected, and you have money. O, dearest, I don't want to hurt you, but you're so young, and——"

I broke off, for Julie was livid with fury.

"Please don't say anything more, Hawthorne, it won't do any good. I appreciate the fact that you're jealous, and for that reason you don't care what you say to me, but it's too bad you said that. I understand so much better your attitude toward everything."

Julie turned to the bed, closed the suitcase, and snapped back the lock. Then she went to the closet, took out her hat and fur coat, and calmly put them on while I stood by helpless.

A moment later she had picked up the heavy suitcase from the bed, and had turned toward the door. She was going without even a glance in my direction.

What does your wife do?

Cry of Geraldine's SHOULDER

Some meditations on journalism, and other things:

"Geraldine:

Every so often I am minded to butt in with my say upon some of the things discussed in your columns. Your Sunday page of April 23 provoked me to wonder how it would have been received when you first began your work. Not that the public has not had continually the sensual appeal in some form or other before them since the first piece bathing suits were cut; Journalism has always been a fungi. This is no blame upon journalism, but upon the reading public which makes it so. I am rather fond of mushrooms, myself. Were it not for the newspapers, one-half of the reading public would be in a constant fervor of speculation as to how the other half was faring, and worse stories would be afloat than ever a newspaper dared print.

"I accept journalism for what it is; a sugar-coated pill to keep down the fever of news lover's imagination. I admit and accept the virtue which comes with the pill. In this, for one thing, I refer to your column. I salute it. It is a panacea to mental sufferers; it is a stabilizer to shaky thinkers, it no doubt satiates the virtuous-minded, and it seems to be popular even with those who attack it. But I wonder to what limits the professional sin coverers will permit you to go in uncovering the uniovely in the lives of smug citizens; of half and half livers; of the self-confessed outcast before they smash up your typewriter and nail you to a cross of holy ostracism. It amazes me that they should allow such open discussion of vital things as you have dared put to thinking people. But idle comment avails nothing.

"The vital need is constructive study and regeneration, self-regeneration rather than reform of others. It is a large job and it will take everyone of us to do it.

"Moral house cleaning does not mean burning at the stake; it means burning in the brain. Too many people who play with this kind of fire take good care that they do not burn themselves.

"To all those who wish to make the Geraldine page a help in the vital problems of life, I would advise self-application of this fire. I have tried it long ago and it is still burning. It is hot and searching but I have found it good for me.

"What I mean is this; establish a few simple rules to live by which common sense tells you is proper, and then ask yourselves these questions: Am I doing the things I despise in others' actions? Am I thinking, saying or doing anything that will cause others hurt? Then you should define for yourselves purity of thought, action and motive and purity of virture. If you are square with yourselves the answers will be: "I do as I please as far as I can without the law of convention finding it out. Purity of thought, action and virtue do not interfere with the way I choose to live, let others keep out of my way if they do not want to get hurt, I am not responsible for them. If virtue rolls her socks and says she is game, let her take what she gets. It's her loss. Anyway, life is too short to worry about these things."

This will be your answer as viewed in the light of your past carelessness, and if you adopt a change of tactics, you will say:

"Hereafter I will not expect anything I would refuse to give and not give anything that belongs more to posterity than to myself. I will occupy my thoughts with healthy conceptions of love, life and pleasure and exercise my muscle and talents in the development of things legitimately useful for mankind and act in accordance with nature, that posterity might be of better stuff than myself."

"In this way only can humanity arrest the invasion of certain degeneracy that is attacking all circles of the human family, and it behoves every able-tongued and able-penned thinker to pass these convictions on to others as soon as he has accepted them himself and no couple should consider themselves qualified for the marriage venture unless they thoroughly understand this and agree to carry it out; then they should teach it to their offspring. Without forcing the truth upon them, they should bring them to see why it is true.

"This is neither creed no religiously compounded ordinance. It is common sense. It is nature, the only religioun we should consider is that of Cause, Law and Effect. God is Cause; Nature is Law and Matter, still or animated, is Effect. It is given us to care for these things. If we ignore the Cause, flaunt the Law, we shall pay for the Effect and pay doubly for every one who suffers through our actions. Would that every flaunter of the law received a foretaste of the price they will have to pay for the damage they have caused! And that goes for every person with any degree of power over any of his fellow beings who are responsible for conditions that make virtue a luxury, unaffordable to working girls and good home making an impossible task for the working men!

"I hope everybody who is at the head of any industry affording him the luxuries of a fur-lined limousine and every merchant who is trying to keep his profits and expenses from shaking hands, could get to thinking on these lines and take notice of the sidewalk ornaments that line the streets, asking himself 'Is that close-cropped, bare-kneed flapper over there who undoubtedly is trying to attract a meal ticket, a product of my industry'? or 'Am I responsible for that young whipper-snapper who, because he cannot afford the luxury of a home of his own making, would trade his manhood for a passing moment with the flapper?"

"There. My pen has led me to this and refuses to go farther.

"I hope this is not too long for my signature,

"SHORTY MACK."

I don't hold with that fungi theory of journalism of yours, Brother, but I'll forgive your harsh words for the sake of that flaming sentence — "MORAL HOUSE-CLEANING DOES NOT MEAN BURNING AT THE STAKE; IT MEANS BURNING IN THE BRAIN." That's Great Stuff, Shorty Mack—I'd like to paste it in electricity clear across the American sky. But, Pal, won't you put an extra shovel of moral coal and incinerate that lil' idea of yours about the flapper? Why conclude that she's "trying to attract a meal ticket" merely because she crops her hair and shortens her sock. Outside of the thrill at the audacity of it (which any normal human feels at a new departure), she has probably bobbed her hair and bared her knees for the same excellent reason that compels you to do the same with your hair and knees. After all, physical comfort is identical in man or woman—and a feminine knee-cap no holler than a masculine one. So why label her degereate for doing the very thing you do?

We've come to the defense of the modern girl in spite of the fact that she doesn't need us. She's rather a complete and self sufficient little spitfire, with rosy cheeks that nature never gave, with garters that flash, and knees that show. (There's a lot of knees that would look better covered, too.)

All of this has nothing to do with the case. She's a fighter and is learning to make her own way as a worker, and is asking no odds. We're going to boost for her and cheer her, whether she sends out an S. O. S. call or not, so she might as well resign herself to praise now as later.

Old Bach said what he thought recently I told him his mind was too full of emotions and should be left on a nice cool slab in the morgue to cool off. I don't know whether Old Bach liked my remarks, but some others did and came to the front. I left off part of ShuKokun Muzzi's letter, it was too strong for me, even, and print paper can only stand so much strain. He writes to Old Bach: "You talk about a showdown and I must say you are holding a bobtail flush against a full house when you assail the character of our girls, and even were your assertions true, it is none of your business, so go way back and sit down. Your letter brands you as a moral leper unfit to associate with the rest of the world. Neither the nurse or the school girl were asking any of your advice or criticism.

"I sure would like to see the gang turn to and give you the panning you deserve, and if the Geraldine page doesn't suit you—why, just pass it up and go back to Sapho and a few others that appeal to your base imagination. The last paragraph of your letter shows your greatest lack of intelligence.

"Woman today does not have to depend on the respect and protection of man. She has evolved from the cave day and is now considered by all normal humans as man's equal in every sense. If you really want some proofs, just get married and you will soon find out where you stand. Or try to put something over on some of our girls and I tell you that you will get an awful jolt.

"I would like to see you get fresh with some girls I know. You would wake up in the hospital. No, our girls don't need protection of body or mind. What they do need is men to help eliminate from society, not you, but your mental attitude towards them. What about the members of your own family? Are they not modern? Or are they like yourself, living in the past. Come to life, Old Bach, wake up. You are having a nightmare, not a dream, for dreams come true, but you are a sounding brass and a tinkling cymbal—false to human progress and the world in general.

"Surely you will show the same tolerance for our youngsters of today as you desired for yourself at their age, and I feel you were denied many privileges.

"Come on, gang, dig in, let's show our friend Old Bach where he gets off—at. And to you, Old Bach, if you want more, come back at me. I am loaded up on this.

"SHUKOKUN MUZZI."

If there hadn't been tragedy and sorrow behind the following letter I would have passed it on with a grin, for the writer has a sense of humor and a bravery of spirit that somehow will pull him through.

"Dear Jerry:

"I have been reading your valuable articles for a long time and find much good in them. 'Just a Mother' wants to know how to keep a family of eight on $16 per week. Well, I can tell her and she should quit her figuring on such a foolish question. I have a family of nine and I have not averaged $16 per week since December 1.

"Well, here is the formula, or rather the results of the formula: Rent, $30 per month, four months behind, $120.

"Butcherbill, $48 to the bad.

"Installments on furniture, four months in arrears.

"Several other bills behind, including a huge grocery bill which is in the hands of a collection agency that is making special arrangements to eat my head off this coming week. This is the way you keep a family on $16 per week, and no other way, if you are an American.

"There is no room for an argument on this question if you live like a white man. It costs me $175 per month to live and if I don't make it, some one else must foot the bill until such a time as I can make good. The kiddies will be fed if there is anything between San Leandro and Richmond.

"PROSPERIT."

Listen, World!

I WROTE an article about the Future Home and the part which community cooking might play in it. I'm hearing from that article yet and if all I hear is true, they filled Siberia with better folks than I. Yesterday I pointed out the inconsistency of people who condemn community cooking, yet eat canned peas. Today I'm going to answer that loud protest against the idea of centralized family eating places.

Community eating does not necessarily follow community cooking. However, I haven't the slightest doubt that we would have more pleasant, progressive and contented families if we did more of our eating in public. There is a beautiful tradition that the family dining table is a combination of spiritual shrine and mental symposium—but the reality doesn't tlways tally. As a Mecca the home table is all too often a Gettysburg.

Our manners are much prettier and our consideration for the feelings of others more elastic when dining out, because they have to be. Public dining doubtless eliminates opportunities for nagging, interfering and tattling —and various other Sacred Family Prerogatives—but who can honestly say we wouldn't be finer for their elimination?

This applies not only to our mental condition, but to our physical functioning. We digest our food bette in the pleasing atmosphere supplied by the restaurant, an atmosphere which it is often impossible for the busy wife to produce in the home. Because of this, restaurant cooking is sometimes more "healthy" cooking than the home variety.

The chief objection to public eating is not a moral, but a financial consideration. It costs too much. Yet if one considers the cost of family cooking, in spiritual dollars and cents, perhaps the restaurant is the cheaper dining place. Not that I would eliminate the home table, or the beautiful intimacy which it can and so ofte.. does supply. But let's get over this idea that the "Family" consists of you'n me'n Johnny—and put ourselves in touch with the Bigger Home, and the wider code of manners.

Writing Words by Sounds

CHAPTER 69.

ALL of us have to do some work when we learn to spell; but it must have been hundreds of times as hard for persons in ancient Egypt to find ways to spell by sound signs.

To do this well, an ALPHABET had to be made.

What is an alphabet?

It is just a number of signs (letters) which people decide shall stand for certain sounds.

Make the sounds for "t" and "b" to yourself, and the matter will be more clear.

Some nations have different alphabets than others. The alphabet we use has 26 signs (or letters). The common Egyptian alphabet of 6000 years ago had 23 signs.

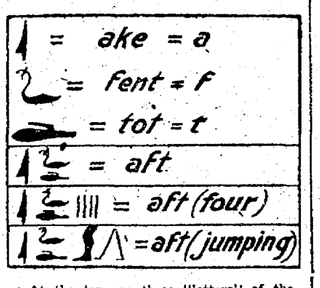

Three of these signs stood for different ways of speaking our sign "a." One sign for "a" was the picture of a reed (ake in Egyptian).

Let us see if we can spell a certain Egyptian word—"aft."

The Egyptians had all three of the letters in this word in their alphabet.

For "a" in this word they wrote the picture of a reed. For the "f," they wrote the picture of a snail (fent in Egyptian). For "t" they wrote the sign for hand (tot in Egyptian). . . . . .

Thus the word "aft" was spelled out.

The word "aft," however, meant fifteen different things. If it was just sounded out by signs, a person would hardly know which of the fifteen meanings it had.

So the Egyptian writers did something else. At the end of the spelling by sound they made pictures to show which meaning was intended.

Sometimes "aft" meant four. Then four straight marks were added at the end.

When "aft" stood for jumping pictures of legs were added.

Take a good look at the illustration. It may make the facts more simple than can words.

Winifred Black Says

A STORY REALITY.

She's true—after all.

The New England spinster who's engaged for 25 years, and never even thinks of "naming the day."

I've met her in the short stories and novels for years—yes, even in the poems. Don't you remember Hannah at the window, binding shoes — poor, lone Hannah, who waited and waited for the ship that never came back and the lover who never returned?

In the short stories, she's always Miss Mehitable Somebody, and she has a little gray house with lilacs at the gate.

And John is in love with her—he's been in love with her for years. He took her home from singing school when she was 18, went to the Sunday-school picnic with her when she was 20, brought her a bunch of wild flowers when she was 21, began to hint about what might happen some day if her mother should die and his mother, also—when she was 23.

And at 40, poor Miss Mehitable is still engaged and still waiting.

The newer novels start out the same way, but they have a different ending.

Along about 40—when Miss Mehitable is 40, I mean—a new girl comes to visit one of the neighbors. And Abner—sometimes his name is Abner instead of John—sees the new girl home from choir practice, and Miss Mehitable peaks and pines, and on Memorial Day, she goes to the picnic at the grove and see Abner and the new girl eating ice cream together—and she either goes home and commits suicide in the barn, or she waits for Abner and kills him.

And it's all very modern and hideous, and life in the war-ish—quite like Alaska and Service and all the rest of it.

I've never believed a word of it.

ENGAGED FORTY-ONE YEARS.

I can't get it into my head that any woman on earth would wait five years for any man, let alone twenty-five.

No matter how his hair curled or what strange deep-blue eyes he had, or what kind of a nice little house he intended to build for her when got good and ready.

And as for killing him and going to prison, and hiring a lawyer and getting my picture into the newspapers at forty, when all the wrinkles would show and every one would say, "No wonder he chose the new girl—"

No, I thank you—not for me!

And as for killing myself for a man who hadn't sense enough to get married without waiting for twenty years to think it over—no, indeed!

But here she is in the plainest print right out in the newspaper—a New England maiden lady—and she's sixty years old and she's been engaged forty-one years.

AT SIXTY—SUING.

And the marriage license was taken out in 1880 and the bride-to-be has kept it ever since, and now Abner—only his name happens to be Augustus in this instance—is dead, and Mehitable—only her name happens to be Mary, is suing his estate for $50,000, in a breach-of-promise suit.

I hope she gets the money.

A man who'd keep a woman waiting for over forty years, without courage either to marry her or to break the engagement, owes her some money—and the rest of the world, too.

Poor Mehitable—I mean Mary—I suppose she did really love Augustus, when he was young and she was young, too. Perhaps she thought he was the handsomest and the kindest the noblest man in the world.

I suppose she dreamed about him and blushed when she heard his name—and Augustus, did he love Mary, too, when her cheeks were like the wild rose and her eyes soft and bright?

And here she is at sixty—suing his estate for breach of promise.

All the strange stories aren't in the novels, are they?

Some of them get into the newspapers, because they happen in real life.

Tribune Clarice Patterns

(No. 1381)

Generally speaking, the more simply youngsters are dressed, the better they look—and more comfortable they feel. All of which explains why we offer you style No. 1381 to help solve the problem of the right dress for your child.

This style can be made at small expense; in fact, several of these frocks could be made in different colored materials for what it would cost you to make just one fancy dress and you could launder the three dresses in the time it would take you to launder one fancy dress.

This pattern cuts in sizes 2, 4 and 6 years; size 4 requires 1½ yards of the 32-inch material with 1¼ yards of 36-in. contrasting material. Price 15 cents, stamps or coin.

How to Obtain Clarice Patterns.

Write your name and address plainly, including city, giving the number and size of such patterns as you want. Enclose 15 cents in stamps or coin (wrap coin carefully) for each number, and address your order to Clarice, Pattern Bureau, Oakland TRIBUNE, Oakland, Calif. As these are ordered specially from Chicago, a few days should be allowed for delivery.

BRAIN TESTS

by Sam Loyd

10 Minutes to Answer This.

Young Hobbs made a deal with farmer Nobbs whereby the young man undertook to work the other's rectangular field, which measured 2000 yards in length by 1000 yards in width. The understanding was that each should gather half of the harvest, but as there were certain bad streaks running through the land, it was decided that a fairer division than cutting the land directly in half, would be for one of them to take a band running entirely around the tract, that to contain an area equal to one-half of the whole.

What was the width of the strip that young Hobbs cut around that field to get just half of the crop?

Uncle Wiggily Stories

by HOWARD R. GARIS

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE NIGHT BIRD.

"HERE you are, Uncle Wiggily!" called Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy one day as she stood on the steps of the hollow stump bungalow.

"Excuse me, Janie, but you are mistaken," replied the bunny rabbit gentleman. "I am not 'here.' I am 'there,' so to speak. If I were here I would be where you are, but being there, I am where I am, which is to say——"

"Oh, hop along with your nonsense!" laughed the muskrat lady housekeeper, tying a double bowknot in her tail and then snapping it out again with a quick flip. "That was just my way of speaking. I meant here are some crumbs for you to scatter to your bird friends."

"Oh, that's different," chuckled Mr. Longears, and, giving a funny little twinkle of his pink nose, he took the birch bark basket of crumbs from the muskrat lady and off he hopped through the woods.

Uncle Wiggily had not hopped very far before, all of a sudden, he heard a strange sort of booming, whizzing sounds near a little clearing in the woods. Then came a harsh cry, not very sweet or musical, and a large brown and white bird, with a mouth that opened very wide, flew down on a log near the bunny.

"Dear me!" exclaimed Uncle Wiggily. "Excuse me for saying so, but you are rather a queer appearing bird. Who are you, if I may ask?"

"I have several names," answered the bird. "I am called the Bullbat, Nighthawk and Mosquito Hawk."

"My, you have enough names!" said Uncle Wiggily in surprise.

"Well, I hope you have no gun," harshly spoke the Nighthawk, and there was no use saying he had a soft voice, for he hadn't. It was harsh.

"A gun! Why should I have a gun?" asked the bunny.

"Oh, well, because we Nighthawks are such swift fliers, darting here and there through the air after mosquitoes and other bugs, that many hunters with guns like to shoot at us," grated the bird. "They want to show what good shots they are, I suppose."

"Well, I haven't a gun, but I have some crumbs for you," spoke the bunny gentleman, and he scattered the crumbs on the ground for the Nighthawk.

"Thank you," rasped out the big bird with the large mouth. "When my wife comes here to lay her eggs she and I will have a fine feast on your crumbs. Thank you, and I hope some day I may do you a favor."

"Pray do not mention that," begged Uncle Wiggily with a low and polite bow. "But excuse me, did you say your wife was coming here to lay some eggs and hatch out little birds?"

"Yes, there she comes now," was the reply.

Again came that queer booming sound, made as Mrs. Nighthawk closed her kings and dropped swiftly down from a height in the air. She, too, screeched harshly like her husband. Down on the bare ground she perched and began to lay an egg.

"Aren't you going to make a nest?" asked Uncle Wiggily in astonishment.

"No, we Nightingale birds always lay our eggs on the bare ground, or even on the roof of a house," answered the mother bird. "We have no time to make nests. We are kept busy catching mosquitoes."

"Aren't you going to make a nest?"

"How do you do that?" asked the bunny.

"By flying through the air with open mouth," answered Mr. Nighthawk.

Then Mr. Longears knew why the birds had such large mouths that could open so wide. There is a reason for everything, you know.

Mr. and Mrs. Nighthawk, or Mosquito Hawk, which ever you wish to call them, ate the crumbs the bunny had scattered on the ground. And then, as night was coming on, Uncle Wiggily hopped back to his hollow stump bungalow. The other birds were going to sleep in their nests, but the Mosquito Hawks were as lively as crickets.

When Uncle Wiggily came within sight of his bungalow he saw a cloud of smoke around it, and at first he thought it was on fire. But when he saw Nurse Jane sitting on the porch, fanning herself, he knew there could be no dangerous blaze.

"Why the smoke, Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy?" asked the bunny.

"Oh, I am trying to smoke the mosquitoes away," answered the muskrat lady. "It is such a lovely evening that I want to sit out on the porch. But, oh, how the mosquitoes bite my tail!"

"That's too bad!" said Uncle Wiggily. "Ouch!" he suddenly cried.

"What's the matter?" asked Nurse Jane, trying to hide her head in the smoke.

"A mosquito bit me on my pink, twinkling nose!" answered Mr. Longears. "I'll put some more wet leaves on the bonfire and make more smoke." So he did this, but the mosquitoes seemed to like the smudge all the better, for many more of them buzzed and bit the bunny and Nurse Jane.

Then, all of a sudden, there were harsh cries in the air, and a throbbing, booming sound, and down out of the evening sky swooped two birds with large, open mouths.

"Oh, have they come to bite us?" cried Nurse Jane.

"No, indeed," answered one of the birds. "We have come to eat the mosquitoes so you and Uncle Wiggily can sit on the porch in peace and quietness." And then Mr. and Mrs. Nighthawk darted about the air, catching in their open mouths so many mosquitoes that soon none were left to bite the bunny and Nurse Jane, and they sat in the moonlight happily.

"Oh, thank you!" called Uncle Wiggily, as the Nighthawks flew away. "Thank you very much!"

So, once again, we have a happy ending, and if the letter carrier doesn't drop a piece of ice in the coal bin and make it sneeze ashes all over the snow shovel, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the danger bird.

Kitchen Economies

RAISIN PINEAPPLE WHIP.

One tablespoonful gelatin, 4 tablespoonfuls cold water, 1 cup chopped Sun-Maid seedless raisins, ¾ cup water or pineapple juice, 1 cup cream whipped, 2 tablesoonfuls sugar, 2 tablesoonfuls orange juice, 1 tablespoonful lemon juice, 1 cup pineapple, cut in pieces.

Soften gelatin in cold water. Cook raisins and pineapple juice for 15 minutes. Add gelatin and stir until dissolved. Add sugar, fruit juice and pineapple. Cool and fold in ¾ cup of whipped cream. Put into fancy molds. Serve with remainder of cream on top. This is such a rich dessert that the servings should be small. This whip may also be served in timbale cases or tarts, with fruit juices or hard sauce.

BROWN BETTY.

Three cups soft bread crumbs, 3 cups apples chopped fine, ¾ cup sugar, ½ tablesoonful ground cinnamon, ½ tablespoonful ground clove, 3 tablespoonfuls shortening, 1 cup seedless Sun-Maid raisins.

Rub a baking-dish or casserole with shortening, put a layer of apples in the bottom, sprinkle with a little sugar and the spice mixed together and cover with crumbs. Dot with one tablespoonful of the shortening and repeat in this way until all is used, making the last layer of crumbs, which should be sprinkled with the sugar and spice mixture, and dotted with the remaining shortening. Cover and bake 45 minutes in a hot oven, 375 degrees F., then brown it quickly. Serve half warm with cream, lemon or any of the hard sauces.

TAPIOCA PUDDING

One-fourth cup instant tapioca, 2 cups water, 2 tablespoonfuls butter, 1 cup milk, 1 egg, ½ cup sugar, 1 cup Sun-Maid seedless raisins, ½ teaspoon vanilla, pinch salt.

Cook tapioca in water until clear. Cool. Heat milk and stir into beaten egg. Add to tapioca. Add sugar, raisins and grated lemon rind. Mix well. Pour into greased baking dish. Bake in moderate oven about 45 minutes.

Schlueter's SERVICE
SPARK & ESTATE RANGES

Electric Ranges Are Economical.

Housewives are being impressed with the labor-saving usefulness of electricity, especially as a fuel for cooking. The new electric ranges are marvels of ingenuity in making electricity the hired maid of the household.

The heat fed to the burners and ovens of an electric range is kept at a uniform temperature by means of adjusting and regulating devices. This feature alone is enough to make the housewife value her electric range as worth its weight in gold; for by it, she is spared the tiring work of standing over a stove most of the time during the preparation of the meal. Electricity, the hired maid, does the work.

With an electric range, the heat beneath the cooking utensils or in the oven never wavers. There is no need to worry about the soup cooking too fast or the vegetables too slow. A loaf cake placed in the oven at 600 degrees to bake does not need further watching until time for it to be taken out.

The flow of electricity to the stove is constant—kept so by the controlling devices utilized by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company which supplies you with electric fuel.

Bacon and Apples.

There is nothing that will coax your appetite in just the way that this delicious dish will. Take six or seven slices of PEERLESS (Bright & Miller) Bacon and put in frying pan. Peel and core 4 small apples. Place apples in frying pan with bacon. Do not cover. Cook gently. The bacon juice will impart the most delightful flavor to the apples.

But here is an important thing to remember, when you are buying bacon or ham be sure to get the kind that is delicate and well cured. The kind that is good for any purpose—either to slice in dainty, thin slices for breakfast or to bake, and boil. Some smoked meats are strong and insavory when cooked, but you will never find PEERLESS Brand, packed by Bright & Miller, so. They are tender, juicy and full of flavor no matter how they are cooked. Ask for them or bacon by name—the PEERLESS brand. Try Bright & Miller Luncheon. It is a delicious lunch meat made from pure pork and seasoned just right. You will like it, either for picnics or home use.

For the June Brides

Every little new housekeeper. I am sure, has a budget all made out—just what she is going to do with every bit of the weekly house money. My, how economical she is going to be. Don't worry, little wife, that is the way to do, because you want to see your big, boyish husband push to the front of his chosen business, and I am sure you will do everything you can to help him. So here is a tip, I am going to give you, to help things along. Before you buy the furniture for the new house, go out to The Ashby Furniture Co. at 3287 Adeline street and see the beautiful things they have in their show rooms. And—here's a secret—you can buy everything you want at a great reduction, because they are out of the high rent district. All their goods are of the best quality and of standard makes, but they sell them cheaper. Now remember, Little Bride, don't forget to look into this before you buy.

Cash and Carry.

Nothing in recent years has reduced the household expenses so much as the cash and carry plan of grocery shopping. In your neighborhood you will find a Piggly-Wiggly store. In it anyone from baby to grandpa can shop with perfect safety. Mother can send any member of the family and know that she will get exactly what she sends for, because everything is priced clearly above each shelf and also all the well known brands are carried. One always saves a few cents on each article Buy at the Piggly-Wiggly.

No Home Should Be Without It

If every woman who manages a home in this community knew the wonderful qualities of CLOROX they would not be without it a day. A large percentage of the women do know, but there are still some who do not, and it is to these that the editor of this department would like to say a word in regard to this exceptional product. CLOROX is one of the most efficient bleaches for clothes that has ever been invented. It makes washing an easy and satisfying task, because one has scarcely any rubbing to do and ALWAYS one's clothes come out as white as the DRIFTED SNOW. Stains of ink, wine, fruit, coffee, tea, mildew or any kind of a stain whatever will vanish as if by magic on any cotton or linen goods. DO NOT USE ON SILK OR WOOL. And as a germicide it has no equal. Just get a bottle of CLOROX and you will find many of your household difficulties disappearing.

Salt Used as Money.

Cakes of salt have been used as money in more parts of the world than one—in Abyssinia, elsewhere in Africa; in Thibet and adjoining parts—in fact, salt held a very important part in the financial system of the Mongol Emperors. Strange to say, salt even to this day plays an important part in peace and warfare. Only the other day the editor of this department read that the Japanese were laying in great supplies of salt and storing it in their island country. No doubt in anticipation of having their supply of salt cut off at some future date. So you see nations consider salt a very necessary article of diet.

However, we, in the United States, who use salt can afford to be discriminating in our selection of the kind of salt we use. Leslie's Salt made on our own Pacific coast is an excellent product and answers every purpose for which we may use salt. Table salt is put up in red cans with a spout on the side, and kitchen salt in sacks. Each individual used "but little salt, let that little be the best."

For Picnics

There is nothing more appetizing and nutritious than potato chips for the picnic lunch, but don't make the mistake of buying the kind that do not stay crisp and brittle until needed. All potato chips are not alike, and it behooves one to get those that are made in a sanitary way and of the best materials, just the same as other foods. The Peerless Potato Chips answer all these requirements and stay crisp until needed. It has been my experience that if I bought Peerless Potato Chips they were as greedily eaten by the members of the family as if they were Cardinet's Baffle Bar. And there didn't seem to be any discrimination from age, either—grandpa was as greedy as baby. An economical housewife might save in that way, because it takes 5 gallons of Peerless Potato Chips to make 1 pounuds. Seems one might fill up the family at very little expense. Try it and see.

Bread for Health.

Many thinking people are trying to improve their health in many ways and are giving much more thought to it than ever before. Kracked Wheat Bread is made by the Grocers' Baking Co., and mostly from whole wheat. It includes the starch, the iron, salt, vitamine and many other healthful ingredients that are necessary to sustain the ordinary healthy body.

Kracked Wheat Bread is made after the most approved fashion and is very healthful. It is particularly a wonderful food for the kiddies. Many of the best physicians prescribe it for their patents. A diet of Kracked Wheat Bread and Jersey Farm whole milk for a period of three or four days will help any person wonderfully to recuperate after a case of the grip or a bad cold.

When you think of plumbing, think of Graham—he's careful and conscientious. Either drop in at 355 Twelfth street or phone him—you'll find the number in the phone book.

Out of the Can.

What would our modern housekeeper do without our canned fruits and vegetables? We use them every day in the year, for almost every purpose of food. But those who are discriminating will not use just any kind of canned foods, but will decide carefully what is a good brand and use that brand consistently. Now the DODGE in this section is one of the best you can buy. QUALITY is spelled in capital letters for everything that is sold under the DODGE brand. Dodge, Sweeney & Co. are very proud of the quality and kind of green string beans that they put up. They are delicious, tiny ones without a string on them, and oh, so good. Here is a new way to serve them. Try it and see if you do not think it is one of the most delectable salads you ever ate:

Dodge Tiny Bean Salad.

Drain a can of DODGE tiny string beans and rinse thoroughly in cold water, marinate with French dressing made from 3 tablespoonfuls of DODGE olive oil, 1 tablespoonful of DODGE vinegar, ½ teaspoonful of Leslie's salt, and ¼ teaspoonful of Morehouse mustard. Place lettuce on individual salad plates, then a spoonful of beans, a spoonful of cottage cheese, sprinkle cheese with ground nuts and garnish with a strip of DODGE pimiento.

The Heart of the Kitchen.

The heart of the kitchen is the range, and the heart of the range is the oven. No woman can do good baking or roasting unless her oven is right. Selecting a new gas range without having a good look at the oven is like buying an automobile without looking under theh hood. Fro the bake oven IS the heart of the gas range—the vital point in its construction. Now, the ESTATE GAS RANGE sold at Schlueter's on Washington street has an exclusive feature called the Fresh Air Oven. It is called so because that is just what it does, it bakes with FRESH AIR. It has no openings in the side linings—no chance for the products of combustion from the burner compartment to get into the oven—it actually bakes with FRESH AIR. And because there are no openings in the side linings, baking pans can be placed flush up against the linings. In most ovens there is at least an inch of space which cannot be used at each side of the oven. See how that enlarges the size? There is no use trying to describe the Fresh Air Oven. But, until you see this wonderful improvement in the gas range you will not understand what an advantage it is, so at the first opportunity please go in to Schlueters and ask about it.

Butter the Energy Producer.

Children like butter. Instinctively they spread it thick on slices of bread. Now the world, mother, has learned from science the great energy-producing value of butter in addition to its vitamine content, will not stunt the growing child in the amount of the butter allowance. Healthful and appetizing butter appeals to the palate of young and old. But one must be careful what kind of butter one uses. Rancid butter the reality very harmful to us and the chemical changes it has undergone. So be very sure that your butter is fresh, sweet and clean. Buy a good butter. You cannot buy better butter than the Isleton. It is made by the American Creamery under the most sanitary conditions and packed in clean paraffine cartons, and it is a butter on which any housewife can depend.

Coffee the Universal Drink.

Meal time, work time, play time—any time is coffee-time! It's indispensable at breakfast. It's good at dinner. A homely sandwich and a piece of pie become a satisfying luncheon when you add a steaming cup of Hills Bros. Coffee. Between meals, in mid-afternoon, perhaps, when the mind and body begin to lag just a trifle, when one entertains at home or in the club house, a stirring game of golf or an exhausting tennis match. Whatever the occasion, the hour or the place, Hills Bros. Coffee! No other beverage pleases so many millions of people all the time. Get Hills Bros. if you want a perfect cup of coffee. It is the kind that will stand the test for every occasion and every place. Ask for Hills Bros.

Electricity.

Electricity is the heaven-sent agent for humanity, and for women in particular. Many are the electric appliances and equipment that we can have in our homes today that save us drudgery and give us time in which we may develop and become better companions to our husbands. Men should be willing to give us everything of that nature if for no other reason than that we make jolly good pals if we only have the time. And ladies, when you are looking around preparatory to buying some new electric appliance, be sure to go into the Domestic Appliance Co. at 538 16th street, near Clay. This electric shop has just everything that you may want or need in the way of coffee percolators, toasters, waffle irons, grills, irons, fixtures, washers, just anything that your heart may desire. And they also have the wonderful Laun-DRY-ette. The most remarkable washer on the market. The one that washes, rinses and dries the clothes without one having to put their hands in the water. It is absolutely a complete washer in one large copper tub—no other is necessary. Get a demonstration in your own home.

CATERER GIVES ADVICE TO HOME COOKS

"If your cake is baking too fast, try placing a pan of dry salt in the oven beneath your cake tin, after your cake has been in the oven long enough to be baked on the bottom," is the advice of a caterer to housewives

A gas or electric oven is better for cake baking than the oven of a coal stove; for one reason, because of the uniform distribution of heat and its ease of control.

It is only when the housewife uses too great a heat in her gas or electric stove that she needs to take any precaution. At such times, it is well to know the simple rule given above.

Some people make this mistake of placing a pan of water or salt in the oven before the cake has cooked on the bottom. As a result, this portion of the cake does not get browned. Be sure your cake has been in the oven long enough to cook underneath before placing the salt under it.

If you have trouble in adjusting the heat of your gas or electric stove, send for the service man of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company. Consumers will find this company unusually accommodating in its efforts to help customers get the most efficient use of their gas and electric appliances.

Work Like Magic.

Work like magic! Yes, that is what it seems like, when you can turn on any hot water faucet in the house and have water boiling hot instantly. It is truly modern magic and much more substantial than the ancient "touch with the wand" stuff; and then Troop Automatic Water Heater does the trick. Thousands of owners have installed the Troop Water Heater. Their faith in the appliance has been fully justified, for Troop durability, efficiency and economy have steadily increased through the years of their manufacturing experience. The beautiful simplicity of the Troop also contributes to its popularity. The Troop Radio Patent Burner, used in the Troop Heater, is so designed that the gas is thoroughly mixed with the proper amount of air necessary for proper combusion. It will not rust out, burn out or flash-back. Ask M. Stulsaft Co. at 339 13th street for a demonstration.

Jams in Recipes.

Most of us use jams for spreads and with meat as a garnish, etc. However, they are useful and delicious in many other ways and it will be the pleasure of the editor of this department to be able to give you some of them in these pages. Always use IXL Jams, put up by H. Jones & Co., for these recipes, because they are pure, clean and sanitary and have a most pleasing taste and flavor.

Breakfast Gems.

One level cup each of Sperry Graham Flour, whole wheat flour and bran, 5 level teaspoons baking powder, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1 egg, 2 tablespoons melted Isleton Butter, 1 teaspoon Leslie's Salt, 2 cups Jersey Farm Milk, ½ cup of IXL Raspberry Jam. Mix all dry ingredients together; add butter, beaten egg, milk, jam. Beat, pour into greased gem pans. Bake 25 minutes.

During the summer months always have a little Morehouse Mustard on the shelf. Its handy and you will want to use it often. It's made right here in Oakland. Your grocer has it.

Mr. Miller says: Ice Cream is good for grown folks as well as children, and you should all try one of his Quality Ice Cream Bricks with the Sunday dinner.

On Bread and Flour.

Good food is necessary if we want to live well and work well. Bread is the principal food we eat—and it should be the best obtainable. The first essential for perfect bread is the quality of flour. The second uniformity of flour. Sperry Drifted Snow Flour contains these two essentials—both quality and uniformity are the very best. Sperry Drifted Snow Flour makes white, "full risen" loaves of bread with pleasing taste and attractive appearance Each sack is like every other sack, today, tomorrow and next year The purity and fineness of the milling is the same. The chemical properties are so uniform that the distribution of moisture and period fermentation does not vary, and the flour contains every requisite to enable the house wife to make attractive loaves of the finest of bread. You are sure to have flaky biscuits, light wholesome bread and delicious pastry when you have Sperry Drifted Snow Flour in your home. Don't forget to use Germea for breakfast, for puddings and to slice cold and fry for luncheon. It is a delicious cereal for every purpose.

Candy for the Little Ones.

Children will have candy. It has been so ever since candy was made. And contrary to the opinion of a great many parents it is not a bad habit, but a natural craving for sweets that the system demands. Sugar is a great energy-producing food and candy when it is prepared right is only a satisfying way to get it, not only for the child but for the adult as well. Allow me to give you the food value of Cardinet's Baffle Bar, a 10 cent package which has 2500 calories of this nutriment. I can highly recommend both for its purity and its food value. It contains (1) Fats—85.23 calories; (2) proteins—68.81 calories; (3) Carbohydrates—134.37 calories; (4) Nuts—63.03 calories. Making a total of 351.44 calories. This test was made by the Western Laboratories of Oakland. When one remembers that only about 2000 calories are all that is needed for a days rations, one may readily see the concentrated food value of this little Baffle Bar. Remember always that "Cardinet means candy"—and not only candy but good candy.

MISSION LUNCH CLOTHS.

A dainty luncheon is all the more appealing if it is served on a dainty "Mission" lunch set—and haven't you noticed that it even tastes better? If you're entertaining friends, don't you feel even more keenly the pleasure of hospitality? "Mission" lunch cloths are made of fine Indian Head with handsome colored borders, beautifully hemstitched. Blue, pink, yellow, old rose and green are the border colors. Many of the designs may be had in sets together with six napkins that match. Other designs, especially the new checked patterns, are sold separately, without napkins. These are to be used with plain white napkins. You will find them at Bruener's in Oakland, on the second floor, and you'll be surprised to find that these lovely luncheon cloths cost only $1.50, and the sets including six napkins are priced at $2.50. "Mission" luncheon cloths are made in Oakland by people who know Oakland tastes. Perhaps that's why they are so popular.

Milk of Exceptional Quality.

Pasteurized milk is the only safe milk and the only way to get it is to demand it. It is entirely up to you Pasteurized milk, however, does not need to cost much more than raw milk and it is the only way, except by boiling, that you can be sure you are not getting disease germs in your milk.

Professor H. A. Harding says: "A good milk is one that is rich, safe, clean and sweet. The spread of disease through milk is unknown in cities where the milk is properly pasteurized, and such milk can be considered as safe."

I can highly recommend Jersey Farm milk. You cannot be too careful in regard to this matter. Be sure that your milk is clean and sanitary. If children are in the home it is imperative, and if there are no kiddies, why, to my mind, it is just as important. Use Jersey Farm milk and you will be sure you are right.

American Graham Crackers.

They are good for the kiddies and good for the grown-ups. Be sure to buy AMERICAN Graham Crackers They are approved and used in the public schools of Oakland for the children's lunch. Try this recipe for cake made with them. Ice it with Ghirardelli's Ground Chocolate.

American Graham Cracker Cake.

1 cup sugar; 1-3 cup Isleton Butter; 2 Nu-Lade eggs; 1 cup Jersey Farm milk; ½ cup cocoanut; 1 cup Drifted Snow Flour; 2 teaspoons baking powder; 1 teaspoon American Graham Cracker crumbs. Cream butter, add sugar, add beaten eggs, add sifted flour and baking powder. Beat well, add cracker crumbs last. Mix in quickly and bake in two layers. Make custard filling and put two layers together.

A Tasty Dish.

Do not always use macaroni in the ways to which you are accustomed but try some out of the ordinary dishes. You will like the recipe below. It is more than good, and very nutritious. Be sure to use Royal Macaroni in making, because that is made from semolina of durum wheat and contains more protein than starch kinds. Also it will not take so long to cook nor cook to pieces.

Macaroni and Ham.

Put in a buttered pudding dish boiled Royal Macaroni in layers with Peerless (Bright & Miller) minced ham. Season the ham with a little Morehouse mustard. Beat one egg and mix with one, cupful of Jersey Farm milk; pour over all, and bake in a very quick oven for ten minutes.

The Modern Germ Killer.

Folks used to sweep their carpets with the broom, and transfer the dust and dirt, or at least a large portion of it, from the floor to the walls and the ceiling, and it used to be a continual round of chasing the germ from pillar to post. One of the good things that modern science has brought to us is the vacuum sweeper. One of the most serviceable on the market is the Royal Cleaner. It is sold by the Electric Housekeeping Shop at 1521 Broadway. The Royal is of the super-suction type, the suction being so powerful that it takes every bit of heavy grit and dirt from the bottom of the carpet, leaving it thoroughly cleaned. It also cleans polished floors and linoleum and into all the corners and under the baseboard. But you will have to see the wonderful cleaner to know its numerous good points and exclusive features. Just drop in and let a demonstrator show it to you.

Excessive Mineral Matter.

Hard water contains excessive mineral matter, mostly lime, which is of no use to the human system. Many people erroneously believe that lime is required for bone building. Calcium phosphate, which is required for bone-building, is very seldom found in water, and when found is in such very small quantities as to be of no value. Another mistake is the belief that iron in water is beneficial. No mineral in an inorganic state is of benefit. It is of use only when found in meats, fruits, cereals and vegetables. Hard water, containing an excess of mineral matter, causes hardening of the arteries, gall stones, and kindred troubles. Buy pure, clear, soft spring water to DRINK. Phone the Alhambra Depot, Piedmont 774, and have them deliver a bottle of spring water that you know is good for human consumption. This is important—do not neglect it.

FILIPINO ENVOYS ARE GUESTS OF OAKLAND C. OF C.

Leaders Who Bear Plea For Independence Are Given Hearty Welcome.

Bearing with them across a sea and a continent their latest appeal for independence, the twenty members of the Philippine mission stopped over in Oakland and were guests of the Chamber of Commerce today.

Manuel L. Quezon, president of the Philippine Senate, headed the party which arrived on the Tenyo Maru Sunday morning and has been spending its time visiting the places of interest about the bay.

The commission is in America, Quezon said, to present to President Harding a communication from the Philippine Senate. This request, in substance, is a plea for immediate independence, the strongest yet made by the Philippine people. Accompanying Quezon as leader of the party is Sergio Osmena, speaker of the Philippine House of Representatives.

The visit of the Philippine delegation to California has been made unusually pleasant, according to Quezon, who says his party was feted last night by the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce at the Bohemian club, has been taken for drives about the Eastbay, and was entertained by the Philippine students at the University of California at a banquet, where Dr. David P. Barrows, president; Benjamin Ide Wheeler, president emeritus, and others spoke.

At today's luncheon of the chamber K. V. Haymaker of Detroit, speaker of national prominence, was also invited to address the crowd. Invitations had been extended to more than 2500 old and new members of the organization.

BERKELEY, June 7.—A banquet was given at Hotel Whitecotton Monday evening by the Filipino Students' Association of Berkeley in honor of the Filipino Independence Mission, who are on their way to Washington to interview President Harding.

Prominent Americans of the college city joined in greeting the statesmen and representatives from the islands. Leopoldo B. Borillo, president of the Filipino Students' Association, presided as toastmaster and welcomed the mission.

Among the speakers were Mayor Louis Bartlett, Dean Bacobo of the College of Law of the University of the Philippines and technical adviser of the mission; Sergio Osmena, speaker of the Philippine House of Representatives; Benjamin Ide Wheeler, president emeritus of U. C., and Manuel Quezon, president of the Philippine Senate.

Death Calls Veteran St. Mary's Teacher

A solmen requiem mass will be celebrated in St. Mary's College chapel tomorrow at 9 a. m. for Brother Udalrick (Dennis Doyle), California pioneer and one of the best known teachers of his order on the coast. Brother Udalrick died in Berkeley yesterday.

Born in Ontario, Canada, Brother Udalrick came to California in 1874. For four years, beginning in 1894 he was a teacher in the old St. Mary's school at Seventh and Jefferson streets. Later he went to Portland, Ore., as a member of the faculty of St. Joseph's Academy. Returning to Oakland he became Prefect of Study in St. Mary's College. For the past year he has resided in Martinez, ill health causing retirement from active work.

Brother Florinus, treasure of St. May's College, and Brother Vincent orf Martinez, survive their brother. The late Sister Mary Adelaide of the Sisters of Loretto was a sister. Brother Udalrick was 70 years old.

Interment will be in Martinez.

To Abolish Gas!

There can be no peace on earth for a vast multitude of people until they get rid of the evil effects of gas in the stomach and bowels.

Those distressing pains around your heart may be due to gas pressure. That anxious, nervous feeling, often accompanied by heart palpitation, difficult breathing or a smothering sensation, can usually be traced to the same source.

To secure permanent relief you must abolish gas—prevent its formation. This may be done by taking Baalmann's Gas Tablets, which act directly upon the set of nerves controlling the digestive function and quickly assist in removing the cause of the trouble.

Baalmann's Gas Tablets are perfectly harmless, but wonderfully effective. The first dose will prove their exceptional merit. Get a package today and enjoy some real relief. Genuine Baalmann's Gas Tablets come only in the yellow package. Price one dollar. Sold by the Owl Drug Company and leading druggists everywhere. J. Baalmann, Chemist, San Francisco.—Advertisement.

Daring Costumes Shown in Stunt Day Competition at Oakland High School

Stunt day yesterday at the Oakland high school resulted in some strange sights. Here are three of the seniors who not only out-stunted the rest, but outdressed them. They are RAY SHANNON, MISS HELEN ROCHESTER and GEORGE OSWELL.

Seniors Win Several Interesting Events on Points; Keyes' Plan Declared Success

Senior day was celebrated at the Oakland high school yesterday. Stunts of various kinds, costumes, parades and athletic contests were indulged in to determine whether the low seniors or high seniors should hold the honors for the remainder of the semester. The high seniors won in points.

Several of the girl students wore daring costumes that barely got by the watchful eye of C. E. Keyes, principal. A parade contest, to see who could win the favor of the judges, was the first thing on the program, with the high seniors coming out first. A parade of young women representing various studies followed.

Keyes inaugurated stunt day for the various class days some time ago. His purpose was to do away with red paint, class battles and destructive methods of determining class supremacy.

The winning teams are determined by judges chosen by the school, and every effort is now made to win the most points in the contest, whatever it is, rather than see who can spread the most paint and make the most noise. The principal says the substitute has been highly effective.

KERN KLANSMAN GIVEN TERM OF ONE YEAR TO LIFE

BAKERSFIELD, June 7.—W. H. Pickens, Ku Klux Klansman, who was convicted by a jury on charges of robbery and assault on Clyde Richey, taxicab company owner of this city, was sentenced by Judge J. W. Mahon yesterday to an indeterminate term of from one year to life imprisonment.

Pickens was indicted on two counts, charging assault with intent to murder and robbery by the Kern county grand jury, which conducted an investigation into the Ku Klux Klan.

The court granted a stay of execution for two days to allow Pickens' attorneys to decide whether they will obtain a certificate of probable cause which will serve to keep Pickens out of San Quentin pending disposition of the procedure for appeal. Notice that an appeal would be made was given by defense attorneys, Charles A. Barnhardt and Thomas Scott Jr., at the time sentence was passed.

Three other alleged members of the Klan here were indicted with Pickens in connection with the Richey case. They were Elmer J. Collison, William Collison and Harry D. Reynolds, who is said to have been "exalted cyclops" of the Klan.

Pickens, the two Collisons and Reynolds were alleged to have been members of a "committee" which was appointed to "take care of" Richey. Richey was summoned to the rear of a hotel by a telephone call and was attacked by three or four men, wearing black robes and hoods.

According to testimony given during the trial, Pickens was clubbed with a revolver and robbed of $350.

Reynolds and the Collisons will be tried soon.

The first conviction in the state growing out of charges made as the result of raids by alleged Ku Klux Klansmen was that which closed the trial of Pickens.

Oakland Educators To Go to Convention

Five Oakland educators have been chosen by the Oakland Teachers' Association to represent Oakland at the July convention of the National Education Association in Boston. There will also be three alternates.

The delegates who will represent the 1600 Oakland teachers are:

E. E. Muller, president of the association and principal of Lakeview school; Lucille Cleland of Fruitvale school; H. D. Brasefield, principal of Fremont high school; Della Atkins of Garfield school; Bernice Baxter of Lockwood school.

The alternates will be:

Evelyn Chasteen of Prescott, Mrs. E. M. Parker of Durant, Augustine Clark of Dewey.

SLEEPING SAILOR ROBBED.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—Sidney Hunter, sailor, notified the harbor police today that he was robbed of valuables worth $175 while he slept in a room at the Arcade Hotel, 60 Clay street, last night.

EVASION OF JURY DUTY DENOUNCED IN CLUB ADDRESS

A citizen should not only register and vote at all elections, but should also be willing to serve on a jury when called upon, declared David D. Oliphant Jr., jury commissioner for Alameda county, in speaking before the members of the Country Club of Washington township at its meeting in Centerville yesterday afternoon. His topic wasy "Citizenship and the Jury System."

High lights in his talk follow:

"The development of the jury system has been called "the greatest achievement of Anglo-Saxon jurisprudence, and the jury stands today as a safeguard over the great liberties of the people. Yet we continually find citizens who seek to evade jury service and who are unwilling to give even a small fraction of their time to this civic duty.

"As jury commissioner for this county, I have come across several instances where citizens refused to register for fear that registration would result in a call upon them to do jury duty. The jury commissioner in San Francisco has recently issued a warning to business houses to the effect that failure to register and prohibiting employees from registering will constitute no excuse from service on juries. In other words, we face a situation where citizens, in an endeavor to evade one obligation of citizenship, namely jury service, purposely refuse to register for voting.

"Let us have in this community a reawakening of public interest in respect to all of the obligations of citizenship. A person expecting to enjoy the great privileges of an American citizen must be willing to register and to vote at every election, and must also be willing to do jury service when he is called upon. Americanism means action—not words."

'Save the Surface' Aid Is Appreciated

Editor The TRIBUNE: The success of the recent bay counties "Save-the-Surface" campaign was in no small degree due to the hearty cooperation given by The TRIBUNE.

On behalf of the campaign committee, I wish to express our deep appreciation for your kind and considerate cooperation.

The campaign has done much to improve Oakland and other Eastbay cities and the message of paint-up and clean-up has been carried to all parts of the city. The good work is to continue throughout the summer and fall.

Very truly yours,

A. W. SCOTT,
Chairman Executive Committee.

COFFEE TO TALK TO MOOSE

Rabbi Rudolph I. Coffee will address the members of Oakland Lodge of Moose at the clubrooms, Twelfth and Clay streets, Friday evening. He will discuss some of the modern educational phases, dwelling particularly on Mooseheart, the great school maintained by the Loyal Order of Moose at Mooseheart, Illinois, founded some years ago by Director-General James J. Davis, now secretary of Labor.

GIRL KIDNAPED IN SACRAMENTO IS SOUGHT HERE

Police detectives from Stockton were working here in co-operation with local inspectors today in an effort to locate a "gay band" of men and women, who are believed to have kidnaped 14-year-old Elva Kayser in Sacramento and brought her to this city. She disappeared May 28.

A reward of $250 has been offered by her mother, Mrs. Gladys Pannos of Stockton, for word leading to her location.

The girl left Holy Rosary convent at Woodland to visit her mother in Stockton. She left Stockton to return to school May 28 and on her way stopped to visit a friend, Mrs. M. Chapman, in Sacramento. She told Mrs. Chapman she was going to drive to Woodland in an automobile with a young man. A man in an automobile was waiting in front of the house when she left.

The police say they have reason to believe that the girl was brought to this city forcibly, where she was turned over to several men and women.

MAN WITH BIG DRAFT IS HELD BY THE POLICE

MARTINEZ, June 7. — Harry Gibson, said to be wanted by San Francisco officers on a charge from a dispute over a bill for apartment rent, is being held by Sheriff R. R. Veale, awaiting the arrival of an officer from San Francisco.

Local officers were led to make an investigation of Gibson when he appeared at the First National Bank here Monday afternoon and requested that an English bank draft for £14,000, or about $65,000, be cashed. San Francisco officers were notified of Gibson's appearance here and today sent word to hold him, as he was wanted. After being questioned Monday Gibson was allowed to go but was requested to return to the sheriff's office this morning. When he returned he was informed of the instructions of San Francisco officers. Gibson told officers the draft he sought to cash was his interest in an estate in England.

Pleasanton Couple Are Soon to Marry

PLEASANTON, June 7.—Announcement of the engagement of Miss Wilma Schendel of Berkeley and Maris W. Fothergill, son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Fothergill of Pleasanton, has been received here and congratulations are being extended by scores of friends in Amador valley.

Fothergill and Miss Schendel met while attending the University of California. Fothergill is employed by a large oil company and is stationed at present at Tampico, Mexico. No date has been announced for the wedding.

Pleasanton Men to Visit Old Homes

PLEASANTON, June 7.—Two business men of Pleasanton have sold their establishments this week and are planning a visit to their former homes in Europe.

Louis Ghiotti, for years proprietor of the Columbia hotel, sold to Ernest Quaglia of San Francisco. Ghiotti intends to sail soon for Italy for an indefinite visit with relatives.

Antone Bon has sold his laundry business to J. B. Toulouse and A. Rumbaud of San Francisco. Bon and his wife plan to visit their old home in France. Their son, Antone Bon Jr., will remain in Pleasanton.

QUICK COUNTERFEITERS.

RICH MEN BACK BOOZE RING, SAYS FEDERAL OFFICIAL

Public Welfare League Told of Law Enforcement Problems.

That millionaires of Oakland and San Francisco are financing the bootlegging trade in this part of the State was charged by U. S. District Attorney John T. Williams before the ninth annual meeting of the Public Welfare League of Alameda County last night in the Young Men's Christian Association.

Williams advocated a Federal law which would compel a foreigner who failed to obey the laws of this country in the first five years of his residence here to be deported. Praise for the Oakland police department and local officials in law enforcement was given by the speaker.

"Ninety per cent of the arrests in Oakland for infringements of law enforcement have been made by the local police until recently," Williams asserted. "In San Francisco, our police do not do this. We are obliged to indict offenders."

Women in Northern California are not playing the part in politics that they should, according to the United States district attorney.

OAKLAND AIDS OFFICERS.

Oakland police are giving the active support to his office, Samuel P. Rutter, State prohibition director, declared before the several score prominent men and women and public officials who attended the annual dinner.

"San Francisco cannot see beyond the Ferry building, and believes the whole country wants to be 'wet' again," Rutter said during his address. He declared that labor leaders in San Francisco appeared before him petitioning that certain resorts patronized by their men be closed, but denied that the Chamber of Commerce had ever asked protection for the employees of its members.

The poisonous nature of the liquor which is being sold fresh from the still and its reaction on the consumer was the subject of comment by all speakers.

"I am trying to give the city of Oakland a better government than it has enjoyed before," Commissioner of Public Health and Safety Frank Colbourn told the league members. "The department was in a deplorable condition when I took hold. We have had a housecleaning and there is more to be done. A patrolman now knows that he must obey orders or go."

A Police Woman's Protective Bureau, incorporated in the city police departments, and a State vice-repressive law was recommended by Miss Florence M. Calderwood, representative of the U. S. Interdepartmental Social Hygiene board.

NON-VOTERS SCORED.

Citizens of Alameda county were scored for ignoring their civic responsibilities in failing to register by Mrs. Mary Merrill, representative of the California Civic League of Women Voters. She said a smaller percentage of enrollment was reported by the county clerk than in previous years. Mrs. Merrill in an eloquent address discussed the relation between the Eighteenth Amendment, the Volstead Act and the Wright Bill.

Tribute was paid to the late Arthur Arlett, former Harbor Commissioner and founder of the Public Welfare League by Mrs. Bessie Wood Gustason. Other speakers were Mrs. Helen Swett Artieda, executive secretary, and Grove L. Fink, assistant U. S. District Attorney. George A. Edgar, retiring president, presided as chairman of the program.

W. Wallace Furze was elected president of the board of directors for the coming year. Other officers were named as follows: Vice-president, Mrs. Ira N. Allen; recording secretary, Hugh P. Evans; treasurer, L. C. Leet; executive committee, George A. Edgar, Mrs. Margaret C. Goebbels, Mrs. Bessie Wood Gustason, Miss Louise Lisbon, Harvey B. Lyon, Lawrence P. Moore, Fred N. Morcom, Edgar E. Miller, Rev. A. T. O'Rear, Mrs. A. L. Whitman, Reuben Wiand, Mrs. Sarah M. Parsons, Mrs. Louise Long, J. D. Gibbs, W. W. Green, George D. Baird, E. W. Kottinger, James T. Preston, J. H. Robins, W. E. Rode, C. E. Nosler.

TEN MEN, WOMAN FACING CHARGES

RICHMOND, June 7. — Ten men and one woman, all charged with violations of the city's "little Volstead Act," were gathered in during police raids yesterday afternoon and evening. Three cells full of liquor were taken and a still reported found at Civetta's place, 44 B street.

The arrested and disposition of their cases follow:

Mike Lucey, Bank bar, 419 Eighth street. Released on $1000 bail. Lucey was recently arrested by the Federal agents on a bootlegger charge.

Joe Civetta, 44 B street; Tom Powers, 1118 Macdonald avenue; W. H. Badgett, colored, 1323 Macdonald avenue; Mrs. J. Z. Broderson, Maxwell hotel, Point Richmond; Henry Strenberg, Richmond and Standard avenue; Joe Roveda, Barrett avenue and B street; Walter Gianella, Hotel Imperial, Fifth and Macdonald; Earl E. Carlson, tailor, 266 Thirteenth street; A. J. Weber, taxicab driver, 248 Thirteenth street, and H. A. Record, bartender at the Fort Bragg bar, Sixteenth and Macdonald; all released on $250 cash bail.

The police raided the residence of Mike Lucy, where they report considerable liquor found. All the defendants with the exception of Lucey must appear today before C. A. Odell, police judge. Lucey will appear before the federal authorities at Oakland this afternoon.

PROBATION VIOLATED.

Edward Lawrence was today sentenced to six months in the city prison by Police Mortimer Smith for vagrancy. A week ago he was placed on two years' probation by Judge Smith. He was on probation just twenty-four hours when he was arrested for violating his probation.

APARTMENT MEN BAR ALL TALK CONCERNING RENT

Fenton Taylor Elected President; Session Ends; Next Meet at Paso Robles.

A special session at the Hotel Oakland early today formally concluded the annual convention of the Apartment House Association of California, which has been in session here and in San Francisco. The convention was attended by hundreds of delegates who came from every part of the state.

Fenton Taylor of San Francisco was named yesterday as president of the association, defeating Hyman Frederick of Oakland. Taylor, who is owner of the Montclair Apartments on Pine street, San Francisco, was formerly secretary of the organization. Frederick had occupied the presidential chair three terms.

Other officers chosen were Mrs. Clara D. Ebert of Los Angeles, first vice-president; W. E. Trecheway of Stockton, second vice-president; Mrs. Dorothy Davidson of Oakland, secretary, and John L. Fitzpatrick of San Diego, treasurer. The election was a keen contest and the ticket headed by Taylor won the lead over Frederick by 43 to 39.

Immediately after today's session convened here, state officers who were chosen yesterday were formally installed and took over their duties and prepared to head the association through a successful year.

This year's convention, they declared, in San Francisco and Oakland, has been one of the most successful meetings in the Apartment House Association's history. After the state officers had been installed, President Taylor took over the meeting, which was devoted to informal discussion.

Principal speakers at the meeting were G. W. Scott, president of the Los Angeles association, and Charles R. Desmond. Both spoke on the advantages of a more improved system of bookkeeping.

Before the session adjourned, Past President Frederick announced the state legislative committee, which he selected yesterday. The committee follows: Oakland—L. E. Mullaly, president of the Alameda county association; M. Hill and C. R. Connors; San Francisco—Eugene E. Fritz, Thomas A. Thristal, Mrs. John D. Bales; Los Angeles—Charles R. Desmond, W. T. Moddox and Henry V. Ventress; San Diego—John J. Fitzpatrick and Mrs. Pearl Heaster; Stockton—A. L. Branch and H. M. Manthey.

The meeting adjourned and a luncheon at the hotel finally closed the convention, which is the third in the association's history. Mayor Davie was the principal speaker at the luncheon and welcomed the members to Oakland.

RENT TALK BARRED

The subject of rent—how much shall the tenant pay, how much should the landlord expect on his investment, and how much may he charge for service—was sumarily barred from discussion when forced on the convention's attention by J. W. Pembroke of Menlo Park, San Francisco.

Pembroke, when given a chance to explain innocently declared that it was only a matter of rent between the lessee of an apartment house and the owner of the building with which he was concerned, but before he was permitted to take his point, pyrotechnical language from many parts of the convention hall and arbitrary ruling on the part of the chair forbidding the introduction of a rental discussion, drowned his query.

"Such a discussion will only bring down upon our heads such action as has come to the landlords in New York," said Frederick, speaking with the privilege of an executive. "There the apartment house owners do not know where they are at."

TO MEET AT PASO ROBLES.

Paso Robles was chosen as the place for the 1923 meeting of the convention.

Following the business session those attending the convention were taken on a sightseeing trip about the city by automobile.

A banquet in the colonial ballroom at the St. Francis hotel was the notable social function of the convention. Addresses were made by Governor W. D. Stephens and John A. Britton, president of the Pacific Gas and Electric company.

Restaurant Theft Guilt Is Admitted

SAN JOSE, June 7.—M. K. Henry, for several years an employee of the San Jose Water Company here, is in the city jail here today facing a charge of burglary as a result of his arrest late yesterday on a charge of having broken into the T-Bone restaurant in Post street yesterday morning, making away with $49 in cash from the money drawer.

Henry was taken into custody by Detective Charles Hertell in his room directly above the restaurant. At first denying complicity in the theft, Henry later broke down and confessed the burglary, leading the officers to a spot beneath an old woodshed at the corner of Union and Vine streets, where he had cached the money.

The man at first said he had hidden the money under a clump of willows along the Los Gatos creek, but later admitted this to be an untruth and revealed the money.

Mrs. McPherson to Hold Meetings Here

A series of revival meetings will be given in Oakland next month by Mrs. Aimee Semple McPherson, it was announced today by those in charge of the arrangements. The first meeting is scheduled for July 15. Measures also have been taken for the organization of a choir, a staff of ushers and altar workers.

HOME FOR CHILDREN.

WOODLAND, June 7.—Yolo county's board of supervisors yesterday appropriated $8000 for the purchase of the Dr. L. Welges home to be used as a detention home for the care of abandoned and orphaned children thrown upon the mercy of the county from any cause whatever. District Attorney C. C. McDonald called attention to the fact that the law was mandatory and that the county had to support such a home. Probation Officer A. A. Powers will be in charge.

Sir Landlord!

WITNESS IN TRIAL OF OFFICER HELD AS DOPE PEDDLER

S. H. Barbour, who during the trial of ex-Patrolman Charles Nightingale on a charge of murder, was star witness for the prosecution, was arraigned before Judge E. J. Tyrrell today on a charge of violating the state poison act. His trial was set for June 27, and he was released on $200 bond. Judge Tyrrell was sitting in justice court in the absence of Judge Pulcifer.

Barbour was arrested last night at his home, Eighth and Castro streets, charged with selling dope. His arrest resulted from a complaint sworn to by David M. Fletcher, an inspector for the State Board of Pharmacy. H. F. Hempstead and W. J. Taylor, constables, took him into custody, and he was lodged in the county jail.

During the days of the Nightingale trial Barbour, who was the state's main witness, created sensation after sensation. It was mainly on his testimony that the district attorney prosecuted the police officer, who was acquitted. The witness at one time went to the office of Nightingale's attorneys and declared that unless the case was soon put to trial he would leave the state. This resulted in his being placed under bond to appear when the case came up.

Later, during the murder trial, he announced that he had been offered $5000 to leave the state.

Memorial to Stand Where Roads Join

At the suggestion of the Merchants' Exchange, a memorial will be erected at the Oakland end of the inter-county tunnel, where the tunnel road and the Skyline boulevard converge. Plans were approved by the city council this morning and the city attorney was instructed to prepare proceedings to turn the triangular plat of land at the road intersection to the control of the park board.

The plans for the improvement consist of grass, a flagpole, and three permanent electrollers to beautify the approach to the tunnel. City Engineer W. W. Harmon drew the plans.

EX-SECRETARY BALLINGER DEAD AT SEATTLE HOME

Principal in Taft Cabinet Clash Succumbs to Attack of Heart Disease.

SEATTLE, June 7.—Judge Richard A. Ballinger, who was secretary of the interior during President Taft's administration, died here last night at his home after an illness of two days.

Judge Ballinger first complained of not feeling well Sunday while at his summer home on Ballinger Lake, a few miles north of Seattle, and as a result of his indisposition returned to his home in Seattle. He remained at home Monday but was sufficiently recovered yesterday to go to his office. Shortly after his return from his office his oldest son, Richard Talbot Ballinger, became alarmed over his father's apparently critical condition and summoned a nurse who was in the house caring for another member of the family. Three physicians were immediately summoned but Judge Ballinger died within a short time. Heart trouble was given as the cause of death.

Soon after his appointment as secretary of the interior, in 1909, Judge Ballinger set about deciding title to the Alaskan coal land claim. Louis R. Glavis, chief of the Alaska field division of the general land office, became involved in a controversy with Secretary Ballinger, alleging that the secretary was friendly to the Cunningham interests in Alaska. Gifford Pinchot, chief of the forestry service, took up the fight for Glavis, attacking Ballinger.

President Taft sided with Ballinger and removed Pinchot from office, but Secretary Ballinger relieved the president of further embarrassment by resigning his post in 1911 on the plea of ill health.

CIVIL SERVICE IS PRAISED BY GOV. STEPHENS

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7. — Civil service has brought about more order and efficiency in both the state and national government, Governor William D. Stephens said last night in welcoming the delegates to the fifteenth annual convention of the National Assembly of Civil Service Commissions. The governor sketched the history of civil service in both state and federal departments.

"The rapid extension of the merit system is making of civil service an important factor in progressive government, not only throughout the United States, but in all civilized countries of the world," the Governor said. "The tendency has been to reduce the number of elective officers to abolish political patronagge in a maximum degree and to place in the hands of department heads, subject to the authority of the governor, a large body of competent aids and employees selected for their ability to perform the job through the agency of civil service."

Although civil service has its drawbacks, the governor said, "all honest critics must admit that it has stamped out the spoils system both in this country and abroad.

"And to revert now to the old order is unthinkable and would bring chaos, where now, thanks to civil service, there is throughout federal, state, county and municipal government an orderly selection of governmental employees."

Oakland High Will Reorganize Alumni

A call has been issued to the graduates of Oakland high school to attend a general meeting on the evening of June 17, when an alumni association will be formed for Oakland's oldest high school, bigger and stronger than the present association. The officers who will address the graduates will include President Girard Richardson, Treasurer Roy Baker and Legislative Expert George C. Pardee, former governor of California.

FOUNTAIN TO BE MEMORIAL TO HARRISON CLAY

Embarcadero and Grand Avenue Site Chosen for the Monument.

Plans for the erection of a fresh water fountain at the Embarcadero, near the junction of Lakeshore and Grand avenues, as a memorial to the late Harrison Clay, county assessor, were announced today by a committee formed for this purpose.

The committee consists of C. A. Beardsley, Mayor John L. Davie, Dr. Wilbur S. Halsey, L. S. Hotchkiss, Lois J. Kennedy, Sidney B. Newsom, F. W. Sharpe, A. Vander Naillen Jr., and Wilbur Walker.

The committee has secured permission for the erection of the fountain from the park commissioners. Contributions for a fund to be used for the construction of the memorial are being sought. The estimated cost of the fountain is $1750.

Two Men Arrested After Cafe Fight

As the result of a fight last night Ray H. Wunderlich, 25, a University of California student, is charged with being intoxicated and disturbing the peace, and Pete Economy is charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

The fight started in a restaurant at 420 Seventh street. Wunderlich is alleged to have been cut during the fight by Economy. Wunderlich resides at 2519 Ridge Road, Berkeley. They were arrested by Policeman J. Sears.

"RIGHTS" WEREN'T RIGHT.

NAILSTONE, Eng. — Ernest Springthorpe claimed he was within his "rights" in beating his daughter with a heavy stick. He's now in prison for three months.

HENRY SPENCER, well-known and respected citizen of Watertown, N. Y., who reports he has gained 15 pounds since he began taking Tanlac and always tells his friends how this medicine restored his health.

"My friends often say: Never saw you looking better; what are you doing for yourself?' and I always tell them: 'Well, I am taking Tanlac now,'" recently declared Henry Spencer, 415 East St., Watertown, a well-known and highly respected citizen.

"For more than a year," he said, "I seemed to be run down all over. From 160 pounds I fell off to 135, lost my appetite and my stomach gave me no end of trouble. The little I ate caused me to bloat with gas and I was subject to dull, heavy headaches. I had no energy and it was all I could do to get around the house. I had dizzy spells when everything would blur before my eyes and I had to catch myself to keep from falling.

"Well, now, I have gained 15 pounds, feel better in every way and can work as well as ever, since taking Tanlac. I relish what I eat, with a fine appetite, and gas, indigestion, headache and dizziness are completely gone. Yes, sir, I just can't say too much for Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.—Advertisement.

HAYWARD

HAYWARD, June 7.—Plans for entertainment of the delegates to the Shriners' convention as they pass through here June 11 are rounding into shape, according to an announcement made by L. R. Rosenberg, chairman of the chamber of commerce Shriners' committee, yesterday after a meeting of the general committee. Arrangements for band concerts, a luncheon to be served in the grammar school grounds by the various women's clubs, and a tour of the agricultural and residential districts of Hayward, to be followed by an inspection of the fruit packing plants here are practically complete, Rosenberg said.

"Hayward has taken hold in the good old-fashioned way," Rosenberg said, "with a vim that will show our visitors that greater Northern California is not just ahead, that it is right here.

"We have made arrangements to show the Shriners our agricultural industries by taking them from the fields to the packing of the fruits and vegetables. It will be the biggest help in the way of advertising that Hayward could have, but we are going to advertise, first of all, Hayward's hospitality.

"There will be at least 500 automobiles in the caravan which will come through here, which will mean approximately 2000 persons. That is a large number to play host to at one time, but Hayward has taken hold in such fashion that we have no doubt of our ability to do so. This is a community affair, and the people of the community are accepting their responsibilities in it."

FIRST BEAN SHIPMENTS

HAYWARD, June 7.—Shipments of string beans have started from Hayward, it was announced today. While the shipments have not as yet been large, it is expected that the season will soon be in full swing. Prices for the beans, ranging from 12 to 14 cents, are said to be good.

According to Andrew Garin, local grower and shipper, the early crop of string beans will not be heavy here because of the late frosts, but the later crop, it is said, should be very good this year. Sweet corn, according to growers, is ripening well. It is expected that shipments of corn will start within thirty days. The pea season, growers say, will probably be ended by Saturday of this week.

The cherry season, while late, is expected to reach full height by the middle of next week, according to E. L. Macabee of the Hunt Brothers Packing Corporation here. Macabee said that by the middle of next week the plant will probably employ about 400 people. The crop this season, it is expected, will not come steadily, but will vary in rate of production.

POULTRYMEN TO ORGANIZE

HAYWARD, June 7.—Organization of an association to improve the stock and to regulate prices will be completed by Hayward poultry breeders at a meeting to be held in Dania Hall Friday night, according to F. C. Steiner. Steiner said today that while other districts have requested permission to join with the Hayward breeders and Contra Costa poultrymen have been invited to attend the meeting, local breeders may hold their association to breeders in this district alone until organization has been completed.

In describing the size the association may attain here he said that there are, in this district, approximately 200 breeders, with from 75,000 to 100,000 hens.

The association would improve stock through the installation of inspection, and regulation providing for the vitality of stock used for breeding.

GRADUATION PROGRAM

HAYWARD, June 7.—Graduation exercises for the Hayward grammar school will be held tomorrow evening in the auditorium of the school. The largest class which has ever left the school, numbering 55, will be given diplomas.

An operatta, "Love Pirates of Hawaii," will be given by the graduating class. The school band and orchestra will be features of the evening's entertainment. M. L. Benson, city superintendent of schools, will award the diplomas to the graduates.

HELD FOR TRIAL

HAYWARD, June 7.—Julius Rives, accused by J. Dobble of stealing $247, was arraigned before Judge Harder in the justice court here yesterday afternoon and held to answer to the superior court. According to Dobble, the money was taken on three occasions, the last being May 3.

Rives came to Hayward an orphan 20 years ago; and was cared for by Dobble. According to the police, Rives has intimated that the money was taken to give to an unidentified woman.

BOOSTERS ELECT OFFICERS

HAYWARD, June 7.—L. R. Rosenberg, it was announced today, has been re-elected president of the Hayward Merchants' Booster Club. Bert Bedford was elected vice-president and Arthur Peterson secretary. These officers, with Peter Verzie and F. E. Bragg, will form the board of directors of the club.

The club is an association of retail merchants formed to establish better relations between the merchants of Hayward and buyers.

SEEK CAMP SITE

HAYWARD, June 7.—Judge and Mrs. Jacob Harder left Hayward today on a tour of exploration through the Big Basin country, hunting a suitable camping site for the Hayward Campfire Girls. The tour, according to Harder, will last two days. It is planned to take 20 girls on the Campfire trip this year.

I. O. O. F. INITIATE

HAYWARD, June 7.—Arnoll Valsangiacamo, M. T. Warner and D. F. Neu were admitted into Sycamore Lodge, I. O. O. F., this week, it was announced today by Shirley Nelson, secretary of the local lodge. Nelson said that Campanile Lodge of Berkeley will come to Hayward soon to put on degree work.

RICHARDSON HERE ON STATE TOUR

State Treasurer Friend W. Richardson arrived in Berkeley last evening and after spending a few days around the bay will proceed down the coast on his campaign for governor. He is driving his own automobile at his own expense and is accompanied by his wife and 9-year-old son.

He claims that there is need for economy in state affairs, and, if elected, promises to depose "the present state political machine which exceeds in power and avarice any machine in the history of the state."

Richardson says that the results in Indiana and Pennsylvania show that a political machine, no matter how strongly entrenched, can be defeated, and the people are tired of boss rule. In an interview today Richardson said: "I could have been re-elected treasurer with little trouble, but I feel it my duty to make an effort to do something to help my state. If elected I propose to cut down the number of office holders, help to abolish all unnecessary political sinecures and put the state on an economical and business basis. The machine henchmen know I mean business, hence their frantic effort to perpetuate a dynasty which is noted only for extravagance."

New Law Proposed On School Movies

BERKELEY, June 7.—A new ordinance regulating the use of motion picture machines in schools and public buildings will be framed by the city council as the result of agitation started by the Berkeley Federation of Parent-Teacher Associations. At the present time, according to Mrs. H. N. Herrick, chairman of a committee that appeared before the city council yesterday, some of the schools are being deprived of motion pictures because they cannot live up to the requirements of an antiquated city ordinance. Fire Chief G. Sydney Rose and other city officials will assist in framing the ordinance.

Real Estate Men Motor to Richmond

RICHMOND, June 7.—A caravan of several hundred real estate dealers, seeing the Eastbay country following their recent convention at San Francisco, motored into Richmond this morning.

The party visited Point Richmond, where they saw the works of the Standard Oil Company and the Santa Fe yards. Later they toured Richmond proper.

Coloradan Jailed in Burglary Case

RICHMOND, June 7.—Clarence Phelps of Colorado, charged with second degree burglary, is in the city jail. He was arrested yesterday at the St. Francis Annex on Santa Fe avenue, where he has been rooming while working for a Richmond contractor. He is alleged by the police to have entered three other rooms at the hotel.

ALAMEDA CURFEW PLEA OF MOTHERS

ALAMEDA, June 7. — Curfew shall be heard again in Alameda if City Manager C. E. Hickok looks with favor upon the petition of the Alameda Federation of Mothers' Clubs. The organization petitioned the city council last night to have the curfew law enforced. The matter was referred to Hickok.

William Varcoe, city clerk, was granted three weeks' leave of absence to go to Atlantic City to attend the Elks' convention. City Attorney W. J. Locke was granted two weeks' leave. He is going to Atlanta, Ga., to speak before the Georgia League of Municipalities.

The residents of the south end of St. Charles street petitioned the council to improve the end of the street at the bay.

The city clerk was authorized to call for bids for a new caterpillar tractor for use on the streets.

Claude Deal, athletic manager of Alameda Post, American Legion, applied for permission for the post to conduct pay athletic tournaments.

New Branch Library In Alameda Assured

ALAMEDA, June 7. — A new branch library for the west end of town was assured the residents of that district last night, when the city council gave Mayor Frank Otis permission to sign leases to the property now occupied by the Regent theater at Webster street and Santa Clara avenue. The property will cost the city a rental of $60 a month, the lease running for ten years. This marks the culmination of a long fight of the west enders and particularly of the Alameda Improvement Club, to secure a new branch in that section of the city.

The council also conveyed $9235 to the Franklin Park fund and $5570 to the park purchase fund. The Health Center fund was also credited with $3500.

Accused of Selling Decomposed Meats

BERKELEY, June .—For selling alleged decomposed meats at his place of business, at 1625 Telegraph avenue, Oakland, H. C. Steinbeck, a butcher, appeared before Judge Edgar this morning to answer a complaint filed by the State pure food authorities. Steinbeck, who resides at 821 Mead avenue, Oakland, will appear for trial on Monday.

INSTRUCTOR RESIGNS.

NEWMAN, June 7.—J. M. Johnston, for the past two years athletic instructor at Orestimba union high school, this city, has resigned and, with his wife, will shortly move to Berkeley. He has been a prime favorite with the pupils and his hight-class work has had a constant influence since he assumed charge of athletic affairs. He has been also prominent in Boy Scout operations, being Scoutmaster of Troop No. 1.

BERKELEY CAMP TO HAVE ROOM FOR 100 GUESTS

Application for Reservations Can Be Made at City Hall.

BERKELEY, June 7. — Berkeley's mountain camp in the Stanislaus National Forest will be able to accommodate 100 guests at a time throughout the summer season, according to George Hjelte, superintendent of playgrounds.

Hjelte returned yesterday from the camp after supervising arrangements for the entertaining of guests and reports that the summer quarters will be ready for the capacity number of visitors on June 16.

Mr. and Mrs. Stacy Gibbs, the latter a member of the Berkeley board of education, enjoyed the honor of being the first guests to register at the mountain camp. Others present at the opening were Dr. Ernest H. Pape, city health officer; Professor W. B. Herms, president Berkeley board of Education; Charles L. Biedenbach, principal Berkeley high school; Carl Biedenbach, superintendent of parks; Mr. and Mrs. V. V. Dart, James Van Rensselaer, Mr. and Mrs. George Hjelte, Maunsel Van Renssalaer, camp manager, and Mrs. Van Renssalaer.

Excellent fishing in Big Creek, two miles from the camp, is reported by Dr. Pape and other anglers in the party. The playground department announced today that arrangements have been completed for the use of horses at the camp at the following rates: $1 for the first hour and 50c for each successive hour up to four; $2 per half day and $3 per full day. Trips on horseback to Lake Eleanor, Yosemite and Bowers Caves may be had at the rate of $2.50 per day per horse. An experienced mountain guide has been employed to conduct these trips.

Applications for the camp are being received at the city hall.

Blumb Is Chief of Berkeley Educators

BERKELEY, June 7.—Joseph L. Blumb, principal of the Lincoln schoo, will head the Principals and Supervisors Club of the Berkeley school department for the coming year as the result of the semi-annual banquet and meeting of the organization held Monday evening at the high school.

Miss Violet Richardson, supervisor of physical education, was named to the post of secretary while a welcome was extended to Charles Bruce as the newest member of the supervisorial staff in the Berkeley schools. George C. Kyte, principal of the University Elementary school, had charge of the program of the evening with Miss Zinie Kidder directing decorations and Miss Bertha Prentiss in charge of the menu.

Superintendent H. B. Wilson told of progress in the Berkeley schools during the last four years while other talks were made by R. B. Lindquist, principal of the Columbus school, and George B. Kyte of the University Elementary school. As a novel feature of the evening rival teams of educators served as waiters for the banquet following the program. Assistant Superintendent Morris C. James led a group of older members of the department, while C. A. Harwell, principal of the Emerson school, directed the activities of younger workers.

Site For Synagogue Declared Unsuitable

ALAMEDA, June 7. — The application of Joseph Ferr to build a synagogue for the Jewish residents of Alameda at Oak street and Lincoln avenue was denied by the city council last night. The refusal of official sanction was based upon the fact that the lot upon which it was proposed to build was too small for the purpose. The building would have occupied the entire frontage and would have shut off the view of the approaching trains from automobile drivers coming along Oak street. The opposition to the construction of the temple was led by B. Mathebac.

The Shell Oil Company was given permission to build an oil supply station at the southeast corner of Oak street and Santa Clara avenue.

Council Commends Veteran Policeman

ALAMEDA, June 7. — Charles E. Keyes, retired Alameda police officer, was honored by the city council last night when that body adopted a resolution commending Keyes for his long service and devotion to duty. Keyes retired from the force June 1 after having served the city for more than 30 years. He joined in 1892, when the force consisted of nine men. During the 30 years' service he has had a number of close calls to death. He was shot twice. Keyes is a candidate for constable at the coming election.

Revelers Entertain In Teachers' Honor

PLEASANTON, June 7.—Members of the faculty of the Pleasanton school and their friends were guests of honor at a farewell party given last night by the Revelers' club in the club's hall here. Over 75 couples were present. Dancing was the entertainment arranged by a committee headed by Sydney C Hansen, president of the club, and Miss Elsie Trimingham.

The party last night was in honor of the school teachers, several of whom will leave Pleasanton this year.

HURST FUNERAL HELD.

WALNUT CREEK, June 7.—Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon for the late H. C. Hurst, pioneer San Ramon valley resident, who died at his home Saturday evening. Hurst was 89 years old and a native of West Virginia. Following services here the body was taken to Oakland for cremation at the Oakland crematory. Hurst resided in the valley for nearly 30 years and was a merchant. He was well known throughout the county. He is survived by one son, Harry Hurst of San Ramon, and a grandson, Roland Gass of Oakland.

BERKELEY WANTS ARTISTIC DESIGNS IN OIL STATIONS

Standard Plans Called Dog Houses and Permits Are Denied.

BERKELEY, June 7.—Gasoline stations in the form of "exaggerated dog houses" are not to be tolerated in Berkeley.

Four representatives of the Standard Oil Company present at yesterday's council meeting to urge that a permit be granted for a new station at the northeast corner of Berkeley way and Shattuck avenue discovered this fact when Carol Aronovici, city planning expert, frowned in disapproval on the request.

Residents of the district, headed by Mrs. J. C. Martin, 2106 Hearst avenue, also were present to raise their voices in protest. The latter objected to oil stations in general while Aronovici's complaint was merely against the "inartistic and ugly" red, white and blue structures erected by the Standard Oil Company. The fact that the stations were patriotically painted did not help them artistically, averred Aronovici. Neither, he said, did it take away the appearance of exaggerated "dog houses" afforded by the stations.

"Other companies are mingling art with utility; why can't the Standard Oil do likewise?" demanded Aronovici.

Members of the city council upheld the artistic views of the city planning expert and until the Standard Oil shows plans for a more acceptable structure no permits will be issued for two stations for which the company now is applying in Berkeley.

BERKELEY BOARD WILL TILT PAY OF POLICE, FIREMEN

BERKELEY, June 7.—With the council unanimous as to the need for more remuneration in the two departments, an increase in salary is in sight for Berkeley policemen and firemen, beginning July 1.

Councilman Carl Bartlett, commissioner of finance and revenue, in submitting a budget to the council for the coming year, included a boost of $10 monthly for each member of the two departments excepting the chiefs. Other members of the council are known to favor the increase if funds are found to be available.

Following the lead of the budget committee of the Affiliated Berkeley Clubs, headed by Major J. D. Galloway, Councilman Bartlett urged that savings be effected by abolishing the office of secretary to the mayor and by consolidating work in other departments.

Of the need of increasing the pay of policemen, Bartlett says:

"I have allowed in this budget for $10 per month increase in salaries for all below the chief. The need for this is evident, and Berkeley should recognize the caliber of its police personnel by placing them a little nearer the standard pay for such services elsewhere."

Concerning the fire department, the councilman said:

"I feel that we should increase the pay of the men $10 per month rather than add more men at this time. As the men are subject to call while off duty and frequently ruin a new uniform on such duty, the additional allowance would not be out of place."

Councilman Tilden Mediator in Dispute

ALAMEDA, June 7. — Major C. L. Tilden, councilman, acted as conciliator between Peter Martinoni and Mrs. M. Hazzard last night and gained considerable applause. The latter desired to open a kindergarten at 1724 Santa Clara avenue. Martinoni lives next door and he objected. Mrs. Hazzard applied to the city council two months ago but her opponent secured a petition and the council refused the permission. She appeared before the officials again last night and this time she had the petition, which included nearly all the names of those who had signed the former petition. In addition she also had a number of speakers on her behalf, including Gerald Beaumont, writer, and Mrs. Mary Burke and Mrs. Harry Tenny of the Alameda Housewives' League.

The matter was almost at a deadlock when Major Tilden got the two aside for a long and low whispered conversation. The rest of the council failed to hear what was said, but at the conclusion and amid the handclapping of the audience the two shook hands and Tilden made a motion that the permission of the council be granted Mrs. Hazzard. It went through without opposition.

Mrs. Hazzard is opening a kinderten to care for children between the ages of " and 5 years. The Montesorri system is to be used.

Legion Post Plans To Plant Shade Trees

PLEASANTON, June 7.—Members of Pleasanton Post, American Legion, will consider plans to plant lines of trees from the city limits to the cemetery as a memorial to the Pleasanton war veteran dead, it was announced today by Post Commander Arthur Hanson. The proposition will be discussed at the next meeting of the post. The idea of the tree planting was first advanced followed the exercises and pilgrimage to the cemetery Decoration Day.

CLUBWOMEN HOSTS.

PLEASANTON, June 7.—Members of the Pleasanton Women's Improvement club will be hostesses tonight at a benefit card party to be held in the club's rooms in the city hall. An excellent program for the entertainment of guests has been arranged by the club members, according to Miss Isabel Silva, who has been active in arranging for the party.

SAN LEANDRO

OPERETTA WILL BE FEATURED AT GRADUATION

SAN LEANDRO, June 7.—Forty-four members of the graduating class of the Lincoln school of this city will receive their diplomas tonight at the school auditorium. In conjunction with the graduating services, an operetta, "The Isle of Chance," will be presented by pupils of the class, under the direction of Miss Mildred Herrmann.

Preceding the services and operetta, Chas. L. McInerey, grand director of the Native Sons of this state, will present two alter flags to the class, gifts of the local organization. A delegation of Native Sons of San Leandro will be present.

The cast for the "Isle of Chance" includes: Manuel Andrade, James Dalziel, Helen Schmidt, Dorothy Davies, Gladys Chrysostomo, Herbert Rollins, Frank Barton, Tony Bernard, Josephine Moschella, Jean Michael, Hubert Divilbiss, William Frost, Roy Gomes, Amelia Bandoni, Doris Mosey, Ramona Homes, Dorothy Marshall, Vera Perillo, Dora Perilla, Alaide Martinelli, Freda Rudd, Violet Wold, Alice Perry, Hazel Gomes, Georgia Young, Helen Burger, Althea Ferry, Lydia Quadros, Clarence Granger, Clarence Costa, Robert Ogden, Edward Canney, Geo. Bowen, Howard Faulkner, Gertrude Byers, Lydia Quadros.

Other numbers on the program are band selections by the school band, Chas. C. Way, director; presentation of graduating class, W. O. Davies, supervising principal; remarks, C. A. Jeffery, clerk of the school board; presentation of flags to Lincoln school, Chas. L. McInerey, grand director N. S. G. W.; presentation of class gift to Lincoln school, James Dalziel, class president; presentation of diplomas, C. A. Jeffery; talk to class, County Superintendent D. E. Martin; reading of class prophecy, Robert Ogden.

Odd Fellows to Hold Memorial Services

SAN LEANDRO, June 7.—An invitation to members to attend district memorial services at Oakland next Tuesday night was read at the semi-monthly meeting of the Odd Fellows of this city last night at I. O. O. F. hall. The invitation will be accepted by a large number of the members.

Native Sons, Estudillo parlor, met last night at Masonic hall. Spanish War Veterans met at the city hall.

Explosion Victim Is Buried By Elks

SAN LEANDRO, June 7.—Funeral services for Henry D. Meyers, who was killed Monday in the explosion at the Trojan Powder Works, near San Lorenzo, were held this afternoon at the offices of H. W. Seramur, deputy coroner. A delegation of Alameda Elks, of which lodge Meyers had been a member for six months, attended the funeral, and participated in impressive services. Interment was at Cypress Lawn cemetery, San Francisco.

Two Autos Wrecked, Boys Are Arrested

TURLOCK, June 7.—A carload of exuberant youths returning from a dance late on Saturday night attempted to pass the high-powered machine of Joe Fernandes on the highway just south of Turlock on the wrong side with the result that the two autos were a mass of wreckage a few minutes afterward. The extraordinary thing about the accident was that no one was hurt. The youths are said to have been traveling at a good rate, and after they hit the other machine they shot up the highway for some 200 feet and then suddenly swerved off the road and pulled up against a fence, with the machine half buried in the sand. Had the fence been made of anything but wire there might have been fatalities to report. Four of the lads were catapulted out of the machine. The car that was struck also veered off the road and finished up in the same manner. The seven lads were later before the court and were fined $10 each for drunkenness. The driver, also a minor, is in the hands of the probation officer at Modesto.

JUDGE SUBSTITUTES

SAN LEANDRO, June 7.—Judge W. J. Gannon of this city sat for Judge E. J. Tyrrell at the Oakland police court yesterday morning.

Cherries Are Sought For Shrine Presents

SAN LEANDRO, June 7.—Request was made before a gathering of local Shriners, headed by Farley Granger, by G. A. Bahler and L. R. Bishop of the Aahmes Temple, Oakland, for the delivery of one and a half tons of choice, prepared black cherries. The cherries are for distribution at a well known San Francisco hotel next Tuesday. The fruit will be placed in small, one-half pound boxes. Approximately 3500 boxes will be necessary.

Immediate canvass of the cherry orchards in this vicinity will be made to determine the location of the most choice fruit and make arrangement for delivery. The containers have already been ordered.

I. D. E. S. to Repeat Affair in Lodge

SAN LEANDRO, June 7.—In view of the unprecedented success of the I. D. E. S. celebration held in this city June 3, 4 and 5, officials of the local organization will hold a miniature repetition of the affair next Sunday afternoon at the lodge headquarters on Alvarado street. Following music and festivities in the morning and early afternoon, a dance will be held. A second dance is being considered for the evening. Officers for the ensuing term will be elected by the I. D. E. S. this week.

RECEPTION FOR TEACHERS.

SAN LEANDRO, June 7.—A farewell reception to teachers of the San Leandro schools will be held at the Lincoln school cafeteria Friday noon. Miss Dorothy Seaton is in charge of the affair, and besides the luncheon, has arranged for an accompanying entertainment program. Approximately 36 teachers will attend the farewell affair.

L. R. BISHOP TO SPEAK.

SAN LEANDRO, June 7.—San Leandro business men will meet at the monthly combined meeting and luncheon tomorrow noon at the Estudillo House. Following a discussion of business on hand, L. R. Bishop, Oakland rate man, will speak on rates and their relativity and effect on the community. J. E. Zundel will act as toastmaster of the occasion.

Fined for Parking Auto at Hydrant

BERKELEY, June 7.—Burnham C. Spear, salesman and son of Charles H. Spear, former head of the State Harbor Commission, was fined $2 this morning by Judge Edgar for parking his automobile in front of a fire hydrant. Spear was arrested yesterday at Addison street and Shattuck avenue by Officer Frank Waterbury.

J. H. Hottel, musician, of 2428 Boner street, lost his operator's license for 30 days when he entered a plea of guilty to speeding.

Lodge Will Put On "Ridiculous Party"

RICHMOND, June 7.—A "ridiculous" party will be given by Liberty Homestead next Friday evening in Moose hall. Members are urged to dress in ridiculous costumes, prizes to be given to the most ridiculous appearance.

Liberty Yeomen will hold a whist party tomorrow evening at the home of Miss Vivian LaSalle, 153 Third street. Refreshments will be served.

Burglars Steal Radio Apparatus

ALAMEDA, June 7.—The basement of the home of B. Evans, 1708 Eagle avenue, was entered last night and radio apparatus valued at $20 was stolen.

Mrs. R. E. Scully, 1410 Broadway, notified the police that someone had entered her back yard yesterday afternoon and had stolen a velocipede.

BROOKHART WINS DECISIVELY IN SENATE RACE

Victory in Iowa Causes Much Comment in Nation's Capital.

DES MOINES, Ia., June 7.—The senatorial primary vote in 2262 precincts out of the 2348 in the state, tabulated this morning stood: Brookhart, 130,196; Pickett, 50,370; Thorne, 50,277; Francis, 30,168; Sweet, 35,414; Stanley, 12,682.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., June 7.—Nearly complete returns today indicate that Senator Park Trammell, junior senator from Florida, has won the senatorial primary over his opponent, ex-Governor Albert W. Gilchrist, by about 2 to 1.

COMMENT AT CAPITAL.

WASHINGTON, June 7 (By the Associated Press).—Republican organization support for Smith W. Brookhart, nominated as the Republican candidate for United States Senator in Monday's primary in Iowa, was pledged in a statement issued today by Senator McCormick of Illinois, chairman of the Republican senatorial campaign committee.

Nomination by Iowa Republicans of Brookhart as the party candidate for United States Senator was declared by Chairman Hull of the Democratic national committee, in a statement issued today, to be "even a more emphatic repudiation of the Harding administration and the Republican congress than the vote for Beveridge in Indiana and Pinchot in Pennsylvania."

DEMOCRATIC VIEW.

The Democratic chairman's statement added that "Colonel Brookhart stood for definite policies to which the administration especially is opposed, while the votes for Beveridge and Pinchot were largely votes of protest."

"President Harding declared the Esch-Cummins act to be the greatest piece of railroad legislation ever passed," the statement declared, "and Colonel Brookhart ran on a platform pledge to repeal that act. His platform was not only progressive but progressive in some features to the point of radicalism, including endorsement of the agricultural bloc, denounced by Mr. Harding; cooperative buying and selling, closer union of farm and city laborers, control of the federal reserve board by producers and a government ownership of railroads."

KENYON PLEASED.

FORT DODGE, Ia., June 7.—Rejoicing in the Progressive victory in Iowa, and praising Brookhart, who was overwhelmingly nominated for the Senate seat he recently vacated, Federal Judge W. S. Kenyon today issued an exclusive statement to the United Press, as follows:

"I rejoice that Brookhart is to be in the Senate and know he will help in the fight to keep this a government of the people. I know, also, that he will not be captured by the social lobby of Washington and that no influence will ever draw him away from the people's cause."

Deputy Rounds Up Quorum At Meeting

BERKELEY, June 7.—It took a deputy sheriff to get a quorum of members at yesterday's meeting of the board of education.

President W. B. Herms and Mrs. Ida Blochman appeared on schedule time. Mrs. Carrie Gibbs was out of the city on a vacation and nothing was heard from Directors Carl Bartlett and Lester Hink. The board rooms were filled with persons interested in the opening of bids for school work.

At 4:45 o'clock A. R. Calhoun, attendance officer in the school department, who also boasts a deputy sheriff's appointment, was sent out to find a third director so the meeting might start. In five minutes Calhoun came back with Hink. Bartlett made his appearance five minutes later.

For those who dance and those who don't

Some like a fox-trot. To others a waltz is still the best. Even the one-step has its followers — and some don't like to dance at all.

What a difference when it comes to drinking Clicquot Club Ginger Ale! They all like it.

Who shall describe the taste of it? The only true description of Clicquot Club is—a drink of Clicquot Club.

Clicquot is made with pure spring water. Only real Jamaica ginger is used. The other ingredients—sugar and fruit juices—are just as pure as can be found.

Buy it by the case for the home. Should you desire variety, in addition to Ginger Ale, we make Sarsaparilla, Birch Beer, and Root Beer.

WESTERN AMATEUR BOXING TOURNAMENT STARTS TONIGHT

KILBANE, WILSON MUST SIGN FOR BOUT BY JUNE 20, OR COMMISSION WILL BAR THEM

AMATEUR CHAMPIONS HOLD HIT CARNIVAL BEGINNING TONIGHT

Oakland Auditorium Will Be the Scene of Fistic Battles; Stars of Nation Compete.

Fight fans who will attend the Far Western Amateur Boxing championships which will be held in the Oakland Auditorium tonight and tomorrow, not only will see the best men in each class that the nation affords, but they are practically assured of seeing every last man who enters the ring box as if a purse of the Kearns-Dempsey proportions was in the balance instead of a modest bit of metal in the shape of a medal. It is the fact that "sport for sport's sake" is at the bottom of all the competitions tonight and tomorrow which will make them so worth while.

There are eight weight divisions in the United States in which, annually, some man is proclaimed the champon. Six of these title holders will appear in the ring. Five men are from the east, and one, John Wilmans, heavyweight champion, is a San Franciscan. That leaves two champions to be accounted for. Both of these men have turned professional since they acquired the amateur honors in Boston and are automatically eliminated. In their stead are the two men whom they defeated for the title. In other words, the next best man is on hand. In the heavyweight division, there will not only be Wilmans, the best man, but Mircle, the next best man, who the judges decided had lost the bout to Wilmans. Muncie has taken the 3000-mile trip from New York because he was able to persuade the Amateur Athletic Union officials that he was entitled to another contest with the Pacific Coast boy.

Tournament Looks Like East vs. West.

No tournament ever held on the Pacific Coast ever had so much flavor of an East versus West affair. It is dollars to doughnuts that on the results of these bouts an estimate of the relative ability of eastern and western amateur boxers will be judged. The East is sending the very best that it has to offer. The same may be said of the Pacific Coast. At this time of the year temperatures have little effect on the athlete. The climate of New York and Pittsburg is practically the same as that of the bay cities just at this particular time. What difference there is will favor the Easterner rather than work against him, for it probably is cooler here and should add zest to the athlete.

Willie Ritchie Is to Referee.

The choice of Willie Ritchie, former world lightweight professional champion, as referee, in the absence of the regular local referee. Willie is one of the men who upheld the best traditions of the sport as long as he was in it. No cleaner or more earnest fighter ever joined the professional ranks. It canont be anything but an incentive to the youngsters who are to do battle to be working under his expert and critical eye. It is bound to make every contestant do just a mite better than he otherwise might do.

All in all the Far Western championships this year should be very much worth seeing. Only unusual circumstances will again bring together the galaxy of amateur stars that today are in Oakland. There are good, bad and indifferent amateur boxers to be seen at all times. Only once in a decade is it possible to muster every man who has attached to him a champion title.

Entries For Far Western Tourney

Following are the entries in the various weights:

GOSSIP from the JUNGLES

Cecil Williams and Hubie Ingram, TRIBUNE leaguers, left last week for Fortuna to play ball. Bill Lawson, another TRIBUNE boy, is running the team, and has a fine collection of ball tossers. Cecil and Hubie should add a lot of strength to the country nine. They have been doing some good work round the bay this season. Scotty, Lawson, Hubie Ingram and Williams all played with the Clement Drugs in the league.

Joe Rodgers, former Oaklander, is going great guns for the Huntington team, holding down the third sack. His hitting is better than ever, while his fielding has always been good. The former TRIBUNE leaguer is playing alongside of a lot of leaguers. Some of the boys are: Pete Dubar of the Western league; Bill Dunkle of the Pirates; Tuffy Tyrrell, Gus Schneider, and Earl Ehri. Garret, Jones and Rodgers are the only boys who have not had a tryout in faster company.

George Barron, leader of Oakland Natives, thinks he has the best balanced club in the bushes. George has a good bunch of boys playing for him. Jack Wade is doing most of the hurling and the tall righthander is getting by with the job in first class style. Manager Barron hopes to land some good country games for his flock of ball tossers.

The Vallejo Giants, who have won the majority of their games at Beach Park, Vallejo, are open to meet some of the best clubs around the bay. The Vallepo boys have lost Beach Park, which is being used by a league, so want to come to Oakland for games. Any club desiring to bring the colored lads to this town can write to S. Scott, 138 Caroline St., Vallejo.

Del Webb, who pitched for the Fruitvale Natives in the TRIBUNE league, returned home last week from Merced where he has been playing ball. Del did some fine work for the Merced club. He will hook up with some club around the bay for the summer.

GIANTS RAISE FLAG TODAY.

The postponed ceremonies attending the raising of the National League pennant by the Giants at New York were scheduled to take place today, together with the opening of the series with the Cubs.

San Rafael Holds Bench Show Sunday

The San Rafael Kennel Club holds its second annual kennel show at the Hotel San Rafael Sunday, and the bench show committee, of which A. X. Decourtieux is chairman, has made elaborate arrangements for the occasion.

Irving C. Ackerman and Walter W. Stettheimer, two of the leading fox terriers fanciers on the Pacific coast, will exhibit their prize terriers, as will Blaine McGowan and others. Mrs. Norwood B. Smith of Palo Alto, is showing five imported Irish wolf hounds, and a grace of St. Bernard dogs. Mrs. E. F. Brown and Mrs. E. C. Rand, prominent Northern California collie fanciers, will exhibit a number of prizewinners. Practically all of the more popular breeds will have a goodly number of blue-bloods on display.

The judges are Charles G. Gilbert, Robert Nolan and Dan Shuttelworth. Among those in charge of the show are A. X. Decourtieux, W. H. Colverd, Gus Schlosser, W. J. Moffett, W. T. Osborne, Paul Lovelan and others.

McWeeney on Way Here to Join Seals

Douglas McWeeney, the White Sox pitcher, who was ordered to join the San Francisco club as part payment for Willie Kamm, left last night with his bride to join the Seals. McWeeney was said to have jumped to a semi-professional organization in Chicago, but did not participate in a game he was scheduled to pitch last Sunday.

L. A. Gun Club to Have New Clubhouse

LOS ANGELES, June 7.—At a meeting of the directors of the Los Angeles Gun club held Monday night it was unanimously voted to appropriate $25,000 for the construction of a new clubhouse and trapshooting grounds at Griffith park. The organization in the future will be known as the Los Angeles Trapshooters' Association, it was announced.

Joe Kirkwood Will Take Position in U. S.

Joe Kirkwood, the Australian open golf champion, has decided to accept a high salaried position with a golf club in the United States, says a despatch from Sydney, Australia, to the London Evening News today. Before taking up his post, however, he hopes to make a world exhibition tour in company with Walter Hager, former American open champion.

Glenna Collett in Lead in Golf Play

RYE, N. Y., June 7.—Miss Glenna Collett, youthful Providence, R. I., star, leading her nearest opponent by a margin of nine strokes, apparently had a clear road to victory today at the start of the final round of 18 holes for the women's eastern golf championship on the links of the Westchester-Biltmore Country Club.

Miss Collett turned in a card of 80 for the 18 holes yesterday and was far in the lead with a score of 161.

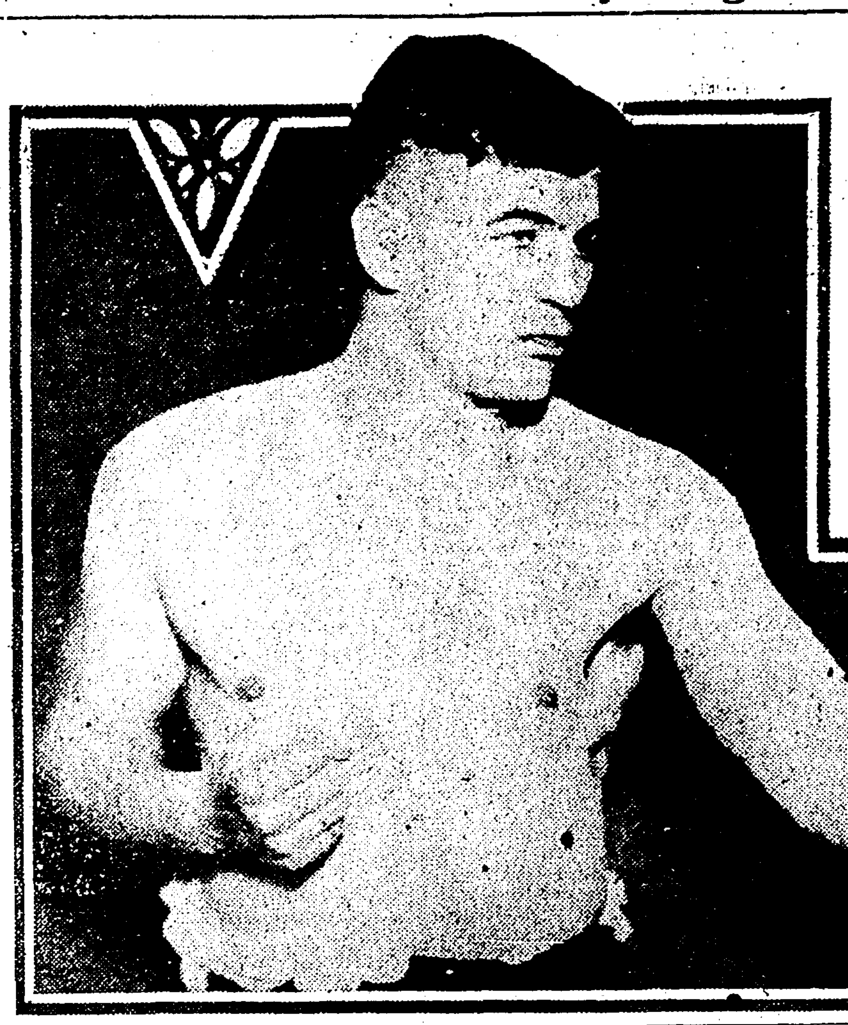

ETON POLOISTS WIN.

LONDON, June 7.—The Eton polo players yesterday had a walkover in the first round of the open cup competition at Ranleigh, owing to the Argentines having defaulted because their ponies are overworked.

COLLEGE BASEBALL.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., June 7.—Purdue 8, Indiana 4.

Seeks Amateur Heavyweight Championship

This is GORDON MUNCIE, former amateur heavyweight boxing champion, who is here from New York in hope of again becoming the champ. He will be seen in action tonight at the Oakland Auditorium when the first bouts of the Far Western A. A. U. bouts are staged. He represents the Pastime Athletic Club of New York.

Belmont Race Has Star List Of Turf World

Snob II, Pillory Favorites; Morvich Not Entered in Lists.

NEW YORK, June 7.—All the real horse races are not run in Kentucky, nor are all the thoroughbred breeding stables built on plots surrounded by wild growths of blue grass.

Eastern horsemen will strive to demonstrate this on Saturday, when the Belmont stakes, a genuine test for three-year-olds, is lifted out of its ivy-grown niche in racing's collection of classics for its fifty-fourth showing over the beautified track at Belmont Park. This event is important because it is a $50,000 gallop, and because it is over a mile and three furlongs.

What makes it of surpassing interest this year is the entry of Snob II, the only three-year-old under colors which veteran appraisers of horseflesh have pronounced a rival of Morvich, winner of the Kentucky derby.

Morvich was not nominated for the Belmont before the books closed November 20, 1920, but at least a score have been pointed to go to the post.

Snob II has been a favorite for the Belmont for some days past, and because of the promise of Fred Burlew Morvich's trainer, that the horse will meet Snob II at Aqueduct in the Carleton on June 17, J. S. Cosden's horse will hold the spotlight at Belmont Park this week end.

Like Morvich before he went the mile and a quarter at Louisville, Snob II has won his sprints under restraints. Pillory, which won the Preakness at Pimlico the same day Morvich triumphed, will probably be at the barrier with Snob II.

Besides Pillory, there likely will be Hea and Relay, two worthy steeds, and a band of lesser mounts, any of which may come from behind the curtain of obscurity to win. The race this year will lack the color of two years ago, when Man o' War defeated Donnacona and established a record for both the distance and the stakes by finishing in 2:14 1-5, with Clarence Kummer in the saddle. Spectacular as was that contest, it was dimmed by a small field which, it now appears, will not cause the Belmont to suffer this time.

Farrell Fails to Show; Colima Wins

LOS ANGELES, June 7. — When Marty Farrell of New York failed to show up for the main event at Vernon Arena last night to meet Young George of Vernon, Bert Colima of Whittier was imported for the occasion. The first round went to George, but he hit the floor twice in the second when Colima reached him with a right to the jaw and a left to the stomach. Colima received the decision. Both are middleweights.

The best fight of the night was a match between "Red" Dolan, New Orleans, and Bobby Ertle of Oakland, featherweights. Ertle took the first knockout of his fighting career when Dolan landed a terrific right to his stomach in the third round.

Mrs. Noon Defeats Mrs. Earle in South

LOS ANGELES, June 7.—Mrs. P. S. Noon of Chicago, medalist in the woman's city golf championship being staged on the municipal course at Griffith park, advanced a notch toward the title again yesterday when she eliminated Mrs. H. C. Earle of Los Angeles, 1 up at the 19th hole, in the first round of match play of the tourney.

Mrs. Elizabeth Rowe, present champion, won her match with Mrs. Mayme Cartwright, 2 up to 1 to go.

Mrs. Noon and Mrs. Rowe were to go out together in today's round of match play.

Southern Golfers Meet in Tournament

ATLANTA, Ga., June 7. — Willie Damon of the Montgomery country club left the field last night at the end of the first 36 holes of the Georgia-Alabama professional golfers' association golf tournament, which was opened here yesterday. Damon played consistent golf and turned in a 70 on the first 18 and a 75 on the second.

A downpour of rain late yesterday promised to make the going slow in the final 36 holes today.

CHESS MATCH IS UNDER WAY VIA WIRELESS

NEW YORK, June 7.—When business interferes with pleasure then Edward Lasker, American amateur chess champion, suggests wireless.

He made the suggestion last week to his friend, E. T. Gundlach, a chess enthusiast. Yesterday it was carried out.

Gundlach and the champion were preparing to engage in a match that business meetings had long postponed. When the former received word that he was wanted in London at once, as they put the pieces away, disappointment prompted the champion to suggest wireless, and on the spur of the moment arrangements were made.

Gundlach sailed on the President Taft last Saturday, and yesterday the long postponed match was begun by wireless. Mr. Gundlach's moves were sent in by wireless to the office of the United States lines here, are decoded and then wired to Lasker in Chicago. The champion's moves are received by wire here and then coded for wireless transmission to the President Taft. Twenty-six moves were made by both players in the first day of play, Gundlach playing white and Lasker black. A black knight was moved in danger of a pawn in one of the closing plays of the day, but experts here believe there is some subtle reason for this move on the part of the business man.

Capitola Will Be Scene of Big Meet

James Thurman, chairman of the championship committee of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States, announced the first three Pacific Association senior distance swimming championships for women to be held at Capitola-by-the-Sea on July 2. They are the women's half mile swim, quarter-mile swim, and 100 yards backstroke.

Forty women swimmers from every part of California will be invited to race in these championship events.

Swimming fans favor three girls to win the majority of honors in the races, Eleanor O'Brien of Oakland, Florence Freisenhausen and Olga Chapital of San Francisco.

However, there are the following girls who may figure in the races: Harriett Roberts of Oakland, Ella Stringham and Hilda Curtis, of Alameda, Bernice Denny and Della Seeley of Modesto, and Eva Callaghan of Sacramento.

The races will be held in the 220-yard straightway fresh water course in Soquel Creek.

Seattle Welters Fight to a Draw

SEATTLE, Wash., June 7. — At the end of a hot session between Travie Davis and Bobby Harper, welterweights, who put on the four round main event at a boxing show here last night, the referee raised the hands of both, indicating a draw. Both fighters fought furiously from start to finish and kept one of the largest crowds of the season on its toes throughout the match. In the semi-windup Jimmy Rivers, Tacoma lightweight, won a verdict over Muff Bronson of Portland. Pat Williams, Seattle lightweight, won a decision over Joe Nestman of Vancouver in a special event.

Gonzaga Hurler Is Signed By Chicago

SPOKANE, June 7. — Cecil J. Downs, a pitcher on the Gonzaga University team last season and at present playing with a local semi-pro organization, will leave Friday to report to Manager Gleason of the Chicago White Sox, it became known today. Downs is a right-handed hurler.

'Strangler' Is Ready For Caddock Match

BOSTON, Mass., June 7.—"Strangler" Ed Lewis, world's heavyweight wrestling champion, and Earl Caddock, former title-holder, are fit for their bout here tonight. They will wrestle best two falls out of three, catch-as-catch-can style, pin falls only to count, and American rules to govern.

S. Harrison Thomson Princeton Captain

PRINCETON, N. J., June 7.—S. Harrison Thomson, of Los Angeles, Calif., a junior, last night was elected captain of Princeton's 1923 track team.

Illini Balks, Not to Enter Chicago Meet

Coach Gill Withdraws Team When Ten-Man Limit Is Fixed.

CHICAGO, June 7.—The University of Illinois, winners of the Western Conference track and field games for the last three years, will not be an entrant in the second annual national collegiate A. A. A. meet at Stagg field June 16 and 17, according to Harry Gill, coach of the Illinois track team.

Rules limiting teams in the national meet to ten men and objections to the scorng system were advanced by Coach Gill as reasons for staying out of the meet.

The fact that 13 members of the Illinois track team are seniors occupied with commencement activ ties and the long period of training which the entire team has gone through were given as additional reasons by Illinois officials for remaining out.

Elimination of Illinois came as a distinct surprise and was regretted by followers of college sports because it means the absence of one of the expected features of the meet—a duel between Illinois and California. These two teams were regarded by most authorities as the strongest contenders for national championship. The 1922 meet gave evidence of being the greatest gathering of college track stars ever assembled.

George Huff, director of athletics at Illinois, said whatever action Coach Gill took would be final.

A. A. Stagg, athletic director at the University of Chicago, when informed of Gill's action, said the question of limitng teams was put up to different coaches during the Pennsylvania relay games and that it was the consensus of the coaches that a limitation should be made because teams traveling long distances could not be expected to bring as many athletes as schools closer to Chicago.

Greatest Harness Racing Meet Booked At Golden Gate Park

The greatest harness raving meet ever seen in San Francisco during the last two seasons will be presented the fans one week from today when the San Francisco Driving Club stages its program in honor of the Shriners at the Golden Gate Park Stadium. Thirty owners have already entered their horses in the three events which will include the fastest tratters and pacers in the State of California. For instance there are such noted tratters and pacers as Boretta Dee, Ethel Mack, Vevo Hal, Leanor, Kitty Dillon, John Dillon and San Felipe.

The purpose of the meteing of the San Francisco Driving Club at the Western Horse Market, 297 Valencia street, this evening will be to classify the entries fo rthe free-for-all pace, the free-for all trot and the 2:20 mixed race. The number of starters in the two free-for-all events remains open until the horses face the starter; while those in the mixedrace will close this evening. In fact, all owners must present the names of their trotters and pacers before the classifying committee not later than 9 o'clock.

From the preesnt outlook there will not be any harness races at the Stadium Sunday on account of next Tuesday's Shrine program. This, however, will be officially decided by the members of the San Francisco Driving Club this evening.

Desch Is Elected Notre Dame Captain

SOUTH BEND, Ind., June 7.—August Desch of Newark, N. J., was elected captain of the 1923 track team at the University of Notre Dame yesterday. Desch is also president of the junior class.

AMES ENDS SEASON.

AMES, Iowa, June 7.—Iowa State college closed its baseball season here yesterday when it defeated Minnesota University by the score of 6 to 1. Runkle, Cyclone second baseman, hit two home runs.

BOROTRA BEATS DEUGIS.

PARIS, June 7.—In the semi-final round of the French singles tennis championship yesterday M. Borotra, former covered court champion, defeated Max Deugis, 7-5, 3-6, 7-5, 7-5.

Bob Barrett's Claim of Foul Not Allowed

Tendler Has Best of Go From First Gong Until Deciding Wallop.

PHILADELPHIA, June 7.—Bobby Barrett, who was knocked out in the sixthe round by Lew Tendler at the Phillies ball park last night, lies today in a local hotel suffering from paralysis as the result of the left to the body which ended the fight. His right leg is affected.

PHILADELPHIA, June 7.—Lew Tendler, of Philadelphia today was more firmly established as formal contender for the crown of Benny Leonard, who returned lightweight boxing champion, as a result of the knockout he scored last night over Bobby Barrett, of Clifton Heights, Pa.

The final blow came at the end of the sixth round, the referee having counted only nine when the bell ended the round. Five minutes elapsed before Barrett was able to be assisted from the ring.

Maintain that the blow had been low, despite the referee's decision otherwise, Barrett's father and a number of other spectators jumped into the ring. Twenty policemen rushed in and prevented trouble. A physician who examined Barrett in the ring declared no fowl blow had been struck.

James F. Dougherty, manager for Barrett, took Barrett to a hotel for examination by another physician who Dougherty said expressed the belief that Barrett had been hit on the groin. Dougherty declared the blow that put Barrett out was a foul and that as a result his right leg was paralyzed.

Tendler said he would start training in a few days for his twelve-round bout with Leonard at Jersey City, July 20.

It was a ripping left-hand swing that caught Barrett full on the solar plexus. He dropped to the mat, writing with pain, and at the count of ten, when the bell rang, his second jumped into the ring to revive him. Many persons in the crowd believed the blow was low but Referee Herman Taylor declared it was not. In order to keep the crowd out of the ring, where Barrett was being given a hasty medical examination, a cordon of police was thrown around the prostrate boxer. After the police had restored order, Barrett was assisted to his dressing room. He was not badly hurt.

From the beginning until the finishing blow, Tendler showed that he was the master. Although both boxers were said to have weighed in at 137½ ringside, Barrett appeared to be lighter and was more immature than his opponent.

Barrett repeatedly attempted to get in a knockout with wild left swings, but Tendler was too clever. He hit Tendler a few times, but the blows, although seeming to have great power, had no effect.

At no stage of the battle did Barrett put up an adequate defense against Tendler's rain of blows. On the other hand, Tendler's defense was almost perfect.

Hiett, Toledo Man, Del Monte Winner

DEL MONTE, Cal., June 7.—J. B. Hiett of Toledo, Ohio, won the San Francisco cup in the National Real Estate Golf Tournament here yesterday. He defeated James Donahue of Los Angeles in the finals, four up and three to go.

BOEHUE-LEROY DRAW.

FARGO, N. D., June 7.—Edgar Boehme, Milwaukee, and Russie Leroy of Fargo, fought 10 rounds to a draw last night, according to newspapermen. They are lightweights.

Kilbane Is Ordered to Box or Quit

N. Y. Commission Warns Wilson and Johnny to Sign By June 20.

NEW YORK, June 7.—The New York State Athletic Commission yesterday served notice on Johnny Kilbane, featherweight boxing champion, and Johnny Wilson, middleweight champion, that unless they sign articles by June 20 agreeing to meet challengers for their titles, the championship claims of both will be declared forfeited, so far as the jurisdiction of the state commission is concerned.

The commission stipulated that Kilbane must accept a challenge by Johnny Dundee, and that Wilson must fulfill a contract it declares he made some time ago to box Harry Greb, who recently won the light-heavyweight title by defeating Gene Tunney.

While the New York state athletic commission has no formal agreement with other boxing commissions, it was considered as likely that the Kilbane-Wilson decision will be recognized in Canada and in such states as Massachusetts, New Jersey and Ohio, where boxing authorities in previous instances have worked in harmony at the New York organization.

William Muldoon, chairman of the commission, tonight sharply criticized the "sidestepping tactics" of Kilbane and Wilson.

"The boxing game is a sport not a commercial business," he declared, "and the title in any class is only an honorary designation granted by the public. It must be defended against all challengers, regardless of money considerations and so far as this commission's jurisdiction is concerned that policy will prevail."

By HENRY L. FARRELL,
United Press Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, June 7. — In ordering Johnny Wilson and Johnny Kilbane to fight before June 20 or vacate their titles, the New York boxing commission is showing a "grand noive."

Being as Mr. Wilson and Mr. Kilbane are not residents of New York, the commission seems to be in the position of over assumption of authority.

The procedure of rocking crowns off skulls with fists is a long established one and the Old Guard will not be quick to accept a champion by proclamation.

The commission's order looks good in demanding that Wilson fight Harry Greb and Kilbane fight Johnny Dundee, but it does not plug the hole through which these two champions have been crawling.

Both the accused title holders can hold out for a long price unless the commission attempts to set a valuation on their services.

Kilbane says seriously that he is ready to fight anyone—for $100,000. Wilson can consider himself just as fancy priced and there it looks to end.

CLEVELAND, June 7.—When told of the action of the New York Athletic Commission, Johnny Kilbane, featherweight champion, declared last night that he is willing to defend his title at the legitimate featherweight limit at any time and place, provided a suitable purse is offered.

Kilbane declared he just returned from New York today after a week's visit, during which time he had received NO offers from anyone to box.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., June 7.—Johnny Wilson, middleweight champion of the world, last night refused to make any comment on the report from New York that the New York State Athletic Commission would forfeit his title unless he fights Harry Greb within a specified time limit.

French Vote To Back Paris For Olympiad

Premier Poincare Says That Additional Funds Will Be Given.

PARIS, June 7.—(By The Associated Press.)—Premier Poincare informed the International Olympic committee today that the French parliament would vote immediately an addition six million francs for financing the Olympic games. This insures definitely the holding of the 1924 games in Paris.

Charles H. Sherrill of New York was elected today as one of the American delegates on the committee succeeding the late Bartow S. Weeks.

William Garland, Los Angeles, and American delegate, announced he would nominate Los Angeles for the games only after France had surrendered.

The French parliament had signified its intention of voting only 10,000,000 francs for the games, whereas the French Olympic committee declared at least 15,000,000 francs would be required.

Prime Minister Poincare made the communication regarding the additional appropriation today at the foreign office, where he received the members of the International Committee before the opening of their session. He indicated that the parliamentary leaders were ready to take prompt action, and that the amount probably would be voted before the end of the week.

The first business of the committee, which met under the presidency of Baron Pierre de Coubertin, was to elect Mr. Sherrill to succeed the late Judge Weeks. Thus two Americans, W. M. Garland of Los Angeles, and Mr. Sherrill, now represent the United States here, only Professor William M. Sloane of Princeton being absent.

Mr. Sherrill read a telegram from Frederick W. Rubien, secretary of the American Olympic Committee, suggesting that the international committee take action respecting the use of the words "Olympic Games," which he declared should be restricted to the games organized by the international body, held every four years.

The committee took immediate action on this subject, putting itself on record by a vote as favorable to the American idea. It will request the co-operation of all its members to see that the title in question be restricted to the quadrennial.

Boise Polo Club Wins in Northwest

BOISE, Idaho, June 7.—The Boise polo club defeated the Freebooters, an independent team, 17 to 4, in the Northwest polo tournament here yesterday. The game between the Thirteenth cavalry and Eleventh cavalry teams, scheduled for today, was postponed until Friday to await the recovery of Lieutenant S. M. Lipman of the Eleventh cavalry. Lieutenant Lipman, who was injured in a game yesterday, was reported to have suffered no injuries more serious than severe sprains.

George Nunn Wins Title in Trapshoot

DES MOINES, Ia., June 7.—George Nunn of Jefferson won the state trapshooting championship of Iowa in singles at 16 yards here yesterday when he defeated Bruce Nichols of Mason City in the shoot-off of a tie 25 to 24. At the end of the day's program the two contestants were tied with a score of 197 out of 200. To get a tie, Nunn shot his last 49 targets straight. It is his first competition in a state trapshooting tournament.

BUSHERS OWN CORNER

HAD GOOD WORKOUT.

Elmhurst Eagles took a trip to Santa Cruz Sun crossed bats with Santa Cruz Merchants, and returned with the winner's end, the final score being 20-8. Dick Arlett, on the hill for the Eagles, was the big star of the game, getting two home runs, both times with two men on. Although hit pretty hard, Arlett was never in danger. Ray Singen hit five out of six trips to the plate. Joe Smith at second base, hit two doubles. Walker started for Santa Cruz, but was relieved by Stone. Starting next Sunday, the Eagles' club name will be known as F. O. E. 1375. Score:

OAKS DEFEAT TIGERS, HELP S. F. SEALS TO TAKE LEAD

SLOAN BELIEVES CALIFORNIA ANTI-RACING LAW SHOULD BE RELAXED FOR CLEAN SPORT

ANGELS DEFEATED IN OPENING CONTEST OF SERIES WITH SEALS

Fielding Stunts By Kelly, Kilduff in Last Frame Save Bob Geary From a Beating.

By EDDIE MURPHY.

The San Francisco Seals stepped back into first place in the Pacific Coast league race yesterday by defeating the Angels 2 to 1 in one of the best games of the season at Recreation park. Bob Geary, former Cincy Red, did the heaving for the new leaders of the league and he pitched eight innings of winning baseball. But he can be thankful to Joe Kelly and Pete Kilduff, a couple of his teammates, that he did not blow the game away in the final inning. Bob's playmates each made catches to save the old ball game and keep the Angels from taking the lead in the race. And the Seals can thank Ivan Howard's Oaks for helping them to the top of the ladder, as it was necessary that the Oaks defeat the Vernon Tigers in order that the winner of the Seal-Angel game could step into the lead. The Oaks, after a disastrous week at home, roamed down to Los Angeles and put the skids under th eTigers for a 6 to 5 win, staging a ninth-inning rally that is just the kind of stuff needed to pull a team out of such a slump as the Oaks have been in.

That victory for the locals yesterday afternoon will probably turn them into a different outfit now, as they certainly were a disheartened lot when they left here last Monday night. The boys admitted playing upside-down baseball against the Seals, but also claimed that everything broke in favor of the Seals. The Oaks have a chance to get themselves in right with the home fans again. They spend two weeks on the road, playing the Tigers this week and then going to Salt Lake to play the Bees. The Oaks then come home to play five out of the following six weeks at home, spending the away-from-home week at Sacramento, playing the Senators. Cal Ewing and Del Howard have promised to bolster the ball club and hope to make a cheering announcement within a few days. They intended making one today, but things did not turn out as they looked for.

Seals Get Few Hits, But Make Them Count.

The Angel sluggers were helpless before the pitching of Bob Geary for those eight innings, while the Seals also faced some baffling hurling dished out by George Lyons. However, the Seals managed to place their hits in the proper places in the first and third innings to give them their two runs. Lyons started his nurling duties by walking Joe Kelly, who advanced on Compton's sacrifice and went to third on Kamm's out. Bert Ellison pushed a slow roller over second for a single to score Kelly.

Bob Geary must be given credit for being some hitter and driving home the winning run. In the third inning, Sam Agnew started by hitting the twenty-five dollar sign on the right field fence for a single. Bob Geary put him on third with another single, and also left him in a position to walk home when Kelly hit to right center. After that the Seals could get nowhere near the plate, although they grabbed four more hits off Lyons.

The way the Angels went after Geary in the ninth was quite a surprise. Joe Kelly did a couple of somersaults to gather in Griggs' line drive for the first out. Twombly singled, and Lindimore scored him with a triple to center. The Seal infield pulled in with the tieing run on third base, and Pete Kilduff placed himself in a position where he was just able to spear Jim McAuley's line drive between first and second. It looked like that drive would tie the score at least. Then "Red" Killefer went to bat for Lyons and he was an easy out on a roller to Willie Kamm.

Joe Kirkwood Wins in Golf Match Abroad

GLEN EAGLES, Scotland, June 7.—(By the Associated Press).—Joe Kirkwood, Australian champion, today won the qualifying prize in the thousand guineas golf tournament. His 32 today made his total 144 for the 36-hole preliminary.

Joe Kirkwood, the Australian open champion, turned in the low score—a 71—for the qualifying round of 18 holes in the One Thousand Guineas Golf Tournament which began yesterday morning.

George Duncan and James Braid, each with 73, followed Kirkwood. Jock Hutchison, who holds the title of British open champion, and who has come across seas to defend his title at Sandwich, a fortnight hence, finished high up in the list with 75. His fellow American player, Tom Blair, was still less successful, taking 89 for the course.

There was considerable disappointment yesterday afternoon when it was announced that Jim Barnes and Walter Hagen had scratched out of the tournament.

HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETICS

The fourth round of the local prep school tennis league annual tournament with University and Oakland High net men as the participants, and the final game of the O. A. L. baseball league with the nines of Fremont and Vocational highs scheduled as the warring factions, will share the sporting limelight today.

In the former contest, University is expected to conquer in four of the five matches. A well balanced team, with the possible exception of her second doubles pair, seems to assure her of victory in at least a majority of the five matches.

Vocational is expected to bow down to Fremont. The Boulevard school has made an excellent record in the league games so far, having been defeated but once by Technical. Coach Prund's Black and Orange pill-tossers have lost every league contest to date.

The tennis matches are being played on the courts of the Oakland Tennis Club at Fifth avenue and East Eleventh street and beginning at 3 o'clock. The ball game today will be back on the Bayview lot at 4 o'clock.

Today's game concludes the O. A. L. baseball schedule for the season. Only two more athletic events are to be participated in by members of the league—the final round of the tennis tournament on Monday, between Technical and Oakland and the crew races on the fourteenth of the month with Fremont and Oakland crews again competing against each other and their three adversaries from across the bay—Mission, Polytechnic and Commerce highs. This latttes event will be part of the entertainment offered the visiting Shriners.

"Babe" Ruth Finds Faber Is Too Good

"Babe" Ruth had a tough time in the first game of the Yankees' invasion of the west. Red Faber, of Chicago, struck him out twice. Another time he tapped easily to Collins and was tossed out at first. On his other chance he gave the fans a thrill as he shot a hot liner toward the rightfield bleachers, but Strunk went back against the fence and pulled it down.

INDIANS TAKE FIRST CONTEST FROM PORTLAND

SEATTLE, Wash., June 7.—With Vean Gregg, the veteran, pitching better ball than Middleton, Seattle nosed out Portland in the first game of the series here yesterday afternoon by a score of 3 to 2. The Indians scored runs in each of the first three innings after which they were unable to do anything with the delivery of Middleton or Blemiller, who relieved him. Portland counted in the fourth and seventh but could not overcome the lead.

Subpoena Issued Against Comiskey

MILWAUKEE, Wis., June 7.—A subpoena was issued for Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the Chicago American league baseball club, here yesterday, at the instance of attorneys for Oscar (Happy) Felsch, former White Sox player, who is suing the Chicago club for alleged back salary, bonus and damages resulting from his dismissal from organized baseball. It was reported by court officials that Comiskey had left his northern Wisconsin home on Monday and could not be found. Comiskey last week won a decision which prevented Felsch's attorneys from bringing him here to testify under the discovery statute.

LOS ANGELES, June 7.—Jake May, southpaw of the Vernon club of the Pacific Coast league, will be out of the game for a few days, due to a knife wound in his twirling mitt. May was mending a few leisure moments yesterday with a knife and his pet jackknife. The jackknife slipped.

Booster for California Horses

Meet TOD SLOAN, world-famous veteran jockey, who is visiting in Oakland, and who claims that California breeds the finest race horses in the country. Sloan recently returned from Tiajuana.

Famous Jockey Visiting Here, Speaks Horses

Veteran Rider Believes Morvich Is Better Horse Than Man-o'-War.

That California breeds the finest race horses in the country and that this state should relax its stringent anti-racing laws sufficiently to permit "clean" racing, are opinions voiced yesterday by Tod Sloan, world-famous jockey, who is a guest at the Hotel Oakland.

Sloan, who has won more Derby, Longchamps and American prizes than he can remember, said yesterday that Morwich, the famous horse which is winning so many prizes at present, was born and bred on the Napa property of A. B. Spreckels. In Sloan's opinion Morvich is even a greater horse than Man-o-War. Sloan states that George Wingfield, J. H. Rossiter and Anita Baldwin have all gone in for the breeding of fine race horses, which they are, however, sending East to run on courses there, owing to the stringent California laws.

Sloan has just come from Tiajuana, where he says the past 125 days of racing constituted a wonderful meet. Racing at Tiajuana and on all American courses is an absolutely clean sport these days, Sloan states, and a great many rich men are ging in for the sport. On the last day of the Tiajuana races there was an attendance over 15,000, he says.

Sloan started riding as a jockey in New Orleans in 1889, when he was 13 years old. He reached the height of his fame in the years between 1895 and 1901, when he took several Grand Prix and other prizes. He rode for the Prince of Wales, for Solly Joel, the famous South African diamond millionaire and horse fancier; for Lord Dunraven, Lord William Beresford and many others.

Sloan is en route to Nevada to inspect some of his mining properties there.

GOLF FACTS worth knowing

by INNIS BROWN

Q.—Is it permissible for a player, where his ball lies in high grass to take a practice swing to determine the resistance of the grass to the club?

A.—A practice swing is permissible under such conditions, if made more than a club length away from the ball.

Q.—In a single match on the putting green, if I putt and knock my opponent's ball further away from the cup can he replace it; also if I knock it nearer, can I compel him to replace it?

A.—Your opponent has the option of allowing his ball to stay where you knocked or replacing it.

Q.—What is the rule to cover a case where a ball strikes a spectators and lodges in some part of his clothing? Is there any penalty?

A.—The ball must be dropped as nearly possible to where the person was standing when the ball struck him. The incident is treated as a rub of the green. There is no penalty.

Q.—How many times was Miss Cecil Leitch beaten during her visit here last summer and fall and who defeated her?

A.—Miss Leitch lost two matches, the first to Mrs. F. C. Letts, Jr. in the women's championship at Hollywood, N. J. and the second to Miss Glenna Collett at the Huntington Valley Country club of Philadelphia.

Q.—Is a player allowed to lift a ball that is partially buried in soft ground on a claim that he wants to clearly identify it before playing it?

A.—A ball may be lifted under such conditions only with the consent of the opponent, and must then be carefully replaced. Of course, under W. G. A. rules a ball buried in soft mud can be lifted without penalty the same as a ball in casual water.

America Will Meet England In Model Race

International Trophy To Be At Stake in Series of Five Races.

NEW YORK, June 7.—E. A. Bull tomorrow afternoon will journey to Bayside, L. I., to defend an international trophy for model yacht racing against the challenge of William T. Daniels of London, one of the foremost European authorities on yacht building of the sea-going type.

The model yachts are really toys—costing from $750 to $1000 each. The two yachts that will compete in a series of five races for the international cup are of class B rating, built to conform to special modification of the American universal rules.

Bull's yacht is 45.5 inches on the water line and weighs 39 pounds—31 of them of lead.

Daniels' yacht is fifty inches on the water line and weighs 44 pounds, 33 of lead hanging from her keel to balance of the light hull in a stiff wind.

In a race the boats are carried to the starting point and sent off at a given time. The skippers do their skipping rowing along in a skiff to give the rudder a twist, or to pin on a spinnaker or a top sail if the wind changes.

Sixty Leading Gun Clubs in Oakland Meet

California Rifle and Pistol Association Will Conduct Shoot.

Oakland will be the scene of the largest rifle match ever held in California next Sunday, starting at 9 o'clock sharp. Sixty of the most prominent gun clubs in the state are entered. Among these will be teams from the U. S. army, navy, marines and national guard. Aside from the national matches, this will be the largest ever held in the entire United States.

Sunday's match will be conducted under the auspices of the California Rifle and Pistol Association. The main trophy will be a large cup presented by the Olympic Club. Medals will also be presented by the Olympic Club to the members of the winning team. The team winning the match three years will retain the cup as permanent property. The team having the highes tyro score will be presented with medals given by the California Rifle and Pistol Association.

Captain C. W. Linden executive officer of the association, will be general chairman of the match, assisted by Captain M. C. Mallett, California National Guard. Any information regarding the meet can be secured from them at the associaton headquarters, or from Major Leigh F. J. Zerbee, president of the association, who is at present on the range arranging the final details of the meet and shooting in the finals to determine the Coast Artillery team.

PROMINENT OFFICIALS.

Prominent officials of the army and navy will be present Sunday, among them Colonel Ira A. Haynes, commanding officer of the coast defenses of San Francisco. Colonel Haynes has placed every available facility at the command of the Coast Artillery team and is personally greatly interested in the outcome of the event.

Due to the fact that the Olympic aggregation of sharpshooters have a private indoor range to practice the offhand shots they are favored by some to take the meet by reason of there being twenty shots off hand at the 200-yard range. The Army and Navy have been in practice for several weeks in preparation for the national matches at Camp Perry, Ohio, which has them in first rate form for the rapid and slow fire at two, three and six hundred yards. This match will undoubtedly be a close fight between at least ten military and civilian teams.

Interest in shooting is steadily rising and due to the fact that there are several crack gun clubs in California this will be a great test of their accuracy. A large crowd of spectators is expected aside from those intimately connected with the clubs.

Jim Caveney Compared to Honus Wagner

John McGraw Claims Cincinnati Shortstop Is Best in Game.

By DAVID J. WALSH, International News Service Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, June 7.—John McGraw, who has seen ball clubs, and particularly shortstops, come and go since the days of the old Baltimore Orioles and Bill Dahlen, today named the Cincinnati Reds as the team that has shown the most during his recent western trip and Jimmy Caveney as the nearest approach to Honus Wagner he had ever since.

"What is the best in the west?" he repeated. "Well, the Cincinnati Reds, just as they were going when we met them. They were playing great ball, particularly Caveney and Pinelli, and they got fine pitching from Rixey, Donohue and Luque. Of course, I look to the Pirates to give us our hardest fight. They have the speed and the pitchers and this lad Traynor in the infield is a real ball player.

"But Caveney for mine. He plays shortstop just like the big Dutchman did ten years ago and the way he went against us convinced me that he is not far behind Honus.

"Some people claim Caveney doesn't cover ground like Wagner did and maybe he doesn't, but you couldn't prove it by the plays he made against us."

Of his own club, McGraw had much to say and little of it was unflattering, despite the fact that the Giants have been traveling in neutral for the past month. The boys, he said, were in a hitting slump but it would not last long.

GOLF

By W. D. McNICOLL.

The National Dental Golf Association is making elaborate preparations in connection with their annual golf tournament, which takes place over the Los Angeles Golf and Country Club course on July 17th. The Southern California Dental Golf Club, with a membership of 130, are seeing to it that their guests will have the time of their lives during their visit to the metropolis of the South.

The annual dinner takes place at the Ambassador Hotel on July 16th, when the usual Calcutta Pool preliminary will give an index to the players likely to carry off the golf prizes. Dr. Wallace Spinks, who reigns supreme down South, will find many worthy opponents, if all our local Dental Golf champions arrive in Los Angeles. Dr. C. L. Jarvis and J. H. Stineman, who have shown the best form in recent years, will have a much stronger northern team with them this year, and many of the trophies are sure to be seen later on around the Claremont, Sequoyah, Berkeley and Diablo clubs. With 28 courses located in and around Los Angeles, the visitors surely will have enough variety of golf to please the most fastidious. Twelve of the local clubs have issued cards with playing privileges over their links from the 12th to the 24th of July. The championship proper, a 36-hole medal contest, will be over the Los Angeles Country Club course on the 17th, when the numerous contenders will be grouped in classes. The As will have handicaps of 8 and under, the Bs 9 to 16, Cs 17 to 24, and the Ds, suggestive of Dubs, 25 and over. The players apparently qualify in 4-ball foursomes, as additional prizes are given to foursomes, being the best ball score over the 36 holes.

The mixed foresome event which takes place at Sequoyah next Sunday afternoon is to be filmed. Players will thus have an opportunity of seeing themselves in action.

Oakland golfers who are at present compelled to cross the bay for their municipal golf should be glad to hear that the new links at Lake Chabot are progressing favorably. Piping of the course is nearing completion, the finishing touches to the greens and bunkers are being carried out as quickly as possible, but the seeding of the greens and fairways will have to be delayed until the fall to get the best results.

Oaks Rally in Ninth, Defeat Essick's Crew

Buz Arlett Also Wins His Twelfth Game of the Season.

LOS ANGELES, June 7.—If Ivan Howard's Oaks left all their confidence at Recreation Park in San Francisco last week they failed to show any signs of it here yesterday afternoon. In the ninth inning when it looked like they were due for their eighth straight beating, and Buz Arlett would also have another defeat checked against him, the boys from Oakland staged a rally which netted them three runs and just enough to give them a 6 to 5 win. The Tigers already had four markers to their credit, and made a game try in their half of the ninth inning, but could get only one run. They died with two men on the bases. The winning run was on with only one out, but Arlett disposed of Hughie High and Chadbourne popped to Koehler. Ray Brubaker's error put the Tigers in the contest in their half of the ninth.

With one out in the ninth Cather, batting for Cooper, doubled. He scored on Willie's single. Schulte was an out, but "Frenchy" LaFayette got his third hit of the game, a double to score Willie. Bill Mariott followed that up with a single to score "Frenchy," and Bill took second on Chadbourne's fumble. Ivan Howard, who played third base, fanned. The Tigers used Schneider, Jolly and James on the hill. The score:

IF you are using 3½ inch clincher fabric tires, ask a Fisk dealer about changing your car to straight-side rims. This change will give you a chance to use the Fisk Straight-side Cord Tire—the tire of greater mileage, easier-riding, better-looking qualities. The Fisk Cord is a 6 ply Tire—50% stronger than the majority of 3½ inch Cords.

It takes more than the word "Cord" on the side-wall to make a tire a success

Cord equipment is an economy on a small car only when its construction offers in every respect the advantages found in the large sizes.

ROTARIANS TO WIDEN SCOPE OF ORGAINZATION

New Construction Provides For Granting of British Charters.

LOS ANGELES, June 7.—The second day's session of the thirteenth annual convention of International Rotary clubs here was devoted to addresses by prominent Rotarians touching many important phases of Rotary work.

One of the most important matters of the convention was disposed of yesterday when a new constitution and by-laws were adopted by a unanimous vote.

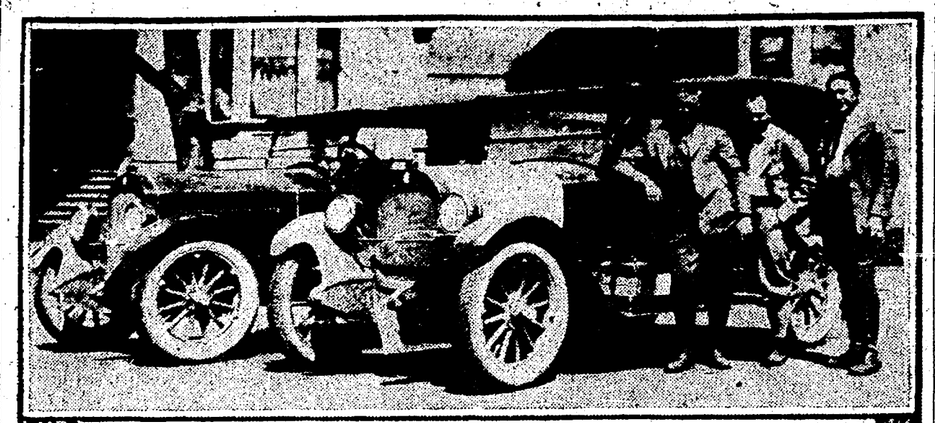

The work of the constitutional committee was outlined by Samuel Bottsford of Chicago, and a minority report signed by Frank Pryor of Council Bluffs, Iowa, was made and ordered spread upon the records. The new constitution officially created the British Association of Rotary clubs which will now have authority to issue charters for new clubs in the British Isles.

A new southwest district comprising the states of Arizona, New Mexico and that portion of western Texas occupied by the city of El Paso was formed at a meeting called by Harvey W. Parker, governor of the Colorado-New Mexico district. Heretofore Arizona has been attached to California, New Mexico to Colorado and El Paso to the Eighteenth (Texas) district. Charles Christie of Phoenix was elected governor of the new district, G. A. Martin of El Paso temporary chairman, and Oscar I. Lewis of Albuquerque secretary.

The program for tonight includes a ball given in honor of Crawford C. McCullough, international president.

TWO BANDITS ROB SOFT DRINK SHOP OWNER, PATRONS

Four Backed Up Against the Wall and Valuables Taken by Thugs.

Two armed bandits forced C. A. Williams, proprietor of a soft drink parlor at 1800 East Fourteenth street, and three patrons to walk behind the bar while one of the hold-up men took their valuables. The hold-up took place about 10:45 o'clock last night.

The robbers took $60 and a gold watch from Williams. L. G. Faira, 1609 East Fourteenth street, and Joe Silva, 1817 Forty-sixth avenue, were both relieved of their watches. Several dollars were taken from Manuel Costa, 1809 East Fifteenth street.

Costa told Police Inspectors Tom Pardee and Louis Kersch that he saw the two men riding around in a big gray automobile early in the evening.

Man Charged With Attack On Sheriff

GRASS VALLEY, June 7.—Fidel Guthi, rancher, was arrested and held in jail here today, charged with attempting to take the life of Sheriff J. R. Martin. Martin, with two deputies, sought to eject Guthi from property on which the lease had expired. Guthi, Martin charged, attempted to choke him.

HEAT SPOILS VISIT FOR CITY MAN

"Well, Tom, how's the best girl? I hear you are spending your week ends out at Walnut Creek now since Molly's mother and father moved over there."

"Sure I am, and why not? A fellow wants a little summer weather some time during the year and he surely can't get it here in the city. I'll tell you, though, I have discovered a little problem in connection with this business of week ending in a hot climate. Last Saturday I went over in my winter suit and light weight top coat as usual. And say, boy! Hot! It was something dreadful. People there were dressed for it, but I wasn't and I suffered. Molly was all dressed in frilly dresses and her mother looked cool in white skirt and waist. I see where I'm going to need a light weight suit and I had planned to get along without a new one."

"Oh, why don't you get one? Go to Cherry's, 528 13th street. That's a fine place where you can get a good suit or overcoat on credit. Pay something down and you will hardly miss your monthly payments. No use for you to perspire and suffer when every one else is cool and comfortable."

Cherry's store for women is at 515 13th street.—Advertisement.

JAPAN TO FORM NEW GENRO BODY

By JAMES McCLAIN.
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

TOKYO, June 7.—Possibility of the formation of a new body of Genro or elder statesmen as a result of the cabinet crisis now faced by Japan, was indicated today with the probable induction of two younger statesmen into the circle that has held the guiding influence in Japanese affairs since the restoration.

Conferences with inner circles by Viscount Kiyoura and Viscount Hirata led to this belief. Koyoura is the successor to Marshal Prince Yamagata as president of the privy council, and Hirata was one of the late prince's most trusted lieutenants.

Prince Yamagata, until his death, occupied the position of most power among the elder statesmen, of whom but two are left.

Marquis Matsukata, one of the surviving Genro, has hastened to Tokyo to assist in the crisis, but Marquis Saionji continues to dominate the situation from his sick bed at his country home.

Regent Hirohito has commanded Premier Takahashi to serve until his successor is chosen. The Seiyo Kai party has dropped its teacup fight and is waging a battle to continue in control.

An airplane carrying 30 machine guns, each capable of delivering 1500 shots per minute has been developed.

LOCAL ATTORNEY DIES SUDDENLY

Funeral services for Tom M. Bradley, well-known attorney of Oakland, who died yesterday at his home, 1616 Fourth avenue, following a brief illness, will be held Friday from the residence at 2 p. m. Interment will be at Mountain View cemetery.

Bradley was 59 years old. He is survived by two brothers, Dr. H. L. and Bryan Bradley and one sister, Margaret Bradley. He was born in Ohio and has been a resident of California for forty-two years. He practiced law here for a number of years and was well known in his profession. His death was unexpected.

Legion Official Quits To Run For Office

The resignation of C. Stanley Wood as adjutant of Oakland Post No. 5, American Legion, was presented last night at the regular business session of the post. The resignation was referred to the executive committee.

Wood has served as adjutant of Oakland Post No. 5 of the Legion during the last year, having been elected to that position over two other nominees. He has spent much of his time in seeking proper adjustment of the claims of ex-service men, and in furthering the objects of the Legion.

Regarding his resignation as adjutant of the post, Wood said: "My action in thus severing my official connection with Oakland Post No. 5 is prompted solely by a desire to conform with the fixed policy of the Legion to keep the organization out of politics. I should personally prefer, were it possible, to continue as your adjutant, for I have found genuine pleasure in serving the ex-service man and the post in general. I assure you I shall always be at the service of the post."

Wood announces that he will be a candidate from the Thirty-sixth Assembly district.

AUTO DIVES OVER 100-FOOT BANK

DOWNIEVILLE, June 7.—F. W. Katzer of Nevada City and C. Cutman, Los Angeles mining man, were painfully injured during the night when their auto plunged over a 100-foot embankment on the Yuba river.

Katzer was found early today by passing motorists, lying by the roadside unconscious. Cutman was found later beside the wrecked auto, also unconscious.

Both were taken to hospitals, where recovery was expected.

Girls Deny Theft Of Store's Goods

Lulu Hall and Maybelle Bondel, both former employees of the H. C. Capwell department store, who are charged with petty larceny, today appeared before Police Judge Mortimer Smith. They pleaded not guilty and demanded a jury trial. Miss Hall will be tried on July 18 and Miss Bondel was set for July 24. They were arrested on the complaint of Tom King, house detective for the store, who alleges that they stole wearing apparel valued at $30.

DIAS AGAIN REPORTED.

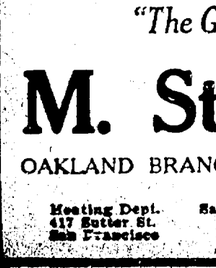

MARTINEZ, June 7.—Joseph Dias, who escaped from the county jail grounds here Friday night, was seen at St. Vincent's school at San Rafael Sunday night, according to reports telephoned to the sheriff's office today. He was said to have a rifle wrapped in newspaper. Deputy Sheriff Dike Joslin is in San Rafael conducting a search. Persons at the school who know Dias reported his presence. Dias is said to have attended the school several years ago.

HOW you hesitated buying that crisp starchy organdie of apple-blossom pink. You couldn't bear to think of it limp and faded by laundering. You were doubtful even about that filmy, flowered voile and the yellow dotted Swiss.

Of course they couldn't stand the old brutal way of washing. But they came from their Lux bath as fresh and dainty as in their sparkling newness.

Lux is just as delicate as the most fragile fabric. You can trust to it anything pure water alone won't harm.

The creamy Lux flakes whisk instantly into a rich lather that gently dissolves the dirt. There is not a trace of solid soap to lodge in the threads of the fabric. There is no rubbing to ruin its finish or pull and fray the threads.

The gentle Lux cleansing will keep your dresses of organdie and fine gingham crisp and new-looking all summer long. No matter how filmy the material, you can safely wash it over and over again in delicate Lux suds. Your grocer, druggist or department store has Lux. Lever Bros. Co., Cambridge, Mass.

These manufacturers of fine fabrics say "Wash linens and fine cottons in Lux"

VOLUME XCVI. OAKLAND, CALIFORNIA, WEDNESDAY EVENING, JUNE 7, 1922. A NO. 158.

"Across the Alps Lies Italy," But Across Our Hills Lies--Everywhere

The Auto has wrought the greatest single change in the social life of man.

It has definitely freed the worker from his bench. Any spot within two hundred miles can be reached over the week-end. For longer vacations The Ends of the Earth are his insofar as they may be won on wheels.

It has brought the city into the barnyard of the farmer and has abolished the loneliness and privations of country life.

It has brought the rural district to the portals of the factories and made it possible for the wage earner to buy a few nearby acres out of his earnings and improve them on Sundays, building a home and income that he never could have acquired in town.

No car is working under the most favorable conditions until it has been driven a couple of thousand miles. The first caution to the buyer of a new machine is "Don't drive over 25 miles an hour till you have gone a thousand."

Many auto dealers taking older models in exchange for later styles, completely overhaul these cars and when they again are sold to the public they are in even better mechanical condition than when they left the factory. Lists of such cars appear daily in the Classified Columns of The Oakland TRIBUNE. Some of the leading dealers advertise on this page.

TRAVELED HUNDREDS OF MILES FOR TREATMENT—FINALLY HELPED IN OAKLAND.

Ely, Nevada.
For years I suffered from rheumatism and severe pain in my back and limbs. I could neither walk nor sit down without intense pain. My kidneys and bowels troubled me terribly. I tried many doctors in Nevada, none of whom helped me. Finally, I was advised to try a change of climate, but my condition became even worse. By good fortune a friend urged me to try the FONG WAN HERB SPECIALIST, THE VERY BEST ON THE COAST. Now, after a few weeks' treatment, I am entirely well and have gained ten pounds.

MINING MAN FINDS STOMACH TROUBLE OVERCOME BY FOO WING HERBS
Thos. Cain, mining man of Bodie, Mono Co., Calif., after a year of acute stomach trouble, found relief in the Foo Wing Herbs, according to his letter, which follows:
TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:
My troubles began with two attacks of typhoid fever, followed by "flu" during the epidemic, and with three attacks of pneumonia between. The result was that my constitution was undermined, showing symptoms of kidney trouble, and the bad shape I was in showed itself in severe stomach trouble, with acute indigestion and dyspepsia making me miserable for more than a year. I couldn't digest anything and coughed continually. I was getting worse and worse, in spite of treatment by doctors and at mineral springs. Then I came to Foo Wing, herb specialist of Oakland. Three months of treatment have restored my health, and as I am practically cured, I have resumed my work in mining. I now feel as well as I did before my first typhoid attack, and wish to express my gratitude to Foo Wing for what he has done for me, in this testimonial, which he is at liberty to publish if he desires. I only hope that through these words some other sufferer may find his way to health.

LAST OF THE MOHICANS IN INDIAN GLEN

The last of the Mohicans was a noble redskin, but he was no nobler redskin than this last unsold lot in Indian Glen Tract is a noble wigwam site, 86x220; it spreads over the crest of a gentle rise in the land's contour, commanding a magnificent view of the oak studded glen below. And being the last unsold of a noble string of homesites it is offered at our customary clean-up prices—going for less than $30 per front foot, fully improved, on terms. To grasp the bargain value in this price compare it with the price of $100 per front foot which the Crocker tract adjoining originally sold for. Understand, this price includes high grade street work, sidewalk, sewer, city water and electricity. Building restriction $5000. Attractive homes built and building in tract. Convenient to San Francisco and local transportation. To inspect call on or call up for appointment.

Distinctive Homes No. 14

Face Brick Is Made in Many Tones

A tile roof with carefully selected face brick will produce a harmonious effect that will improve with age

Printed by courtesy of The Home Designer Magazine (of Oakland), which is prepared to furnish prints and specifications to readers of The Oakland TRIBUNE at a special and very reasonable figure.

The American manufacturer of face brick has created a wide range of colors and textures. In this respect he has far outstripped the Old World brick-maker. Thus the home-builder in this country is enabled to select a face brick that exactly meets his ideas.

The whole sweep of color from the cold greys to the warm reds—including buff, cream, golden and bronze tints—is available. There is also a wide range for individual choice in the texture of the surface.

The harmonious effects achieved by the correct use of face brick are not the result of accident. A face brick house is practically everlasting, and therefore deserves more consideration than a more temporary structure.

If an enduring uniformity of color is desired, it must be selected with due regard to the surroundings. This monochromatic scheme lends itself to the idea of blending the house into the landscape. The home thus becomes a part of its surroundings, and immediately takes on that greatly desired air of stability and permanence.

U. S. TO PROBE S. F. AMERICAN PLAN CAMPAIGN

Daugherty to Investigate Labor Charges Against Material Men.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Attorney-General Daugherty was preparing today to investigate the complaint made by Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor, against the alleged refusal of certain building material dealers in San Francisco to sell to firms employing union labor.

Letters and telegrams from the Bricklayers, Masons and Plasterers' International Unions, presented by Morrison yesterday in laying his complaint before the attorney-general named the Industrial Association of San Francisco as representing the employers' association in the alleged boycott of construction jobs employing union labor.

Other organizations in the list of those alleged in the documents presented by Mr. Morrison to be "actively engaged in carrying out this unlawful combination and conspiracy," were the California Industrial Council, the San Francisco Chapter of the American Institute of Architects, and the Builders' Exchange of San Francisco.

ONE OF EXHIBITS.

Among the exhibits placed before the attorney-general was what purported to be a letter from W. H. George, chairman of the Builders' Exchange, to its members, listing the construction material "put under the permit system" and stating that no permit would be issued to any member or non-member of the exchange who "does not run his job strictly on the American plan and pay strictly the Builders' Exchange wage scale and no more in any way, shape or form."

Among the firms and individuals named in the documents presented by Morrison as "actively engaged in carrying out this unlawful combination and conspiracy" were the following:

California Industrial Council, Industrial Association of San Francisco, Industrial Association of Santa Clara county, the Builders' Exchange of San Francisco, the San Francisco Chapter of the American Institute of Architects, Peterson-Kartzchoke Brick Company, Gladding, McBean & Company, Borchers Brothers, Williams & Russe, H. Mueller Manufacturing Company, Crane Company, Holbrook, Merrill & Stetson Company, George H. Tay Company, R. W. Kinney Company, C. M. O'Brien, F. B. Campen, J. D. Crummey, George N. Herbert, F. L. Hoyt, V. J. Lamott, J. B. Leaman, V. T. McCurdy, Howell D. Melvin, J. W. McClay, J. Q. Patton, E. N. Richmond, H. M. Sontheimer, S. G. Tompkins, W. H. George, Athol McBean, A. J. Gladding, G. E. Eldridge, George A. Applegarth.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7. — Full investigation of all its activities would be welcomed by the Industrial Associaton of San Francisco, was the statement today by Max J. Kuhl, general counsel of the association, in answer to the complaint made by Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor. Morrison explained today to Attorney General Daugherty that certain building material dealers in San Francisco refused to sell to firms employing union labor.

The complaint made to Daugherty yesterday was the outgrowth of disputes which arise after the establishment of the so-called American plan here. At the time the plan was put into opration, the Industrial Association set forth that the plan's only purpose was to permit union and non-union men to work on the same job.

Later the Building Trades Council protested against the American plan on the ground that contractors were being forced to employ non-union men on jobs with union men. The Building Trades officials maintained building material dealers refused to sell the contractors goods unless they did so. Later, the labor officials asserted, the material dealers went so far as to insist that only non-union men be employed.

The situation reached a climax when a dozen union plumbers employed on the new Galileo High school went on a strike in protest against the American plan. The contractor declared that unless he adopted the plan he could not get materials to complete the building.

The Federal authorities then took up the matter.

TEACTERS LUNCHEON HOSTS.

RICHMOND, June 7—The teachers of Lincoln grammar school were hostesses yesterday to Principal and Mrs. J. E. Zumwalt at a luncheon served at the auditorium. The girls of the school acted as waitresses under the direction of Miss Jean Bartholomew, home economics supervisor.

Berkeley Savant Riled at Garages Jutting on Walk

BERKELEY, June 7.—Two garages protruding on the sidewalk area, a landslide and an unusually hilly section of Berkeley are combined in a problem which must be solved by City Attorney Lemuel Sanderson.

The garages were built by Earl H. Webb on the north side of Cedar street, between Euclid and Le Roy avenues. They occupy between four and five feet of the sidewalk area.

Professor C. C. Judson of the art department of the University of California objects to the garages. Not only, he declares, does it make him dizzy in an artistic sense to see these structures jog away from the property line, but it also makes him dizzy trying to avoid bumping into them when he starts down Cedar street from his house.

Professor and Mrs. Judson registered emphatic objections, both verbally and through letters to the city council yesterday.

Mrs. John F. Johnston, also a resident on Cedar street, declared that the peculiar topography of that district, together with the fact that a landslide had occurred, menacing life and property made the location of garages a problem. Dewey Colignon, official of the building department, was called before the council to see if Webb had been granted a permit to build his garage on the sidewalk area and when informed to the contrary, the matter was ordered referred to the city attorney for investigation as to the legal status of the case.

POULTRY 'EXPERT' LANDS IN JAIL

NILES, June 7.—Lathie Baptista, Oakland poultry marketman, is today serving the first week of his ninety-day jail sentence imposed on him by Judge Ralph Richmond on charges of theft.

Baptista is said by the police to be the ringleader in a gang of chicken and poultry thieves who have been marauding the chicken yards of scores of Eastbay ranches for the past few months, selling the stolen poultry and rabbits in Oakland markets.

Following several reports here that poultrymen had suffered heavy losses through activities of thieves, Constable Frank Rose, Deputy Sheriff Leon Solon and Night-watchman Leslie Nichols set a watch for the marauders.

Baptista was captured while in a chicken yard near Niles and was locked in the shed until officers arrived.

It was on the charge of chicken stealing that he was sentenced by Judge Richmond.

In addition Baptista may face a charge of horse stealing as it is alleged by Constable Frank Rose that the man stole a horse from Mexican farmers near Decoto, a wagon from another ranch, and harness from a third ranch. A runaway by the horse demolished the wagon.

Search is being made for confederates of Baptista who are believed to have been in the vicinity of Niles the night the man was captured but who escaped to Oakland.

When first arrested Baptista feigned insanity, hoping to escape a charge of felony which he believed was to be filed against him by the local officers.

TRAIN KILLS WOMAN.

SANTA CRUZ, June 7.—Mrs. E. R. Morris was mortally injured and her four children severely hurt when the sedan in which they were riding was run down by a Southern Pacific train today. Mrs. Morris died two hours after the crash. The sedan was carried fifty feet by the train. Mrs. Morris and the children were taken to a sanitarium at Seabright.

DOUBLE PROBE OF GASOLINE BEGUN AT WASHINGTON

Congress and Justice Department Seek Cause of Rise in Prices.

By JAMES T. KOLBERT,
United Press Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Congress and the department of justice joined hands today to protect the 17,000,000 automobile owners of the United States against soaring gas prices.

While the department of justice launched its probe of recent increases in the price of gasoline, the Senate manufacture committee was being organized for an investigation of its own.

Representatives of the big gas and oil companies will be called before the committee to explain why prices are going up.

The report of the federal trade commission on the gasoline industry, which shows a record-breaking gasoline reserve, is being made the basis for both probes.

The Senate investigation was authorized in a resolution introduced by LaFollette and unanimously passed. It will deal particularly with the following features:

1. The profits made by marketing petroleum companies within the last few years.

2. Whether there is any natural reason for the gradual price increases and whether there has been a tacit agreement between the marketing companies to raise the prices arbitrarily.

3. A check-up on all prices charged each month during the last few years.

4. Comparison of the difference in price in various sections and the reasons.

The committee will have the authority to require the presence of any witnesses and the production of the books and records of marketing companies.

S. J. BUILDING IN MAY REPORTED

SAN JOSE, June 7.—Building activities for this city during the month of May showed splendid progress, according to a report filed here today by City Building Inspector M. C. Woodruff. The inspector's itemized report of building activities was as follows:

New work—Twenty-seven cottages of four or more rooms, $83,625; four cottages of less than four rooms, $1870; one apartment house (eight apartments) $13,000; two business houses, $52,400; eleven private garages, $1330; total new work, $152,225.

Repair work—Eighteen residences, $7245; nine business houses, $3745; four changes to flats and apartments, $3300; two miscellaneous, $125; total repair work, $14,415; grand total for month, $166,640.

Life Boats to be Placed at Bridges

ALAMEDA, June 7.—Life boats are to be placed at each of the bridges connecting Alameda with the mainland. This action was decided upon by the city council last night, after the city had been presented with two former U. S. Shipping Board work boats for this purpose by E. K. Taylor, attorney and former mayor.

Taylor explained that his action was prompted by the fact that during the past year several deaths have occurred that might have been prevented had proper life saving apparatus been at hand. City Manager C. E. Hickok suggested that the two boats which Taylor was giving should be augmented with three more by the city. The total cost of the boats and their equipment would amount to $150. One is to be stationed at each bridge in charge of the bridge tender.

Hickok was instructed to see if the county officials would not cooperate in purchasing the boats.

Guilty of Arson, Man Asks for Probation

MARTINEZ, June 7. — Manuel Rodero Crist, 21, pleaded guilty yesterday afternoon to a charge of arson arising from the firing of the home of Mrs. Catherine Chapman at El Cerrito February 19. Crist asked for probation. Crist's plea followed a plea of guilty by Mrs. Josie Leppe to a similar charge. The authorities allege that Mrs. Leppe prevailed upon Crist to set the fire and claim that the woman, who had leased the home for the purpose of operating a hotel, took out $1000 insurance on furniture. Mrs. Leppe also asked probation. Both pleas will be reported on by Probation Officer A. J. McMahon on June 19.

FORMER BANKER CHARGED WITH CHECK PASSING

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7. — Frank E. Dooley, former vice-president of the Hibernian Commercial and Savings Bank of Portland, and director of the Co-operative Steamship lines, is accused, in a warrant, of passing worthless checks amounting to $2000. Simultaneously with the issuance of the warrant a suit for separate maintenance was filed by his wife, Mrs. Ida F. Dooley, 296 Twenty-sixth avenue. She charges that her husband drank to excess and neglected her as well as his business.

The warrant for Dooley's arrest was sworn to by Marcellus Kargbaum, a broker of this city. Krigbbaum said:

"If Dooley would cease drinking and get to work he can name his own salary, for he has a reputation as a high-class business man, and this is the first spot upon his record of clean dealing. Since the advent of prohibition he has been on a permanent debauch, and the end was inevitable. Before prohibition, when he could get what he wanted, he did not drink to excess."

Dooley comes from a family of bankers, his father being at one time president of the Utah National Bank of Ogden, and later manager of the Wells Fargo National Bank of Portland. Dooley himself was at one time head of the largest insurance concern on the Pacific coast, that of Dooley & Company.

Skyline Route to be Mapped on June 15

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7. — After listening to advocates of two distinct routes for the new "Skyline boulevard" between San Francisco and Santa Cruz the State Highway Commission has adourned to meet again at Sacramento June 15 for further consideration of the issue.

Standard Salaries, Civil Service Aim

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.— A movement f.. a national bureau for the standardization of salaries of civil service employees was well under way today by the fifteenth annual convention of the National Assembly of Civil Service Commissioners at the second meeting of its scheduled five-day convention.

More delegates arrived today and practically every state in the Union, as well as all parts of Canada and the possessions of the United States are represented.

The first session was called together late yesterday. The delegates were welcomed by Governor William D. Stephens, who praised the rapid extension of the merit system. He was followed by Mayor James Rolph and others.

Girl, 13, and Woman Reported Missing

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7. — Marie Carney, 53 Summer street, 13 years of age, left her home to go to St. Paul's school on Church street Monday morning and has not been seen since, according to a report to the police.

Mrs. Angeline H. Peters, 1224 De Haro street, 38 years of age, left home to purchase clothing for her two children and did not return, according to a report made to the police by the husband of the missing woman.

Verdict Delayed On State's Bravest Man

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7. — California's "greatest" hero of the world war was not chosen here today by Governor Stephens and a specially chosen committee from the army, veterans and the American Legion, but the matter of selection was put over for at least a week. Major-General Hunter Leggett, U. S. A., retired, stated reports had not yet been received from all the committees and it would be impossible to arrive at a decision until they were heard from.

STARLIGHT

by IDAH McGLONE GIBSON

Virginia Fairfax, daughter of the first families of Virginia, rebels against the puritanical rule of her grandfather, and lured by filmland, runs away to become a motion picture actress. Virginia found herself given a very important place in the Stratton picture. Kitty Dalton, a friend, warned Virginia against falling in love with Stratton. Kitty confesses her love for John Storm, the minister. She rails at the attitude of the world, which condemns her and condones Theodore Stratton for identical deeds. A double standard. Maud Sanson quarrels furiously with Theodore Stratton. She charges him with being in love with Virginia.

The rehearsal of Virginia's love scene with Theodore Stratton was very realistic and successful.

VIRGINA, MAUD AND THEODORE.

Before we had finished our close-up Maud Sanson returned. Theo remarked: "She couldn't have eaten anything."

I glanced at her. "Poor thing is ill. Don't you see, Theo, that even her make-up does not cover her pallor and the drawn look around her eyes."

"Virginia, child," replied Theodore irrelevantly, "no one ever called me Theo before."

"What did they call you?" I rejoined, gladly pursuing the turn he had given to the conversation.

"Why, my dear, must I tell you? Well, my father, who was a New England minister, named me Joshua, because you know that Joshua commanded the sun to stand still. Now—"

I interrupted Theo, saying:

"And you have made the whole world stand still and look at you upon the screen. That is a wonderful triumph, Theo—so wonderful that I cannot understand why you, who might aspire to the loves of princesses should——"

"Oh, my darling, my baby child! Can't you understand what your freshness, your innocence, your sincerity, mean to a world weary man like me? You are a princess!"

"Ted," Maud Sanson's voice cut the atmosphere about us with a sound like the swish and crack of a whip. I shrank, for I almost felt it upon my shoulders. "If you have finished your flirtation perhaps we can go on with our scene."

"I'm going to luncheon now. Did you eat while you were out, Maud?"

"No. I went to my dressing room and then thought I would wait to eat with you and Miss Winston."

"I don't care for any lunch," I said hurriedly. "If you will excuse me I think I will go to my dressing room and lie down. I am not as accustomed to this kind of acting as you are, Miss Sanson, and I confess that the lights, the director, the eye of the camera, and you two clever actors, rather frighten me."

I was perfectly honest in this, consequently I did not understand the contemptuous curl about Maud Sanson's lips and the quiet smile about the mouth of Theo until we were all back on the set and Theo remarked: "And you are clever, Baby Child! I never dared hope that with all the rest you would have cleverness. Now, don't look at me as though you didn't know what I meant. No woman could have made that remark to Maud in all innocence."

"But it was in all innocence—if you call it that. I was tired and I didn't want any lunch and I am frightened."

"You don't mean, Baby Child, that I frighten you? Why I wouldn't harm you for the world. Why I love you, child, love you, love you as I never thought I could love again!"

A little cold hand clutched my heart. I shook it off, saying to myself: "Of course, he has loved others. I must not care. Why should a woman want to be a man's first love? Why should a woman want to be his only love? All woman can ask is to be a man's last love."

A little devil—at my ear whispered: "The last love until the next."

I felt my eyes filling with tears. "What is the matter, Baby Child? Surely, when I tell you that I love you it doesn't make you weep."

"I guess I am crying because I am so happy." The words were not spoken before I knew that I was lying. It was the first intimation that I had had that lovers were the greatest liars on the face of the earth.

They do not say the things that they think or believe. They only say the things they think the loved one wants to hear.

All through the afternoon the action dragged. While at first it was very splendid and very lovely to be able to picture one's love scenes, yet the constant reiteration of them sandwiched between the raucous command of the director and the quiet cutting sarcasm of Maud Sanson began to wear my nerves. The last hour or so before we stopped for the day I knew that I was walking through my part apathetically. I was just waiting for Theo to ask me to go to dinner with him. I wanted to be alone with him. I was so tired, oh, so tired, of making love before the world!

But he didn't ask me! Instead, I heard him saying to Maud Sanson: "What time do you think the Lovell's expect us?" And when she answered: "Oh, are you going?" He replied in a voice in which there was a mixture of surprise and defiance:

"Why, of course, I am going. What do you mean, Maud?"

"I am only judging you by past performances."

The look he gave her brought silence between them.

And then my paragon sulked and I saw an entirely new side of Theodore Stratton. He was only concerned in the business of the play. He seemed to have no other thought except for the camera.

He moved us all about as though we were automatons or satellites which must be made to revolve about him. And when the last "cut" was heard and the director said:

"That is all for today, ladies and gentlemen," Theo turned a perfectly impassive face upon me and said with only a ghost of a smile about his lips:

"See you Monday morning, Virgie, at 9. And I dragged myself weary in body and spirit to my dressing room.

Changes Are Made In Teaching Staff

ALAMEDA, June 7. — Several changes were made in the teaching staff of the high school by the Board of Education last night. Leaves of absence for one year were Miss Paula Swarm and Miss Rowena Lewis of the high school, and Miss Mitcheltree of the Haight school. Miss Ethel Eckert was appointed to the teaching staff of the high school as teacher of economics. Miss J. L. Barker was appointed to the high school as a substitute. Miss Ina Pocock was appointed instructor in science, and L. C. Jolly was appointed assistant physical director of the boys. The resignations of Miss Mary Costello and Miss Lorene Killey were accepted by the board. The two women are completing college courses.

The board decided to allow the children a holiday next Tuesday in order that they might attend the San Francisco Shriner parade.

K. of C. to Hold Social Evening

ALAMEDA, June 7.—Alameda Council No. 1658, Knights of Columbus, will hold a social evening tomorrow in Moose hall, 2311 Central avenue. The program will include Alameda Council's orchestra, J. C. Hennessey, Ray I. Morris, Professor Eden, formerly of Washington State University, who will talk upon "Production of Oil from Shales"; S. E. Alden and N. Neal.

NEW CIVIL WAR LOOMS IN CHINA AS PARLEYS FAIL

North-South Split Widens and Factions Drifting Toward Strife.

PEKING, June 7.—(By the Associated Press.)—Developments of the last twenty-four hours indicated early today that China, which a few days ago seemed on the verge of a unified government located here, was in grave danger of a worse split than ever, with the north and south drifting only toward civil war.

Wu Pei-fu's plan for Li Yuan-hung, to resume the presidency of a centralized government in Peking was feared to have shattered itself against a rock of opposition in the form of Sun Yat-sen who, according to advices received here yesterday, declared he would refuse to relinquish the presidency of his South China republic at Canton. Wu had won the support of about 300 members of the old national parliament, now assembled at Tientsin, and they had urged ex-President Li to take back the executive office, from which he was ousted by the militarists in 1917. Li, however, withheld his acceptance pending certain conditions, chief of which was the dissolution of the South China republic. Thus everything depended on Sun Yat-sen.

In the past ten days Wu several times has said that unless Sun resigned, the Chihli forces of Wu would proceed southward and invade the South China territory.

Reports yesterday also stated that Sun had persuaded many members of the old parliament—still in Canton—to rally around his standard. This, according to the Canton advices, was enlarging daily the scope of the opposing camps.

SCHOOL EXPERTS SOON TO CONVENE

MARTINEZ, June 7.—More than 100 school trustees from all parts of the county will gather at the court house Thursday for the annual school trustees' convention. Superintendent of Schools William H. Hanlon, who will act as chairman of the day, today announced the complete program.

Sam Cohn of Sacramento, assistant state superintendent of schools, will speak on the teachers' tenure law, budget making and recently enacted school laws. Dr. Virgil E. Dickson of the Oakland Bureau of Educational Research will speak on "The Reorganized School." Dr. F. H. Hart of the University of California will speak on a school survey of Contra Costa which he has just completed, and R. J. White, Contra Costa's assistant school superintendent, will speak on "Employment of Teachers." Ample time will be afforded for discussion.

At noon the trustees will be entertained at a luncheon at Hotel Oehm. A musical program including songs by Mrs. William H. Hanlon and selections by the grammar school orchestra will be given at the luncheon.

With Contra Costa school boards taking pioneer steps in institution of new school courses, considerable importance is being attached to this year's convention.

IRVINGTON IS TOO BUSY TO CELEBRATE 4TH

IRVINGTON, June 7.—The increasing industrial and building activities in Irvington will not allow local business men time to prepare the Fourth of July celebration which had been planned, members of the Irvington Chamber of Commerce have decided.

Instead of holding a celebration July 4 the Chamber of Commerce members will sponsor a festival to be held following completion of Reid Brothers' hospital supplies factory here this fall.

Huge Well Drilled At Centerville

CENTERVILLE, June 7.—The largest well in Washington Township for private use is being installed at the ranch of H. F. Chadbourne, and farmers in all sections of lower Alameda county are waiting to learn the results of Chadbourne's irrigation plans.

The well, which is being drilled to a depth of 185 feet, will have a flow of 18 inches in diameter.

Cyril Williams Jr., engineer for the Alameda County Water District, has visited the Chadbourne ranch and after inspecting the drill work expressed belief that the well would be one of the best in Alameda county.

A peculiar geological formation has made a gravel stratum at the 185-foot depth at the Chadbourne ranch, causing a small subterranean reservoir, it is said.

Republicans Seek Full Registration

ALAMEDA, June 7.—The Alameda United Republican Club will meet in Eagles hall tonight to perfect plans to obtain large Republican registration at the forthcoming elections. Ernest J. Probst will preside. It is planned to place deputies at each of the train stations and at prominent places about the city to obtain the names of commuting voters.

TO BUILD SCHOOL.

WOODLAND, June 7.—Construction work on a $50,000 school for Knights Landing will start within a few days. The Anglo London Paris bank of San Francisco yesterday purchased the bonds voted at a recent election paying a premium of $510 therefor.

LEGION POST TO DANCE.

ALAMEDA, June 7.—Alameda Post No. 9, American Legion, will hold an informal dance in Legion hall this evening. The dance is for members and their guests only and is the first social affair to be given in the new quarters.

An Old Friend

Well—
It's another day—
And cloudy too—
And cold—
As storage fish—
Ugh—what a life!—
Same old grind day by day—
Well, old government socks—
Hit the trail—
Your coffee and doughnuts—
Are up and dressed—
And the cash register joyfully awaits—
Your fifteen cents.
Gosh!—got a taste in my mouth—
Like a memory—
Of steam beer days—
Who's that guy—
Grinning at me—
Looks like an old scout—
I used to know—
Back in the old town—
That's ten years ago—
And he was a grand old man—
He's coming this way—
I believe it is—
No—yes it is—no it ain't—
Hello, Dock, you old tramp—
Why—why—H-E-L-L-O—B-U-C-K—
Gimme the grip, kid—
And don't you holler—
If I break a few bones.
How's the old burg?
And the gang?
And Dad—and mother?
Does Nellie still ask about me—
Go on, Buck—quit your kiddin'—
And mother sent a million kisses—
Well, Buck, don't deliver them—
You need a shave too bad—
Excuse these tears—Buck—
I just can't help it, old boy—
When I think of the old days—
And what a fool I was—
To leave it all—
But I don't need any fortune teller—
To tell me that—
I'm going on a long journey—
Come on, Buck—
Gimme your arm, old kid—
And stick close—
For I want to feel your heart beat—
Gee! boy, this is a grand old world—
After all.

MY FAVORITE STORIES by IRVIN S. COBB

The Retort Courteous

In a certain famous Canadian battalion in the world war there was a young Yankee whom we will call Sergeant Fulton, because that was not his real name. This Sergeant Fulton comes from one of the states west of the Great Divide, and he elected on his own account and of his own accord to get into the fighting nearly two years before his own country went to war. Sergeant Fulton was probably the best rifle shot of his age in the Dominion forces. This gift of his, which is so valuable a gift in trench fighting, was made apparent to his superior officers immediately after he crossed the Canadian line in 1915 to enlist, whereupon he very promptly was promoted from the ranks to be a non-com, and when his command got into action in France he was detailed for sniper duty.

At that congenial employment the youngster distinguished himself. Into the rifle pits young Fulton took something besides his ability to hit whatever he shot at and his marvelous eyesight—he took a most enormous distaste for the institution of royalty; and this, too, in spite of the fact that when he joined up he swore allegiance to His Gracious Majesty George the Fifth. His ideas of royalty seemingly were based upon things he read in school histories. His conception of the present occupant of the English throne was a person mentally gaited very much like Henry the Eighth or Richard the Third, except with a worse disposition than either of those historic characters had. Apparently he conceived of the incumbent as rising in the morning and putting on a gold crown and sending a batch of nobles to the Tower, after which he enacted a number of unjust laws and unless he felt better toward evening, possibly had a few heads off on Tyburn Hill.

Acquaintance with his comrades at arms served to rid Sergeant Fulton of some of these beliefs, but despite broadening influences he never ceased to wonder—generally doing his wondering in a loud, clear voice—how any man who loved the breath of freedom in his nostrils found it endurable to live under a king when he might, if he chose, live under a president.

One morning just at daybreak a Canadian captain—who, by the way, told me this tale—crawled into a shell hole near the German lines where Sergeant Fulton and two other expert riflesmen had been lying all night, like big-game hunters at a water hole, waiting for dawn to bring them their chance. One of Fulton's mates was a Vancouver lad, the other a London Tommy—a typical East-ender, but a very smart sniper.

"Cap," whispered Fulton, from where he lay stretched on his belly in the herbage at the edge of the crater, "you've got here just in time. Ever since it began to get light a Fritzie has been digging over there in their front trench. I've had him spotted for half an hour. He has to squat down to dig; and that's telling on his back. Before long I figure he's going to straighten up to get the crick out of himself. When he does he'll show his head above the parapet and that's when I'm going to part his hair in the middle with a bullet. Take a squint, through the periscope and you'll be able to locate him dead easy. Then stay there and you'll see the surprise party come off."

So the captain took a squint, as informally requested. Sure enough, a hundred yards away, across the debatable territory, he could see the flash of an uplifted shovel blade and see the brown clods flying over the lip of the enemy's parapet. Presently for just a tiny fraction of time the round cap of a German infantryman appeared above the earthen protection. The sergeant's gun spoke.

There was a shriek over there, and a pair of empty outstretched hands were to be seen for one instant, with the fingers clutching at nothing; then they disappeared, as their owner collapsed into the hole he had been digging.

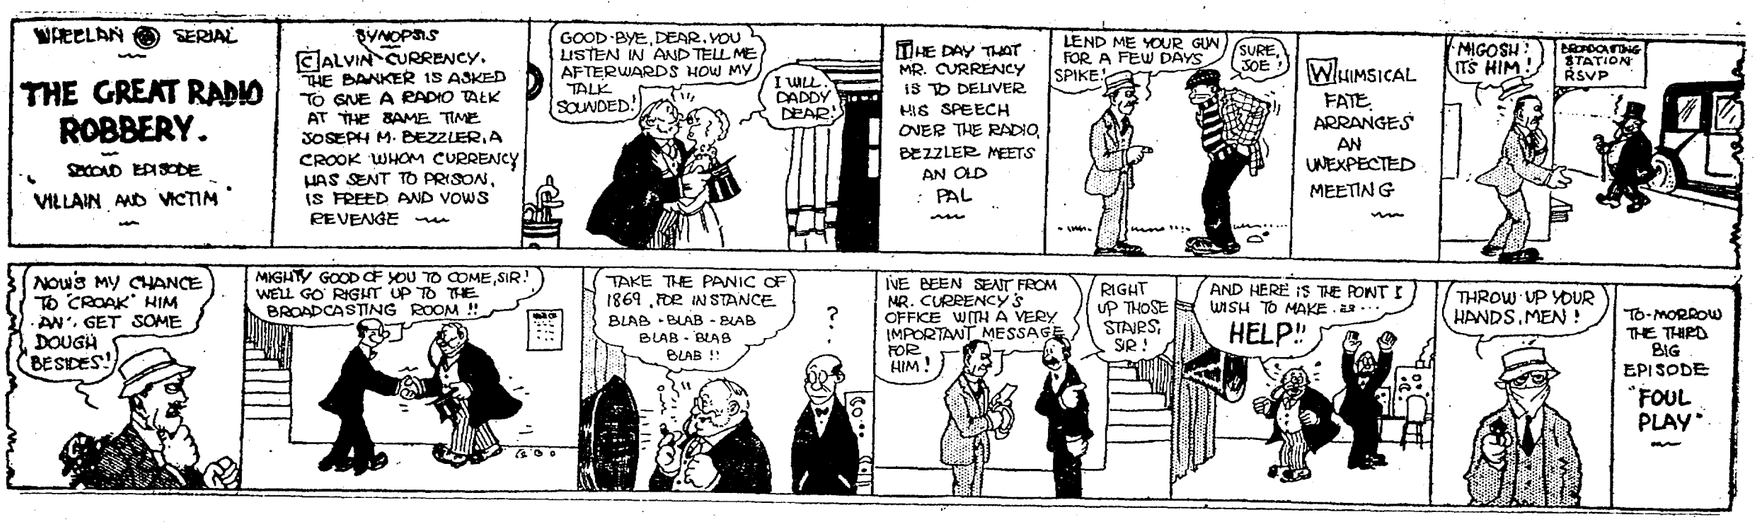

Then as the sergeant opened his rifle breach he turned toward the Cockney who squatted alongside him, and with a gratified grin on his face and a weight of sarcasm in his voice he said: "There goes another one, eh, bo, for King and Country."

The Londoner answered on the instant, taking the same tone in the whined reply that the American had taken in the drawly taunt. "My word," he said, "but Gawge will be pleased w'en 'e 'ears wot you done for 'im."

MINING BOOMED BY REDUCTION IN RAILROAD RATES

Many Properties Prepare to Start Shipping Ores to the Coast Smelters.

DUN GLEN, Nevada, June 7.—The ten per cent general freight tariff reduction and the promise of a return to pre-war rates applied to ore moving from Nevada points to Utah and California smelters have stimulated activity in this region. Charles L. Kohlback, of San Francisco, will start in June on the Helmer, Thomas and other claims of which he is the owner. The Sierra Silver Mines Corporation proposes to erect ore bins and start shipments. The Nevada Sunshine is sinking and has first class ore. The Placer ground is now being worked, and there is talk of the Black Hole resuming. The Sierra concern has three veins uncovered from which $60 to $100 ore may be extracted, and under the pre-war rate schedule this grade of rock is highly profitable.

TONOPAH

TONOPAH, Nevada, June 7.—Tonopah Belmont shipped 50 bars as the result of the May 15 clean-up. The value was $125,000. Tonopah Mining shipped 24 bars worth $52,000. West End and Tonopah Extension contributed $150,000. The total for the first half of May is approximately $330,000.

GOLDFIELD

GOLDFIELD, Nevada, June 7.—The Red Top ore body developed by the Silver Pick Consolidated Mines Company has now been developed 90 feet in length and in some places 30 to 40 feet in width. Free gold is frequently met with and high-grade streaks and bunches are found throughout the vein. The high-grade for shipment has been reduced from $90 to $35 in order to utilize some of the low grade rock, and also in order to secure the advantage in freight rates, milling charges and royalties. The sliding scale penalizes the high-grade, but is very favorable to a medium grade product.

ROCHESTER

ROCHESTER, Nevada, June 7.—Dick Bennett, the well-known and popular superintendent of the Rochester Silver Corporation property, will have charge of the Candelaria Silver Mines Company's work at Candelaria. Bennet has done excellent work at Rochester, and for that reason he was selected for the big Candelaria enterprise.

BATTLE MOUNTAIN

BATTLE MOUNTAIN, Nevada, June 7.—Ore assaying 5000 ounces in silver has been found in the Betty O'Neal mine and development is being rushed. Machinery for the new flotation mill is arriving and every effort will be made to get the plant running this year.

UNIONVILLE

UNIONVILLE, Nevada, June 7.—A five-foot vein of good milling ore has been found in the extreme northerly portion of the Arizona mine. The vein follows the Stewart Fault, which was prolific of high-grade ore in early day operations. The estimated breaking average is $20, although streaks and bunches of high-grade appear frequently.

The Sheba mine, five miles north of this town, has resumed work. When closed in 1921, due to legal difficulties, a promising vein of silver-bearing ore was opened up. This vein was found beyond a fault which cut off the main body, and which had hitherto been considered the end of the ore.

EASTERN MARKET

CHICAGO, June 7.—Cattle—Receipts 17,000; beef steers better grades fat she-stock and stockers steady; top beef steers, $9.50; bulk, $8.35@9.00; lower grades beef cows and heifers, canners and cutters weak to lower; bulls and veal calves strong to higher; bulk desirable vealers to packers, $10.50@11.00; stockers scarce, bulk better grades, $7.00@7.75.

Hogs—Receipts 71,000; market opened 5 to 10c higher on good light and medium weight butchers; later most of early advance lost; top $11.00 early; bulk $10.10@10.5; pigs steady to strong; bulk good 100 to 150-pound average, $9.50@10.50; heavy weight, $10.50@10.70; medium weight, $10.65@10.95; light weight $10.90@10.95; light light $10.40@10.90; packing sows, smooth $9.35@9.80; packing sows, rough, $9.00@9.45; killing pigs, $9.50@10.50.

Sheep, receipts, 13,000; spring lambs fully steady; packers top, $14.75; deck to city butchers, $14.85; bulk good native, $14.50; culls mostly $8.00@8.50; other classes steady to weak; top shorn lambs, $13.00; good mixed yearlings and two-year-old western, $9.00; good strong and medium weight matured wethers, $7.00@7.75; fat ewes mostly $4.00@6.75.

CHICAGO, June 7.—Wheat scored a moderate upturn in price today during the early dealings, traders attention being given chiefly to relative firmness shown by the Liverpool market. A dry section which apparently was developing in the spring crop belt attracted considerable notice, however, and so likewise did continued meagerness of receipts here. Offerings at first were light, and a house with eastern connections led the buying. Initial prices, which varied from ¼ to 1¼c higher, with July $1.12½ to $1.13 and September $1.12½ to $1.13¼, were followed by slight further gains.

Corn was firmer with wheat. After opening ⅛ to ½c higher, July 60¾ to 61½c, the market continued to harden.

Oats were neglected and inclined to sag. The market started ⅛ to ½c to ⅝c lower, July 36⅛ to 36c¼c but afterwards rallied somewhat.

Provisions lacked support notwithstanding higher quotations on hogs.

Recovery of U.S. Declared Marvel

Courage and Ability of People Lauded by Secretary Hoover in Address.

DAYTON, O., June 7.—The recovery of the United States from "the variety of wounds which it suffered during the last seven years" is the greatest testimonial possible to the courage and ability of the American people, Secretary of Commerce Hoover declared in an address before the Dayton chamber of commerce. Economic recuperation is the result of the "energy, ability and industry of the American business man," the secretary said.

The Federal Reserve banking system and government loans to farmers also were declared by Hoover to have played a prominent part in business revival.

Touching upon the coal situation Hoover characterized it as probably the most serious problem before the country today. Settlement of the wage question would not solve the controversy between miners and operators, he said, declaring that "regulation of operation" of the mines was necessary to a settlement.

The railway situation, the tariff, readjustment of taxation, perfection of the national budget system, reorganization of the federal government departments, reduction of the number of war employees and the assistance of foreign trade were other problems which the secretary said were before the nation.

"The solution of these problems lay in the determination of fact," he said. "It is hoped that the department of commerce is being developed into a fact finding body for business men, whose principal duty will be to investigate and publish essential facts which will aid the government in progressing toward a proper ending.

"The problem of the railroads depends for solution on the cooperation and support given it by the nation. Three systems have been tried, the first two, negative prevention and government ownership, have proved failures.

"The third—operation in partnership with the public—is being worked out now. If it fails it will demoralize the economic fabric of the United States."

RUBBER.

AKRON, Ohio, June 6.—Officials of local rubber companies declare the production at the Apron plants would be increased if more experienced tire builders were available. Akron companies are advertising in other cities for tire makers.

State Debt Gains 90 Pct. in 6 Yrs.

CALIFORNIA'S state bonded indebtedness has been increased from $8.89 per capita in 1915 to $15.66 in 1921, according to a tabulation of the census bureau. In 1918 the debt amounted to $12.09 per capita. The total of the present net debt is $55,342,000. In 1915 it was $25,066,000.

Massachusetts has the greatest per capita debt of any state in the Union. It is $23.81, having increased only 10 cents since 1914. Nebraska alone of all states making returns to the census bureau, has no funded or floating debt. Nevada's per capita debt is $17.86 and Oregon's $20.57.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, June 7.—The cotton market was steady at the opening today with prices 5 to 16 points higher on buying by Wall Street and commission houses, which was stimulated by private reports of rain and prospects for unsettled weather in the southwest. New Orleans and local traders were the chief sellers. The list maintained its advance after the start for a time but met considerable profit-taking in new crop months. This checked the rise.

The market was strong in the late dealings, closing at a net advance of 82 to 99 points.

Bethlehem Ready For Merger Quiz

NEW YORK, June 7.—Eugene G. Grace, president of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation today issued a statement declaring he would "welcome the fullest investigation" by the federal trade commission at Washington of the proposed merger of Bethlehem with the Lackawanna Steel Company.

"We believe that when the facts in the case are fully shown, the purchase will be approved," he said.

FLOUR MARKET

MINNEAPOLIS, June 7.—Flour, unchanged. Shipments, 33,401 barrels. Bran, $17.50@19.

SHIRTS.

DETROIT, June 2.—Detail haberdashers here are having difficulty in getting seasonable goods. The local branch of a nationally known shirt and collar company is being besieged for deliveries and is almost out of sizes. Officials of this company are predicting a shortage. Business of the branch ran 300 per cent above 1921 for the first four months of this year.

New Railway and Refinery Planned

CASPER, Wyo., June 7.—Construction of a railway, a refinery and pipe line to extend from Casper to Kansas City will probably be begun in the near future, as preliminary to development of the Teapot Dome by the Mammoth Oil Company, according to Harry F. Sinclair, president. Twenty wells will be drilled, he said, before leaving for California last night.

The railroad will connect Casper and Salt Creek oil fields. An office building will also be erected here.

STRAWBERRIES SUPPLIES DROP; PRICES HARDEN

Coming of Shrine Crowds Reflected in Incoming Rush of Poultry.

Strawberries were scarce today. The first crop is showing signs of being past its maximum. It will be at least three weeks before the second crop is well matured, but the supply will not be by any means as large as the past few days. But short supply will not necessarily mean higher prices as day by day the amount and variety of fruit in the market increases with lessened demand for any one variety. Today prices were firm, drawers going readily at 75 cents.

The coming of the Shriners and the thousands of visitors to next week's festivities is reflected already in the increased shipments of poultry. Chickens of all ages and kinds are arriving in large quantities and, by the end of the week the poultry market on both sides of the bay will be as "fed up" as during the Christmas season. Quotations for both broilers and fryers have begun to strengthen.

Both oranges and lemons have moved up the past few days on the strength of hardening quotations by the Fruit Growers' Exchange.

Arrivals today included a car of apples. The incoming shipments of asparagus are beginning to fall off as the end of the season approaches and the demand lightens.

Petaluma eggs, the first shipment of the season, are en route to London.

The shipment, consisting of 500 cases (15,000 dozen) Petaluma sterilized fancy ranch eggs, was shipped Saturday on the Holland-American line motorship Dinteldijk. Additional shipments will leave in July, August and September, according to A. N. Bennett of Wilsey, Bennett Company, who made the shipment.

The first car of California cantaloupes of the season arrived in New York yesterday. The season is late, but the fruit was fine. Standard crates sold $10 @12 and ponies $9@10.

The shipment of Texas cantaloupes also was received. They were packed in California style and went at $8@10 for standards and $3@4 for flats, depending upon the number of melons. Georgia melons are of poor quality and do not do better than $2@2.50 for standards and 75c@$1.50 in flats.

Wholesale strawberry prices slumped in Portland yesterday. The best California berries dropped from $2.50 to $3 a crate prevailing yesterday to $1 a crate today.

At the same time home grown berries were being offered anywhere from $1.75 to $2.25 a crate as against yesterday's quotations of $3.50 to $5.50 a crate. Supplies are coming in from all sections of the state and the heavy offering of local berries are largely responsible for the slump in the market.

BUSINESS and FINANCE

Samuel Untermyer's letter to Senator LaFollette stating his opinion that the North American Steel common was worth at least $60 a share and doubting whether Bethlehem, Lackawanna or Midvale-Republic-Inland mergers could be prevented under the Sherman act, resulted in a firm tone for stocks entering into the latter merger in Wall Street today. Republic opening at 73¼, up ⅛, and Midvale at 36⅝, an equal advance. Vanadium started at 51 and advanced to 52⅛, up 1⅛ net with Replogle opening at 36¼ and advancing to 36½, up ½. Cosden opened at 51½ and Allied Chemical 71½, both up ½.

The market improved during the first hour on buying of the minor motors, steels and oils, especially Pierce Arrow preferred, Maxwell A and B, Replogle, Vanadium, Iron Products, Pressed Steel Car and Cast Iron Pipe, these gaining one to three points. The long account was encouraged by cheap money.

Call loans opened at 3½ per cent, the lowest initial quotation in a fortnight. Much of the improvement was cancelled before noon when offerings of such leaders as Baldwin, Studebaker, Mexican Petroleum and Standard Oils of New Jersey and California caused reactions of one to two points. Some of yesterday's strong issues in the railway list were subjected to realizing sales, especially Toledo, St. Louis and Western, Lake Erie and Western and Pere Marquette. Coppers were lower and food specialties reduced on selling of American Sugar. Sales were 1,200,000 shares.

The curb market was generally firm to strong. Standard Oil issues were traded in on a large scale at recessions from their newly made highs but found a good demand at the declines. The heaviest decline was in Imperial Oil of Canada which yielded three points. America was exceptionally strong, advancing to 24⅝. Mexican Seaboard was the most active of the independent oils, the announcement of the offering of 200,000 shares voting trust certificates for new stock causing heavy buying of the present shares which ranged from 45¼ to 46½.

The voting trust were traded in at 43¾ to around 44½. Fensland after selling at a high of 13½ reacted to 18¾.

Interests identified with the Columbian Carbon Company, and Atlas Powder Company, have incorporated a new organization under the laws of Delaware, the International Carbon Corporation, with $2,500,000 eight per cent preferred and 300,000 shares of no par value common stock.

WESTERN PACIFIC EARNS $2.54 A COMMON SHARE.

Report of Western Pacific Railroad Company for year ended December 31, 1921, shows net income of $2,858,533 after taxes and charges equivalent to $2.54 a share earned on the common stock, as compared with net income of $2,416,211 or $1.61 a share in 1920. Income account for 1921 compares as follows with the previous year:

Gross operating revenue, $12,104,155; $13,695,789; operating expenses, $10,391,343; $10,311,410; taxes, etc., $1,231,788; $670,893; operating income, $481,024; $2,613,486; income from lease of road, $2,815,909; $316,725; other income, $1,629,553; $1,733,960; total income, $4,926,486; $4,664,171; interest, rentals, etc., $2,067,953; $2,247,960; net income, $2,858,533; $2,416,211; preferred dividends, $1,650,000; $1,650,000; sinking fund, $50,000; $50,000; surplus, $1,158,533; $716,211.

Includes $205,173 income taxes for 1918 and 1919 paid in 1921 on account of compensation received as rental of property for 1918-19 in excess of compensation on which taxes have been paid for the years in question. Rental received from U. S. Railroad Administration for use of property during federal control (January 1, 1918, to February 29, 1920, inclusive) in excess of amount credited to income in previous reports on basis of standard return.

NEW BANK OFFICIALLY SELECTS DIRECTORS.

The names of those who will serve as directors of the new Commercial Trust and Savings Bank of Oakland, to be situated in the Athens Hotel at Broadway and Sixteenth streets, was made public today following a meeting last night at the temporary offices of the institution at 444 Seventeenth street. They are:

S. E. Biddle, president of the bank; A. Andrew, Joseph McInerney, F. E. Heath, D. E. Perkins, Norman De Vaux, J. R. Millar, James Tyson, R. A. McGrath, Albert E. Carter and Arthur E. Corder.

The building committee, it was announced, was authorized to begin immediately preparing the bank's quarters in cooperation with Architect Knowles.

KEY ROUTE WOULD ISSUE NOTES FOR FERRIES.

The hearing of the application of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railway to issue $600,000 worth of equipment trust certificates was held today before the State Railroad Commission. The proceeds are to be used to pay for two new ferry steamers for the Key Route to cost $900,000 and the company plans to obtain the balance of the money by borrowing from its depreciation fund.

The commission took the matter under submission.

The new ferry steamers are now under construction at the plant of the Los Angeles Dry Dock and Shipbuilding Company. They are to carry three thousand passengers, whereas the capacity of the present Key Route boats is only 2000.

UNION OIL ASSOCIATES STOCK READY MONDAY.

Announcement is made that the Los Angeles Trust and Savings Bank will be ready to deliver Monday next Union Oil Associates stock to stockholders.

This transaction will involve the surrender of the trust company of the present interim certificates and the delivery of the actual shares represented thereby to the various owners.

This will close the transaction in the matter of the Union Oil holding company, which has been in process since October 17, 1921.

BIG FRESNO RANCH IS SECURITY FOR BONDS.

A $2,100,000 issue of Lucerne Vineyard Company 6½ per cent first mortgage serial bonds are offered today by William R. Staats Company, E. H. Rollins & Sons; Cyrus Peirce & Company, and Schwabacher & Company, at par and interest. These bonds are dated June 1, 1921, and mature in irregular blocks from 1924 to 1936.

When the financing is completed these bonds will constitute a first mortgage on the total holdings of the Lucerne Vineyard Company.

The Lucerne Vineyard Company consists of eleven separate ranches in the San Joaquin Valley, controlled by Wylie M. Giffen. These ranches aggregate 9258 acres, and have been conservatively estimated to be worth $3,708,068.

I. C. C. RATE REDUCTIONS TO APPLY WITHIN STATE.

The reduction recently recommended by the Interstate Commerce Commission on inter-state freight rates will apply concurrently on state rates on the effective date of July 1, according to an announcement by the California State Railroad Commission.

The reduction will be approximately 10 per cent of the rates of August 26, 1920, that are still effective and is estimated to amount to between $7,000,000 and $8,000,000 a year on California inter-state and state business.

In cases where the 1920 rates have already been reduced, further reductions will be made to the 10 per cent level. Where rates already have been reduced by 10 per cent or more, no further changes will be made. There will be no increases of rates.

In situations where certain differentials are maintained as between shipping points, the relationship of rates will be continued. This in some few instances may result in reductions not exactly on a 10 per cent basis.

U. S. Crop Large, Europe Is Lean

CHICAGO, June 7.—"America will thrive while Europe begs for food."

This was the prediction here today of B. M. Snow, crop expert, in summarizing the grain crop prospects of the world.

In discussing conditions in America, the crop expert estimated the winter wheat crop at 600,000,000 bushels, which exceeds last year's figure.

The sprisg wheat crop will total 250,000,000 bushels, or about 50,000,000 bushels more than last year.

Corn, Snow said, may not be so plentiful this year because of wet weather, which delayed planting, but the crop will not suffer seriously, however.

The oat crop will be light because of unfavorable planting weather.

The fruit crop will be the largest in years, he predicted.

Crop prospects in Europe are miserable, Snow said.

WELLS-FARGO TO BE MERGED WITH UNION TRUST CO.

Two Big S. F. Banks to Pool Resources, According to Reports.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 7.—Consolidation of the Wells Fargo Nevada National Bank and the Union Trust Company of San Francisco, two of the strongest financial institutions in the state, is under way, according to officials of both concerns.

Announcement of the details of the deal, together with the personnel of the new combination and any changes in name, will be announced in a few days, it is said. Present plans contemplate the retention of the institution's commercial character by the Wells Fargo Nevada National Bank. The Union Trust Company will handle all savings accounts of the merged interests, it is understood.

The Wells Fargo Nevada National Bank passed from the Wells Fargo Express interests late in 1921 with the purchase by the Hellman estate of one-third of the bank's stock for $3,200,000. The merger of the two financial interests will represent $120,000,000 assets. The resources of the Wells Fargo Nevada National Bank amount to $83,953,634, while the resources of the Union Trust Company of San Francisco are indicated at $36,823,354.

The two institutions have for many years been closely related, and controlled in large part by the same group of capitalists.

Canning Cherries Begins at Niles

NILES, June 7.—First canning operations in Niles this season began yesterday when the Schucky cannery accepted delivery of several tons of cherries.

Scores of men and women were given employment at the big local cannery and at the same time additional scores of persons were given work in the orchards harvesting the cherry crop.

The variety of cherries being canned this week is the soft white early cherry, first to ripen in this section.

The run on cherries will continue for several weeks, according to estimates made today by Manager Fred Drew, who said the cannery will have this year the longest season in its history.

WEATHER FORECAST

Oakland and vicinity: Cloudy tonight and in the morning, becoming fair during the day, Thursday; moderate westerly winds.

Northern and Southern California: Fair tonight and Thursday, except cloudy near the coast tonight and in the morning; gentle westerly winds.

Sacramento, Santa Clara and San Joaquin valley: Fair tonight and Thursday; light northwesterly winds.

Nevada, Washington and Oregon: Cloudy tonight and Thursday; moderate northwesterly winds.

Idaho: Unsettled weather tonight and Thursday.

CONDITIONS.

An area of high pressure is central over Alberta and Saskatchewan, moving southeastward, causing cloudy weather in the northern portion of the Pacific slope and light rain in the northern Rocky Mountain states and British possessions. Over the southern portion of the Pacific slope it is cloudy near the coast and fair in the interior. Rain has fallen in the lower Mississippi valley and Gulf states. It is colder in Montana and North Dakota. Conditions are favorable for fair weather in this district tonight and Thursday, except cloudy near the coast.

ON WATERFRONT

Captain Rod McKenzie, one of Oakland's pioneer master mariners, is again in his home port after an absence of some years. He has the honor of being a captain in the marine as well as the army. Rod joined the world war as a private and retired after the war as a captain. He has 16 bullet wounds and received two medals, a D. C. M. and a 3-year service medal, when the war ended. Now he commands the six-masted schooner Thistle of the Charles Nelson fleet, discharging lumber at the Sunset Lumber Company's dock, East Oakland. McKenzie comes from a family of mariners, his father and two brothers being master mariners. Rod has always been in square riggers and has made friends in every port he has ever entered. Today Captain McKenzie sent his two medals to New York, where his mother resides.

Shipping at this port continues to be heavy and many passengers and large cargoes of general freight were brought here from all parts of the world. The lumber arrivals from northern ports during the past 24 hours totaled 3,992,000 feet by six steam schooners. The steamer Wilmington arrived from Honolulu and brought 1000 tons of scrap iron. The steamer Matsonia brought a cargo of raw sugar from the same port. The steamer Robert Dollar had several hundred tons of cargo from Europe. The sailing from this port during the past 24 hours included 35 vessels leaving for different ports with freight and passengers.

The steamer City of Bombay sailed for Leith last evening with a heavy cargo loaded at this and other Pacific coast ports. Before she sailed she was libeled by Balfour, Guthrie and Company for $1688.77 on account of the damage done to 850 barrels of linseed oil which was shipped from England on her last voyage. E. H. Otto and Company also placed a libel for $1308, claiming that the linseed oil shipped to them was in bad condition when it reached here. The Captain placed a bond for the amount the vessel was libeled for and she proceeded on her journey.

The steam schooner Virginia Olson, which recently was damaged outside of Los Angeles harbor by a submarine, has been repaired and came off the drydock yesterday, but will remain in the southern harbor for some time, undergoing further repair work.

The tuna canneries in Southern California districts are getting ready for the summer's operation as the fish will soon commence to run, and the fishermen are beginning to assemble. Several of the fishing vessels from the northern ports have already made their appearance in Los Angeles harbor, and expect to have a very prosperous season. The help at the canneries are now being selected and everything will be ready when the tuna starts to run.

Change of masters registered at the U. S. Customs House:

Captain J. T. Stephenson, steamer Capital City.

Captain Alfred Simansen, steamer Arctic.

Captain I. M. Cowin, gas schooner Teal.

Captain Fred Linderman, power pleasure yacht Evlan.

OAKLAND IS LUMBER CENTER.

Oakland as a lumber center is leading the coast. During the past year nearly all of the largest structures have purchased their lumber from mills here. The Sunset Lumber Compnay has supplied 5,000,000 feet of lumber for the automobile race track at Cotati, and the same amount at the track at San Carlos. Now another order is being filled at that mill for an auto track to be erected at Kansas City, and the lumber amounting to 6,000,000 feet will be shipped from Oakland by rail as fast as it can be cut and dressed. With the large fleet of vessels operated by this company they are keeping many hundred men steadily engaged at their plant, besides shipping to off-shore ports. The ship Moshulu is loading a cargo of lumber here for South Africa.

GOOD CONCERT PROGRAM HEARD BY THOUSANDS

Vocal and Instrumental Numbers By Saxophone Six Are Features.

A splendid concert program was broadcast to radio fans from KZM, The Oakland TRIBUNE'S radio broadcasting station last night, and according to the number of "checks" received and the many notes of comment, it was appreciated by the thousands who listened in while The TRIBUNE was on the air.

The program included vocal and instrumental numbers, featuring the Original Brown Brothers' Saxophone Six, now playing at the Franklin theater.

The concert opened with "Dear Little Boy of Mine," sung by Miss Hazel Carlson Wood. The second selection was another solo by Miss Wood, "I Want to Cuddle Near to My Mammy Dear," accompanied on the piano by Charles Offenberg, composer. A number of telephone calls from radio fans who had tuned their sets in to hear the concert, were received in response to these selections.

The six saxophone players came next. They played several selections, including "Just a Little Love Song," "Three O'clock in the Morning," and "Play That Song of India Again." This troupe which has played on the principal vaudeville circuits in the country and made hundreds of phonograph records, was brought here from the New York Roof Garden to entertain the Shriners at their convention next week in San Francisco. They were secured by the Franklin theater management for this week and loaned to The TRIBUNE.

Miss Wood in response to a number of requests, followed the Six Brothers with another solo, "I Love You Truly," and John T. Brown, harmonica king, wound up the concert with his latest composition.

Aerials On Phone Poles Are Barred

SALT LAKE CITY, June 7.—Salt Lake City radio telephone fans have been asked by the local telephone company to take down aerials which have been erected on the company's telephone poles. Hundreds of persons have thus made use of the telephone poles, the company avers, and immediate discontinuance of the practive is urged.

MISS VIVIAN KIDD, who will be wed by radio at Rockridge station Saturday evening.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS

Radio Editor TRIBUNE: (1) How many wires should I use for an aerial 40 feet long?

2. How much do you think I could get supplies for for making a crystal set?

3. Please tell me how to make a condenser.

4. Please tell me how to make a low-cost tuning apparatus.

HARRY DEEM.

1348 Sixty-first avenue, Oakland.

1. Four wires spaced two feet apart.

2. If you refer to the amount it would cost you to make up a crystal set, we would say about $5.

3. You will find instructions for making a small fixed condenser on the radio page of The TRIBUNE for May 28.

4. A tuning coil may be constructed by winding 150 turns of No. 20 enameled wire on a three-inch cardboard tube. Mount the tube between two blocks. Connect one end of the coil to a binding post, leaving the other end of the coil open. Between the end blocks mount a brass rod carrying a slider—the latter so arranged that it will move over the coil from end to end touching each turn of wire. Scrape the enamel off the wire where the slider runs. Connect the rod to a binding post.

Radio Editor TRIBUNE: (1) Can you give me instructions for making a loud speaker?

2. Can I use a loud speaker with a crystal set?

3. What would be the best receiver to use with a loud speaker to get the best results?

4. Is there any advantage in a three-wire aerial 70 feet long and 40 feet high?

5. Can anyone get a license to broadcast and where do you apply for one?

L. S.

2855 Marcom avenue, Oakland.

1. A loud speaker can be made by fastening telephone receivers on the end of a horn, usually an old straight phonograph horn. The manner in which the phones are fastened to the horn would be governed by the types of horn and receivers used.

2. No.

3. Baldwin.

4. No.

5. No. Broadcasting licenses are issued only in special cases. Application is made through the radio inspector on application blanks for that purpose, after which they are forwarded to Washington for approval.

Radio Editor TRIBUNE: (1) Would a redwood panel be as effective as bakelite?

2. Is the secondary connected with the primary in the variometer?

3. At what angle is the secondary set into the vario-coupler?

1. No.

2. No.

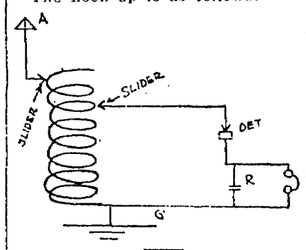

3. The windings of a vario-coupler are the same—one being inside the other. The secondary should be so arranged that it can be rotated to a position at right angles to the primary.

Radio Editor TRIBUNE: Will you please give me the hook-up for a double slider tuning coil, a fixed condenser and crystal detector?

LEO GOLDWATER.

358 Grand avenue, Oakland.

The hook-up is as follows:

Radio Editor TRIBUNE: (1) Kindly mail me the hook-up referred to by Johanne Woert, 629 Twenty-third avenue, Oakland. It seems this hook-up will catch Seattle and possibly Los Angeles on one Cunningham tube.

2. If it is possible will you give me this hook-up so that I can fit it in two sides of a case, each side being size ten by twelve inches deep. The above will be greatly appreciated by a subscriber and club member. I intend to build the above and will appreciate any additional data you may offer.

W. L. CHELSEN.

3434 Helen street, Oakland.

1. We can find no reference to the hook-up mentioned. You might get it from him direct, or would you be kind enough to give us more detail. The TRIBUNE gives out much information and you will have to be more specific in order that we can trace this particular hook-up.

2. We believe you would have no difficulty in placing an audion hook-up in the space you mention.

Radio Editor TRIBUNE: What station broadcasted tonight after nine o'clock (June 3)? The call letters sounded like KPO or KPO. Which is it, and where is the station located? On how many meters was the station broadcasting?

E. H.

O. T. R. C. Member No. 1112.

The station you refer to was Hale Brothers. It is located in San Francisco. They were testing on 360 meters. The call is KPO.

Hertzian Oscillator—Consists of two metal sheets of wings separated by a spark gap, used to produce oscillations which give rise to ether waves.

ADVICE GIVEN NEWLY-WEDS IN RADIO PROGRAM

Electric Club Series of June Bride Week Talks to End With Unique Wedding.

Newlyweds and electrical appliances for the home afford the subjects for a series of radio talks during June bride week from the Rockridge broadcasting station. On Monday the talk was delivered by James H. MacLafferty and last night by William C. Sage, president of the Oakland Electric Club, under whose direction the talks are being given.

Tonight the talk, which is between 6:45 and 7 o'clock, will be given by Ezra Decoto, district attorney for Alameda county. Decoto will act as consul for newlyweds and will hand out some helpful information that will be useful as well as entertaining. "Advice to the June Bride" will be the subject of the talk of Rev. Edgar F. Gee on Thursday evening, and on Friday night Lee H. Newbert, division manager of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, will talk on "Electrical Appliances for the Home."

On Saturday evening between 8:15 and 9 o'clock Miss Vivian Kidd of Santa Rosa and Leland H. Hodgson of Sausalito will be wed at the Rockridge station. Rev. H. A. Van Winkle, pastor of the First Christian Church of Oakland, will perform the ceremony. The radio wedding is being sponsored by the Oakland Electrical Club under the direction of the California electrical co-operative campaign.

Commuters Hold Funeral as Ferry Makes Last Run

The speed-burning ferry boat Garden City was taken off the Alameda-San Francisco run today and the commuters on the 7:30 o'clock trip held a little funeral ceremony all of their own as the best medium for expressing their relief at the change.

A short time after the Garden City left the Alameda mole some one produced a large sized replica of the Garden City. Wreaths and bunches of flowers made their appearance. An imposing bier soon was erected on the lower forward deck. On it reposed the replica. Mourners lined up on both sides of the "casket." A volunteer chorus sang several selections remarkable for their levity. This was followed by sermons which blistered the paint on both the replica and its original. Charles Pratt, former pilot commissioner, delivered the closing sermon. It was described as being a masterly oration, although some of the mourners asserted that Pratt left a lot of things unsaid.

Anyway, when the Garden City finally arrived off Goat Island, the mourners picked up the bier, the replica of the Garden City and, to the air of a quickstep whistled by hundreds of commuters, walked briskly to the side of the ferry boat and dumped the whole thing into the bay with an emphatic smack.

The piedmont will go on the Alameda-San Francisco run tomorrow.

TWO FETES WILL HEAR TRIBUNE'S RADIO PROGRAM

Livermore Carnival and Barbecue On East Side Will Be Entertained.

The TRIBUNE will not only broadcast radio entertainment on Friday evening for its huge audience of listeners-in, but will provide the means for the reception of the program at two fetes. A TRIBUNE portable receiving set will be provided for the Livermore post of the American Legion, which will hold a two-day carnival at Livermore.

Another TRIBUNE portable set will be taken to Fifty-fifth avenue and the Foothill boulevard for the reception of the program there, and for the entertainment of several thousand persons who will attend the barbecue to be given there Friday evening by the Eastside Board of Trade.

R. D. Lowell of 1420 Linden street, who manufactured The TRIBUNE portable sets, will operate the apparatus which will furnish the Livermore Legion post with entertainment broadcast from KZM, The TRIBUNE'S broadcasting station. The other set, which will furnish the East Side Board of Trade with entertainment, will be operated by Charles Ackerman, one of The TRIBUNE'S radio operators.

QUARTET ON PROGRAM.

The program Friday evening will be a selected one from a great array of entertainment numbers. Part of the program will be furnished by the University High School quartet, composed of Irving Green, first tenor; David Izett, second tenor; John Eldridge, first bass, and Raitt Boren, second bass. This quartet has pleased hundreds, and, although but a high school quartet, has already had offers from local theaters for appearances. It has gradually built up a reputation under the directorship of Miss Eva Meek.

In addition there will be instrumental numbers and several solos by Miss Rosalie Harrison, a well-known artist, who has appeared before many clubs and musical institutions about the bay. Miss Harrison has been the soloist at the Presidio Memorial Day celebrations for several years. She will be accompanied by George Allen Kelly. There will be other numbers that will be announced tomorrow with the complete program.

EAST SIDE BARBECUE.

Every resident east of Lake Merritt is invited to attend the barbecue at Fifty-fifth avenue, just off Foothill boulevard. The invitation is extended by the East Side Board of Trade.

The event is being held for the purpose of solidifying the East Oakland community spirit and at the same time for the purpose of interesting the younger generation in the romantic early history of Alameda county. The barbecue will start promptly at 7 o'clock. An orchestra will be in attendance and will render a program of selections chosen by the guests. The radio program will start at 8 o'clock. Special prizes will be awarded for the individuals appearing in the best Spanish costumes. Announcement will also be made of the winners in the Prize Essay contest.

Fifteen Minutes of Radio Daily

LESSON NO. 74.

The Three Slide Tuner.

(Copyright by Edward N. Davis). (All rights reserved by United Feature Syndicate.) (Reproduction prohibited.)

The three slide tuner consists of a single coil of insulated or bare, spaced wire wound on an insulating core three or four inches in diameter with three sliding contacts. Nearly as selective tuning can be done with the three slide tuner as with the ordinary loose coupler receiving set.

The Three Slide Tuner.

The three slide tuner for receiving purposes corresponds to the single coil helix for transmitting purposes, each making use of conductive coupling. The loose coupler on the other hand corresponds to the oscillation transformer of the transmiter, each employing inductive coupling.

In the diagram shown above the portion of the coil from "A" to "G" is in the antenna circuit, while the portion of the coil from "D1" to "D2" is in the secondary or detector circuit. A variable air condenser may be shunted across the secondary to permit sharper tuning, but is not absolutely necessary.

It will be noted in the diagram that some of the turns of the coil in the antenna circuits are also included in the secondary circuit, which condition means that the two circuits are very closely coupled. If sliders "D1" and "D2" are moved up beyond slider "A" while maintaining the same number of turns between them (sliders "D1" and "D2") there will be no turns in common in the two circuits and the coupling will be loose. The three slide tuner thus has the advantage over the two slide tuner of having variable coupling features, while it is not so complicated in construction as the loose coupler.

Where a very large antenna is employed it may be necessary to insert a series condenser in the antenna circuit in order to tune in short wave lengths.

Although the diagram shows the three slide tuner in circuit with a crystal detector, a vacuum tube detector could be used with equal success. It should be borne in mind, however, that a vacuum tube detector alone with amplification or regenerative features is not much superior to a good crystal detector.

Connecting up a three slide tuner is a very simple process, the antenna being connected to any one of the three sliders, the detector circuit to the other two sliders, and the ground to one end of the coil.

The three slide tuner is a very good instrument for demonstrating the principles of coupling and tuning, any change in coupling or adjustment of turns to tune in a given station being instantly apparent to the eye.

Any one or two slide tuning coil may be converted into a three slide tuner by the addition of one or two more sliders, which process will well repay the experimenter in increased selectivity and flexibility of adjustment.

Radio to Reproduce Yosemite Concert

YOSEMITE, June 7.—On Friday night, June 9, between the hours of 8 and 9, a Camp Curry Campfire concert will be broadcast by radio from Stockton. The entertainers will go to Stockton and carry out the concert exactly as at Camp Curry, even to the stentor's call to Glacier Point for the Firefall.

Thousands of persons throughout the country will be "listening in" to receive the concert. Carol Weston, famous violinist; Edith Benjamin, noted lyric soprano, and Glen Hood, singer and composer, will be heard in addition to other numbers.

Swim Classes Held Self-Supporting

BERKELEY, June 7.—Declaring that no city funds are used to maintain swimming classes for adults and that fees charged for this instruction make the work self-supporting, George Hjelte, superintendent of playgrounds, today addressed a letter to Mayor Louis Bartlett answering criticism made by the budget committee of the Affiliated Berkeley Clubs. In the report of the budget committee the council was scored for permitting such "extravagances" as the swimming classes.

Child Crusaders Turn Attention To Daugherty

WASHINGTON, June 7 (By United Press).—The "children crusaders" today extended to the department of justice their picketing campaign to expedite action for releasing their fathers, held in prison for political offenses.

Banners touching on the charges recently made in the Senate connecting Attorney-General Daugherty with the Morse pardon were paraded in front of the justice department building.

One banner read: "Mr. Daugherty, must we hire Felder to free our fathers?"

Another said: "Our fathers would not take chemicals to get 'Bright's disease.'"

RADIO SETS FOR ALL SCHOOLS ARE URGED BY WOOD

State Superintendent Suggests Broadcasting Where Funds Are Available.

SACRAMENTO, June 7.—The installation of radio receiving sets in all public schools in California was today urged by State Superintendent of Schools Will C. Wood in letters addressed to the various boards of education throughout the state.

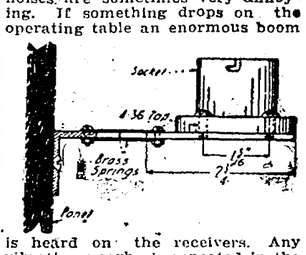

Wood in his letter strongly recommends the purchase of radio equipment by the schools and declares that it is his belief that all students should be taught at least the fundamentals of radio telephony.

In the larger schools, Wood recommends in his letter, broadcasting stations should be provided for if sufficient funds are available.

The request was mailed to 870 high schools in the state. Wood announced that he had already issued special credentials to a number of teachers, empowering them to teach the principles of radio in California's public schools. These instructors are men who have had wide experience in the radio field.

A SPRING SOCKET.

In circuits employing several states of amplification microphonic noises are sometimes very annoying. If something drops on the operating table an enormous boom is heard on the receivers. Any vibration nearby is repeated in the phones. This can be partly eliminated by mounting the socket on springs. In the diagram is shown a very simple method of accomplishing this.

Thought it was heart trouble on account of the excessive accumulation of gas in the stomach. The gas pressed against the heart, causing palpitation—consulted many doctors with only partial relief. Then a friend recommended Eopa Gas Tablets and relief was immediate. For that bloated, stuffy feeling after eating, dyspepsia, nervous indigestion and dizziness, Eopa Gas Tablets are a corrective. For gas in the stomach, antidoting excessive fermentation without the use of pepsin or soda Eopa Gas Tablets are the original formula. So be sure you get Eopa Gas Tablets. Fifty cents from your druggist or direct from the Eopa Laboratories, Mfg. Chemists, 140 Powell st., San Francisco. Mail orders promptly filled.

A SATISFYING THING

about our "Warehouse-to-you" plan of selling FURNITURE is that our customers "come back for more." Once having found their way to our warehouse (two blocks from the No. 3 carline at Market St.) and having found that they can secure their furniture needs for 30% less than they would ordinarily pay, they come back for additional pieces to secure additional comfort or convenience.

Have YOU found your way to money-saving yet? Write for booklet.

LANCASTER CORD and FABRIC TIRES

HUNDREDS of motorists, in every community, will tell you that the Lancaster Tire actually does last longer.

"Put them on—and forget" says the Lancaster user. These sturdy, oversize tires turn up so many thousands of trouble-free miles that once you use them you expect more from tires. That is why Lancaster sales grow steadily greater. Motorists who buy Lancaster Tires almost invariably "repeat."
